YOUNG ACCUSED SLAYER

David (Chip) Crozier, Jr., 11-year-old, who, police said, admitted hacking his father and stepmother to death with a hunting knife at the family home near Hermiston, Ore., is with State Police Sgt. N. W. Smith. Smith said the boy apparently was unhappy because he wasn't allowed to do the things he wanted. (AP Wirephoto)

Refuse to Indict Killer of Parents

.Pendleton, (P) - A Grand Jury declined Thursday to indict David Crozier, Jr., 11, in the stabbing deaths of his parents early Tuesday.

Instead, the grand jurors, after a two-hour session with District Attorney George Corey, recommended that ju-

In the application for the writ, Snell's attorney claims the Klamath circuit court did not have jurisdiction in the case since the alleged crime was committed on the Klacase since math Indian reservation.

Circuit Judge Rex Kimmell set April 6 as the date for a hearing.

Congress Favors Ike's Proposal

Eisenhower's proposal to re-organize the Agriculture Department seemed likely Thursday to win congressional approval without major trouble.

However, Sen. Ellender (D. La.) termed the plan almost identical with one submitted three years ago by former President Truman and shouted down by the Senate.

Some republican senators on the agriculture committee agreed with this but said prihabeas corpus involving a Klamath Falls man who is currently serving a term in the state penitentiary on a charge of statutory rape was filed in the Marion county of the state of the stat
