Mrs. McKay Due for Visit

Salem welcomes home Mrs. Douglas McKay next week for her first trip back since she went to Washington, D.C., in early January when former Governor McKay took his position as Secretary of the Interior in President Eisenhower's cabinet.

The former first lady of Oregon leaves the national capital, Wednesday, to fly home for a week's visit with her sons-in-law and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hadley and Mr. and Mrs. Lester D. Green and their families. The Greens are residing in the McKay home during the time her parents are in Washington, so Mrs. McKay will find it easy to check over the progress of her garden and the bulbs she had put in before she knew about going to the national capital.

Mrs. McKay is making it strictly a family visit, there to be no special entertaining in her honor during the week she is here, except a meeting of her bridge club in which there is a group of long-time, close friends.

Mrs. William S. Cole is to entertain for the bridge club next Thursday in welcome to Mrs. McKay.

On Easter Sunday, Mrs. McKay is to entertain at a family dinner. In the group will be her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hadley and their children, Eileen, Allan, Bruce and Nancy; her daughter, Mrs. Lester D. Green and son, Danny Green (Mr. Green being unable to attend as he is in the east); Secretary McKay's mother, Mrs. J. W. Frater of Portland; and other relatives of Mrs. McKay, Miss Mae Hill, Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Ludwig Freier of Oswego, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kelly of Portland, the ladies all sisters of Mrs. McKay; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Radke of Portland, Mrs. Radke a niece.
