Albany Backs Traffic Survey

Albany — Members of the Albany city council Wednesday unanimously approved a motion by Councilman Ralph Wade calling for appropriation of $1000 from the street fund to defray half the cost of a local traffic survey to guide the council in determining policies governing traffic and parking regulations.

The council acted after City Manager C. G. Reiter had reported receipt of information from State Highway Engineer R. A. Baldock that the estimated cost of such a survey would be not more than $2000 of which the highway department would share equally with the city.

The city manager was instructed to engage the highway department to make the survey on the basis of this offer.

The hunt is being sponsored by the Jaycees who will have a sound truck at the campus to direct activities.

Numbers of eggs will be marked in a special manner and finders of these eggs will be awarded special prizes.

dress his congregation on "The Time for Decision" at the morning worship hour and the choir will provide an Easter concert. Our Saviour's Lutheran marks this Sunday's evening service with an Easter cantata, "The Thorn Crowned King."

Action Auction Sells Happiness

Woodburn — More than $1500 worth of happiness was sold at an action auction conducted by Woodburn service groups Friday night to provide assistance for Wayne Byers, polio victim, and his family.

Many articles were sold by Auctioneer Ed Lewin of Stayton and his assistant, Charles Buchanan and Al Obrist of Woodburn, including auto accessories, gasoline, radios, tires, fruit, toys, furniture and meat.

In the "slave" market, Ramsgate brothers paid $25 to have J. F. Lacey, owner of a men's furnishing store, carry a sandwich board advertising for strawberry pickers.

Lee Withers paid $9 for a promise by Walt Miller not to discuss politics for one day.

Lyman Seely, manager of the Woodburn branch of the First National Bank of Portland, and Homer Wadsworth, manager of the Woodburn branch of the Bank of Oregon, each paid $10 for the other to wash his car in front of his bank.

Ray Kuhns paid $30 for members of the National Guard to seed his lawn. Byers was a warrant officer in the unit.

Byers is in the Veterans hospital at Portland receiving treatment for poliomylitis. His wife, Opal, is at their home in Woodburn caring for her two small children, and expects another child soon.

The auction originally was sponsored by the Jaycees, but all civic groups joined the move.

Mel Bilyeu acted as clerk at the auction and Gil Ramage and Lynn Simon, acted as relief auctioneers.

Koodburn Defeats Two Fire Measures

Woodburn — Residents of Woodburn defeated two propositions at a special election Friday, one for purchase of a $15,000 fire truck and the other a special tax not to exceed six mills for support of the new fire dispatcher system.

The vote on the fire truck was 132 yes and 189 no; and on the tax, 128 yes and 196 no.

Should this year's Woodburn city tax exceed the 6 percent limitation statute, a special election must be called to authorize enough tax to support the fire dispatcher system.

Soap Box Derby Wheels At Chevrolet Garage

Hey, kids, they're here! The official Soap Box Derby wheels — that is.

Derby Director Bill Byers tells me that McKay's Chevrolet garage is up to their radio aerial in wheels — 400 of them.

For the arithmetic wizards, it shouldn't take 10 seconds to figure that that is 200 pairs of wheels or enough for 100 Derby bugs.

You must be registered at McKay's to get your wheels, so if you're already signed up, pick them up. If not, grab your dad or mom and dash down to register. You will get your official rule book and your Derby driver's license and you can pick up your wheels at the same time if you wish.

Incidentally, if any of you are having problems in the building or planning of your racer, Chief Inspector Bill Page says to hang on, help is coming.

First, says Bill, inspectors will be assigned the areas in the next couple of weeks so that they can check your work and you can ask them questions. (We ran a story in the Journal earlier this week asking for volunteers and Bill says he had 16 calls the first evening, so you can see how dads and other adults are getting behind the Derby program.)

Secondly, Bill says, a special full-size model racer will be built next week that will really be the cats whiskers.

It will be put together in such a way that everything will be hinged or latched so that you can open it up and get inside to take a close look at anything that puzzles you.

The special car will be built by boys in a Salem high school manual training class under the supervision of Instructor Marion Davis. Official approval has been given by Principal Edmund A. Carlton and Salem School Superintendent Walter Snyder.

More than 60 boys are already signed up at McKay's and more in other towns, so this first group of wheels will probably go out in a hurry. Others will be ordered as they are needed.

Incidentally, we're going to start running names of the boys next week, so you will know how many of your friends have signed up. In about another month, McEwan's Photo Shop will start taking pictures of the derbyists to be run in the Capital Journal again this year.

Time is getting shorter, so if you haven't started building your racer yet, you'd better get busy — now.

Frank C. Pate Estate Fight

Albany — Intervention of circuit court in distribution of property valued at $61,284.09 included in the estate of the late Frank C. Pate is asked by his stepdaughter, Nathel Donaca Irwin.

Named as defendants are the First National Bank of Portland, administrator of the estate; James Pate, a brother, Minnie Morris and Naomi Schissler, sisters and Naomi Beebe, a niece, all heirs at law.

The plaintiff avers that the late Mr. Pate and his late wife, Belle Pate, married in 1911, had mutually agreed that each would make a will bequeathing to the other all property in his or her estate for the life of the survivor, with the provision that upon the death of the survivor their jointly owned property should become the property of Mrs. Irwin.

The plaintiff notes that she was the daughter of Mrs. Belle Pate by a former marriage and was 10 years old at the time her mother re-married. The plaintiff alleges that each made a will in conformity with this agreement and never revoked it.

Mrs. Pate died April 13, 1944, the plaintiff asserts. On Nov. 15, 1947 Mr. Pate married Mabel Beauchamp, the complaint states, after the two had made a pre-nuptial agreement whereby Mrs. Beauchamp waived all rights to the Pate estate, in return for which Mr. Pate likewise waived all rights to property owned by Mrs. Beauchamp at the time of their marriage.

Mr. Pate died Sept. 8, 1952, the plaintiff notes, and his estate is now held in trust by the defendant bank.

The plaintiff asks that the court order enforcement of the contract entered into between F. C. Pate and Belle Pate for assignment of the estate to Mrs. Irwin.

Pythian Sisters at Dallas Fete Spring

Dallas — "Spring" was the theme for the Pythian Sisters at their regular meeting on Thursday, March 26. All members wore print frocks to celebrate the new season.

The second part of the program consisted of piano solo by Sally Hamilton of Rickreall. Her number was "Gypsy Violins."

A visitor for the evening was Mrs. Clyde Kester, a member of Willamette Temple in Independence. Mrs. Kester has recently moved to Dallas from Independence.

Committees for the evening included: program, Mrs. Frank Hamilton and Mrs. Everett Villwock; decorations, Mrs. Lewis Sibley, and Mrs. Ed Dunn; hostess, Mrs. Rose Simpson, Mrs. Hank Kliever, Mrs. Bud Foster, and Mrs. Harry Robinson.

The next meeting, April 9, will be the annual past chief's night — when the past chiefs take the chairs.

Hello people and folks — I am thinking maybe spring is not coming to Salem this year but it is alright with me because people are liking hot Chinese Dinner better on cool nights so we do very good business in cool. Sometimes legislatures are very busy, making arrange for laws, in hotel room and not wanting to stop they send down here to my establishment for nice hot Chinese dinner to eat at hotel room. I fix very good and get much compliment on food. People call this "to take out" service — pretty fancy name I am thinking. I also give good parties in my restaurant. If you are wish to entertain friends you tell me I fix for six or sixty people.
