

Columbia Has Enough Hatcheries, Day States

Washington (AP)—The lower Columbia river has just about reached the saturation point in hatchery construction, in the opinion of Dr. Albert M. Day, director of the U.S. fish and wildlife service.

Clark Lauds French Job in Indo-China

By PHIL NEWSOM (United Press Foreign Analyst) United Nations Far Eastern commander Gen. Mark Clark came away from a visit to Indo-China the other day enthusiastic over the "magnificent" job the French have been doing in building up their native forces.

He said he would recommend that the United States help equip 50 or more battalions of Vietnamese.

It is more than a passing possibility that Clark's Indo-Chinese visit had something to do with the forthcoming Washington conference among French Premier Rene Mayer and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles.

We now are pouring some $500,000,000 a year into the Indo-China anti-Communist fight, with the possibility that the amount will increase rather than decrease.

It may be assumed that both President Eisenhower and Dulles will be interested in Clark's opinion.

Rep. Jensen (R., Iowa), chairman of a house appropriations subcommittee, about the possibility of transporting hatchery-raised salmon to a spot below Columbia river dams. Day was before the committee in quest of a $280,000 appropriation for salmon research.

Day said Jensen's idea was possible with fish raised in hatcheries in the vicinity of Bonneville dam, but that the death rate among fingerlings would be too great if transported from hatcheries farther away.

"There are hatcheries on virtually every stream having suitable water in the lower portion of the Columbia river," Day said.

"There is no more suitable water for this purpose and I am sure that it would be economically unwise to attempt to raise fish in hatcheries to liberate and try to maintain the fishery, which is worth at present 30 million dollars a year."

DISCRIMINATION HIT Tampa, Fla. (AP)—Charging discrimination in pay "solely because of race and color," 11 registered nurses of Tampa's Negro Municipal hospital have filed a civil rights suit against Mayor Curtis Hixon and the Board of City Representatives councilmen.

The budget scale for white nurses is $9.20-9.65 a day compared to $7.60 for Negro nurses.

OIL MAN DIES

James A. Moffett, first administrator of Federal Housing Administration, who died Wednesday.

First Head of FHA Passes

New York (AP)—James A. Moffett, 66, executive of oil companies and the first federal housing administrator, died Wednesday after a long illness.

He died at the home of his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Barker, where he had lived recently.

Moffett was chairman of the board of the California-Texas Oil Company from 1936 until 1943. Among his other oil connections was the post of senior vice-president and operating head of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey. In 1934 and 1935 he was federal housing administrator and, after resigning, he returned to the oil business.

Moffett was a friend of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt and for several years acted as an unofficial adviser to Roosevelt on Far Eastern affairs.

Industry-Wide Strikes Attacked

Washington (AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers asked congress today to outlaw industry-wide strikes and to stop forcing employers to negotiate health and welfare plans with unions.

George W. Armstrong, Jr., president of the Texas Steel Company and chairman of the NAM's Industrial Relations Committee, said in a statement prepared for the Senate Labor Committee, which is considering proposed amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act:

"Compulsory bargaining over employe benefit plans can impose an intolerable burden on the collective bargaining process, threaten its effectiveness, magnify the problems of contract administration, and open up additional areas of labor-management conflict."

RATES A PRIVATE JAIL

Delaware, O. (AP)—At the request of prisoners Sheriff Earl Fravel looked today for a "private jail" for Lowell Walton, Walton, a prisoner, has the mumps.

Ike and Bob Talk Shop During Reception Lulls

Washington (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower were entertained last night by Sen. and Mrs. Robert A. Taft. It was one of the social events of the season. But the two husbands couldn't resist talking shop.

Citizens Voice Zone Protests

John Falch, 1140 South 15th street, asked members of the city planning and zoning commission Wednesday night if protests by residents against the proposed new zoning code would really be considered, or if "we are just wasting our time."

Robert T. Stanley, chairman of the commission's subcommittee on rezoning, answered: "Not an objection has been made here tonight that we haven't heard before, and thought about in drawing up this tentative plan. Your objections and petitions will be considered."

He added that residents would still have opportunity for further hearing before the commission and before the city council, which has the final word, before any definite action is taken toward adopting the new code.

The subcommittee met in an informal hearing Wednesday night with a large group of southeast Salem residents at Richmond school. It was one of a series of sectional hearings, the first of which was held a week ago in West Salem. The next will be next Wednesday night at Leslie Junior high school.

Most of the objections made were against encroachment of business and industry into residential districts. Among them C. H. Holcomb presented a petition from property owners in a new residential section south of Oxford street and east of South 22nd opposing making the area available to heavy industry.
