OSC Events Salem Group Busy on Campus

By ALICE LEHMAN
 Capital Journal Correspondent

Oregon State College, Corvallis (Special)—This evening at 8 o'clock in Gill coliseum marks the time and place for the OSC music department's presentation of "Oregon... The Land of Romance." The program, planned in tribute to the natural beauties of Oregon, will feature a cappella choir, Men's Glee, Women's Chorus, the orchestra and the concert band. Included on the program is the Oregon Suite written by Joseph Brye, music professor on campus. One of the parts of this suite is entitled "The Ocean Has Beaches with Plenty of Sand" in which Pebble DeStart of Salem will sing with a trio in its presentation. Other students from Salem participating are Steve Lee, Carl Holmquist, Verl Holden, Max Morris, Don Schneider, Celia Weaver, Jim Todd, Arvin Crose, Jerry Gillespie and Bob Scott.

On the women's calendar for this week-end is the Panhellenic retreat to the coast. All sorority presidents and rush chairmen will be attending. Those from Salem making the jaunt are Edna Manning, Alice Lehman, and Ann Forristel. Alice Rowland of Independence, who is Panhellenic president, will also be attending.

Now turning to the men's side of the agenda we find that this week-end starts fraternity "Hell Week." This week, formerly known as "Hell Week," when all sorts of stunts were pulled on the new initiates, was being outlawed by interfraternity council. The new type of work to be done by initiates will consist of cleaning church property, which will include yards, furniture, etc.

News for women and men alike came this past week-end when the Associated Women Students council approved the bill to extend women's closing hours until 10:30 p.m. on week nights. The ruling takes effect next fall term.

In recent elections Eevi Tarom was chosen as the new secretary of the Women's Physical Education club. Ann Forristel, also of Salem, was elected rushing chairman of her sorority, Pi Beta Phi. Sigma Kappa sorority announced that Celia Weaver of Salem is the new treasurer for their organization. Pat Morton and Barbara Wagner were initiated this past week-end into Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

It won't be long before this week-end is past and then preparations will be made for High School Senior Week-End. Plans are more elaborate than ever and activities scheduled will give high school students a good idea of the fields of study as well as social life here at OSC. We hope to see a lot of Salem students here when that time rolls around.
