Refs Disagree Over Who Won Tag Team Match

It was scheduled to be a tag team match between the Larsen brothers and Don Kindred and Frank James, but the main event of last night's professional wrestling program at the Salem armory turned out to be a battle between Tony Ross and Glen Stone, the two referees.

Ross and Stone disagreed on who should have won the deciding fall in the tag teamer. Ross wanted to give the match to the Larsens, maintaining that Kindred, who had pinned Elmer Larsen, was not legally tagged into the ring.

Moore Defeats Spaulding, Eyes Matthews and Rocky

Spokane (AP)—Archie Moore stopped 216-pound Al Spaulding in three rounds Tuesday night and then clamored again for Harry Matthews, prize of the Northwest, or Rocky Marciano, king of the heavyweights.

Moore said, "and I'd sure like that." It was about all anyone had to holler about. The scheduled ten round non-title bout was headed for a quick finish from the start.

Refs Disagree Over Who Won Tag Team Match

It was scheduled to be a tag team match between the Larsen brothers and Don Kindred and Frank James, but the main event of last night's professional wrestling program at the Salem armory turned out to be a battle between Tony Ross and Glen Stone, the two referees.

Spaulding, a bulky heavyweight from Oakland, Calif., was flattened by a stiff right seconds before the bell ending round one, and barely got up in time. Moore, who at 180 gave away 30 pounds, stalked his man in the second and Spaulding, bewildered and embarrassed by the futility of it all, went down three times. He was counted out in 1:54 of the third.

London (AP)—The British Boxing Board of Control began an investigation today of the strange and tumultuous Randy Turpin-Walter Cartier fight.

Board chairman Onslow Fane said a thorough inquiry would be completed before Cartier of New York gets his $11,000 purse. In one of the stormiest scenes in British ring history, Cartier was disqualified last night for persistent holding in the second round of his bout with Turpin, ex-middleweight champion and current top contender for the vacant crown.

Oakland Enters Into Agreement With Wenatchee

Wenatchee (AP)—The Pacific Coast league Oakland Aorns will send Wenatchee of the Western International league a minimum of six players for each of three seasons under a new working agreement, General Manager Frank Dasso said Wednesday.

Only one left-handed pitcher, Harry Perkowski of the Reds, managed to pitch nine innings and win against the Dodgers last season. Musial, whose usually lethal bat has been strangely and almost alarmingly, for manager Stanky, quiet suddenly burst out yesterday with two home runs although the Cardinals bowed to the Phillies, 11-9. The homers were the first two hit by Musial this spring. The Phillies, however, unleashed a barrage of 17 hits, including homers by Earl Torgeson and Del Ennis to score their second victory in 10 exhibition games.
