A majority of the members of the house labor committee along with Speaker Rude W. Helm, Jr., decided at a noon-day meeting Friday that no further public hearings would be held on the so-called "right-to-work" labor bills.

Unemployment Hits Lebanon

Lebanon—With the Lebanon employment office recording 1194 persons out of work Thursday morning, an appeal went out to area firms to aid in finding short time jobs for many of these people.

Most will be back in the lumbering industry when better weather arrives, said Charles Wilson, manager of the local branch of the state employment office, but until then they need work to tide them over.

He pointed out that there are many desperate cases, glad for even an hour or two of employment.

Eastern Linn county has for the second straight month been in the peculiar position of higher employment, and at the same time higher unemployment. Persons at work during February were more than in February, 1935, but unemployment was 18 per cent higher than last year at this time, and 33 per cent greater than in 1931.

Main reason for this condition, Wilson said, is the movement into this area of large numbers of unemployed from other states. This is proven by the greater number of claimants living here now and drawing claims on other states. This February figure for interstate claimants was 31 per cent more than the preceding year's figure and 42 per cent greater than for the same period in 1931.

A few replacements were made in wholesale and retail trade. Construction remained at a low ebb for the month of February and will probably remain so for some time to come, as only four building permits were issued in the past month, totaling $10,000. This compares with 14 permits totaling $70,000 for February of last year.

Announcing as his subject for Sunday night, "Can a Working Man or Business Man Keep the Seventh-day Sabbath?", Evangelist Don Hiatt Spillman promised to tell his audience of modern-day miracles that have been performed for men and women who have placed their full trust in God.

Governor May Go to San Diego

Participation by Oregon's Governor Paul Patterson in an international workshop on apprenticeship with the outstanding apprentice from each Oregon trade will receive the backing of the Oregon Apprenticeship council at its first 1935 meeting in Salem, Monday, A. C. Hoggan, state director of apprenticeship, said today.

According to Hoggan the Oregon Apprenticeship council will urge Governor Patterson to accept an invitation just extended to him by the California legislature to join the first North American conference on apprenticeship at San Diego, August 2-9. Hoggan said it is the plan of the southern state to fly Governor Patterson and the governors of 10 other western states to the conference where they will meet with 2500 delegates from Mexico, the United States and Canada in an effort to lay a regional pattern for training of skilled craftsmen.

The industrial expansion of the western United States has created a serious shortage of expert manpower which can only be solved by a coordinated training program on a regional basis for young people in the skilled trades, Hoggan stated.

Council members, Monday, will urge each Oregon industry to select its most outstanding boy apprentice and send him to the San Diego conclave.

Oregon has been named to head four panels at the North American conference that will deal with apprentice training and standards in the forest and lumber industries, light, power and communications, the building, and metal trades.

A reciprocal apprenticeship agreement with California similar to ones now in effect with Washington and Idaho, is slated for Monday discussion by the apprenticeship council, Hoggan said.

Spillman Talks About Miracles

Did It for Me, Bank Robber's Mother Says

Portland (AP)—The mother of a 17-year-old Glen Roy Sully, accused of holding up a Mt. Angel bank Wednesday, said today it was all her fault that her son committed the robbery.

Mrs. Mildred Sully of Hermiton sobbed: "It's all my fault," as she watched her son being taken from the federal court room here yesterday where he was committed by Federal Judge Gus J. Solomon as a juvenile.

"He did it for me," she cried. Then she told a story of a broken home and her efforts to rear two children, aged 9 and 11, with the aid of her accused son.

Sully told officers shortly after his arrest that he robbed the bank because he needed the money to make an automobile installment and his mother needed money for rent.

Joyce Yuranek May Day Queen

Woodburn—Miss Joyce Yuranek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yuranek of Woodburn, was elected May Queen of Woodburn high school at the election held Friday morning.

Members of her court elected were: Seniors, Shirley Anderson, Marjorie Chitwood; Juniors, Karen Magnuson and Joann Schmid; Sophomores, Barbara Baumann and Nina Rice; Freshmen, Agnes Dansky and Marilee Parker.

The May Day festivities will be held May 1 under the direction of Mrs. Robert Elder, instructor in girls' physical education.

Dallas Eastern Star Initiates

Dallas—The regular meeting of the Naomi chapter of the OES was held March 10 when new members were initiated.

The decor featured a St. Patrick theme and was arranged by Mrs. Harry Dempsey and Mrs. W. H. Cadle.

Introduced and escorted to the east was Ray Mitchell, worthy patron of Amity chapter No. 87. New members who were initiated included Mrs. Wayne Page and Mrs. Eldon Vaughn. During the initiation ceremony the choir sang several numbers appropriate to each star point. Following this the new members were greeted by the chapter.

The program was composed of numbers sung by the high school faculty quartet, composed of Thompson, Wagner, Adams, and Burden. The selections were: Star of the Night, Old Uncle Ned, Alexander, That's Where My Money Goes.

Mr. Mitchell, the new members, and Mrs. Garsha Lockwood, a visitor from Wisconsin, spoke to the group.

Visitors for the meeting included members from the Rhododendron chapter in Falls City and the Rose City chapter in Portland.

The next meeting will be held March 24.

Art Class at Dallas Will Study Moderns

Dallas—The art appreciation section of the Women's club met on March 11. Before taking up their study of painters classified as modern, the group decided on April 8 at the date for visiting the Portland art museum.

The discussion centered around the early modern painters beginning with Cezanne and Manet. Rousseau's work was given special emphasis.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Allie Hennigan, Mrs. R. G. LeFors, Mrs. Cecil Meeker, Mrs. Paul Morgan, Mrs. O. E. Edwards, Mrs. Colis Marsters, Mrs. W. A. Duncan, and Mrs. Dean Forbes.

The next meeting March 25 will continue with the modern painters.

Butteville PTA Host to Seven District 4-H Clubs

Butteville—Monday night, March 9, was 4-H club night at the Butteville PTA regular meeting, with seven neighboring 4-H clubs and leaders participating.

Mrs. John Rasmussen as program chairman and local 4-H leader, opened the program with the Butteville Wee Cooks leading the audience in the 4-H pledge.

Champong Mixing Bowl Cooks, introduced by their leader, Mrs. Melvin Du Rette, told why they liked 4-H club work.

Members of the Royal Mixers cooking club of St. Paul told about their work and the fun they had on a hike and picnic. Mrs. Ned Gleason is their leader. Also from St. Paul were the 7 Busy Fingers sewing club and their leader, Mrs. John Smith. They told of their experiences in 4-H club work.

The Nit Wit Knitters of Aurora with the help of their leader, Mrs. Ben Netter, put on a skit of winding yarn, knitting and singing, "Dear Hearts and Gentle People."

From District 91 came members of the Mackberg Corn and Livestock club. This club has 27 members under the leadership of Mr. Carl Joenke, Nat Etzel and Harold Seely. They presented first a skit called "Henry, the Model Husband," and then a complete demonstration of two types of Hog Farming houses with scale models of the houses. The demonstration team was Harold Seely and Richard Harnes.

Broadcaster was represented by Mrs. Felix Hanson and a group of girls from four clubs. They sang two numbers.

Charles Reynolds, Albany high school student sponsored by the Albany American Legion post, was first place winner in the area speaking contest at Eugene Friday night.

Second place winner was Leon McDougall of Medford high school, third Rosemary Gilbert of Salem high, and fourth Nancy Fox of North Bend.

Reynolds will represent the western section of the state in the state finals in Portland March 21, and winner of that event will compete in the regionals, and winner in that event will enter national competition. The national contest is under American Legion sponsorship.
