In background, from left are Rob Olson and George Curtis, co-captains of the basketball team; Coach Gordon Kunkle, and Mary Chambers, Mary Bell, and Mary Gerlinger, yell leaders. Plaque was awarded the school at Oregon State basketball tournament last week at Eugene. Dallas was awarded first place for sportsmanship. Sixteen teams participated.

Rio Grande College Quits NCAA; NAIA Says Come On

Rio Grande, O., 4/10 — Rio Grande College was out of the National College Athletic Association today of its own volition because the NCAA refused to accept the record-breaking exploits of Clarence (Bevo) Francis, the sensational scoring star who smashed nearly every mark in the books.

Coach Newt Oliver announced yesterday that Rio Grande had severed relations with the NCAA because "there is no use letting an organization handle our statistics that makes their rulings retroactive."

In New York, NCAA officials refused to comment on the withdrawal. They pointed out that Rio Grande was "never" a full-fledged member of the organization, but just an associate member.

Oliver said his school would still belong to the NAIA (National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics, of Emporia, Kan.). He pointed out that the NAIA confirmed by telephone that Bevo's records are "official" in every sense of the word.

Noe to Play in East-West Game After All

Eugene 4/10 — University of Oregon basketball star Chet Noe was scheduled to report for practice today in New York to play in the East-West All-Star basketball game March 28, it was reported here.

Noe had earlier received a "feeler" from the sponsor of the game and had gone to Denver with Everybody's Drugs, the Eugene AAU team, thinking he would go from there to New York. Last week, however, Coach Bill Borchers said he had received word that Noe hadn't actually been invited to play.

The big center made All-American last week in the AAU tourney as he led the Eugene team to the semi-finals, including an upset win over the Phillips Oilers.

Final Indoor Archery Shoot Set, Lebanon

Lebanon — One more archery shoot on the indoor range is planned for both youths and adults, Club President Mel Schmidt said. The juveniles will shoot this Friday evening, and the adults next Monday night.

Archery will then be shifted to the outdoor range at Golden Valley, where a tourney for local archery fans will be staged April 12. Schmidt said the tourney will carry a 25-cent target fee for adults, and 15 cents for children.

Luby Arrives at Training Camp

Senator Manager Checks In at Calistoga, Calif.

Calistoga, Calif. (Special to the Capital Journal) — Salem Senator Manager Hugh Luby checked into Calistoga Monday night to make preparations for the opening of Senator spring training here next Monday. Luby is registered at the Fior d'Italia hotel, which will again serve as hosts for the Salem team during the Solons' spring training stay in this Napa valley community.

Louise Suggs Wins Betsy Rawls Tourney

Spartanburg, S. C. 4/10 — Louise Suggs, the top money winner on the women's professional golf trail, raised her "take" for this year to $4,710 today with the addition of the $875 first prize in the Peach Blossom-Betsy Rawls Tournament.

Mayor Joins Fight to Get Portland Arena

Portland 4/10 — Mayor Fred Peterson and two business leaders plan to carry their fight for a Portland sports pavilion site to Washington, D.C.

The pavilion is proposed for a site in the area where Vanport formerly was located. But the Air Force had acquired the property for ammunition storage.

Peterson said he, R. L. Clark, vice president of the Pacific International Livestock Exposition, and Carvel Linden, president of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, plan to go to Washington, D.C., to offer the Air Force another site in return for the 640-acre Vanport tract.

Luby came from Salem to Calistoga by way of several Pacific Coast league training camps. While visiting the camps, he lined up several deals in which PCL teams will option out players to Salem.

He was particularly successful in lining up some pitching help from San Diego and Sacramento. Some pitchers from those Coast teams will report to the Senators early next week.

Latest addition to the Salem team is Freddy Heller, a shortstop who has been with Albuquerque and Sweetwater the past two seasons. Salem signed Heller as a free agent. He had been working out with the Oakland team when Luby spotted him.

Luby reports that Henry K. Witherspoon, the giant-sized Negro slugger, had come to terms, and will report for opening of spring training next week.

Jerry Ballard, a first baseman owned by Sacramento, may be optioned out to Salem, Luby said here Monday night. But it's not definite yet, he reminded.

Three players owned by Salem—shortstop Gene Tansell, pitcher Bob Collins and catcher Art Thrasher — have not yet come to terms. But Luby expects Collins and Thrasher to do so soon.

Cuba's Zulueta Defeats Smith

Brooklyn 4/10 — Having gained the edge on Wallace (Bud) Smith, Cuba's Orlando Zulueta was looking forward Tuesday to doing the same with Paddy Demarco next month.

The sharpshooting Cuban lightweight contender, 135½, went one up on Smith Monday night when he won a split 10-round decision over the aggressive 138-pou and Cincinnati Negro at Eastern Parkway arena. They fought a draw nearly two years ago.

Amateur Boxing Card Set For Tomorrow at Armory

An amateur boxing card will be presented by the Salem Cherrians at the Salem armory tomorrow night, starting at 8:15. Twelve matches, featuring the top amateur talent in the state, will be included on the card.

The matches will serve as a warm-up event for the AAU State Boxing Tournament scheduled for the Portland armory on April 1st. Winners of the Portland tournament will be sent to the National AAU Boxing Tournament in Boston, Mass., on April 13, 14, & 15. Proceeds at the Cherrian-sponsored matches tomorrow are to go to help defray the expenses of winners in the state tournament to the national event.

Feature bout on this week's card is the matching of Salem's Willard (Battling) against Jim Fossas of Eugene, recent winner of the Diamond Belt championship in Vancouver, B.C. Matching

Mulder Resigns Basketball Post At C-Catholic

Portland 4/10 — Bob Mulder, head basketball coach at Central Catholic high school for the last four years, said today he will resign effective at the end of the present school year to enter private business.

Father Willis Whalen, principal, has appointed Harry Scarff, Central's football coach for the past seven years, to fill Mulder's post. He will also keep his job as head of the grid team.

Joe Brugato, head coach in three sports at Cascade Locks high school, will take over as junior football coach.

Mulder has been one of the most successful hoop coaches in the state.

In his four years of coaching his teams won 102 games and lost 21. Each of the teams reached the state class A tournament at Eugene. They finished fourth in this year's tourney.

Mulder has not revealed the nature of the business with which he will become affiliated.

300 Game in ABC Tourney

Chicago 4/10 — A bowler's dream game came true for Ray Mihm Monday. He shot a perfect 300—12 straight strikes in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Mihm, 46-year-old Green Bay, Wis., merchant and a 189 average bowler, almost collapsed when he fired his 13th straight strike.

The pressure, he said was terrific, adding "I'm glad that's over."

The 300 score by Mihm, who was competing in his 30th ABC meet, was the 13th perfect in the ABC's 50-year history. It was by far the outstanding feature of this year's tourney, now in its 32nd day of its record 92-day stand.

Mihm's 300 came in the middle game of his three-game singles series. He started with 179 and finished with 178 for a 527 total, which put him far behind the leader, John Muth, Jr., of Milwaukee who has 727. But he collected $50 and the ABC diamond ring award.

Nelson against one of Oregon's best fighters shows how rapidly young Nelson has been climbing in fight circles in recent months. Nelson is expected to give Fossas a lot of trouble this Wednesday evening at the armory.

Virgil Dyer, another Salem fighter with plenty of promise, is likely to be matched with either Johnny Cate of the EAL club or Gerry Ford, of the Portland Air Base. Dyer has been meeting many of the top-flight boys in his weight at various matches in the Northwest, and is coming along nicely. It is predicted that Dyer is right near the point of being the top-lad in his class very soon now. He is getting to be the fan's favorite.

Ray Smith, state president of the Oregon Association Amateur Athletic Union, announced Monday that State Treasurer Sig Unander is presenting a special trophy to the boy voted the outstanding fighter on Wednesday's card.

Reserved tickets are on sale at Wicklund's sporting goods store and The Rialto. General admission tickets will go on sale at the door night of the fight.
