

Eisenhower's 1945 Gift to Widow of British Hero Told

New York (AP)—Two American generals and a British colonel sat around the dinner table back in 1945. Their talk turned to fighting men and deeds of valor.

The story was told of a British hero who before his death had earned almost every honor Great Britain could confer, including the treasured Victoria Cross.

It had been learned that very day that the soldier's widow and children had been left destitute.

One of the American generals turned quickly to the British colonel, counted out $100, and directed the Briton to forward the money to the widow with this message: "From one soldier to another."

The widow still was unaware of her benefactor Monday night when one of the two American generals, Maj. Gen. George A. Horkan, quartermaster general of the Army, revealed the name of his dinner companion and the woman's benefactor—Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Horkan said that he had never told the story before "because I felt the general did not want it told." But Horkan said he felt that Monday night's dinner at which he spoke was an appropriate setting. It was a dinner sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Therefore, Horkan said, he asked President Eisenhower for permission to tell the story. Eisenhower agreed with one stipulation, that the name of the dead hero not be used. Horkan quoted Eisenhower as saying "she never knew who sent the money; why tell her now?"

McKay Favors Early Work on Ice Harbor

Washington (AP)—Secretary of the Interior McKay disclosed Tuesday he favors early construction of the proposed Ice Harbor Dam on the lower Snake River.

McKay said in a letter to Rep. Holmes (R-Wash.) the project is needed for national defense and to help solve Pacific Northwest power shortage problems. A copy of the letter was sent to the director of the budget.

Three Presidents of the United States died on July 4—John Adams, Jefferson and Monroe.
