ELE-VIEWS Radio-Television By DAVE BLACKMER

"Pulse of the City," an exciting drama feature portraying New York City, made its debute Thursday afternoon at 2 p.m. The feature on KPTV will replace the program "Feminine Angle."

Herbert Mayer, president of Empire Coil company, sent a type recording of greeting to his staff at KPTV Wednesday and said he has been laid up with a case of grippe. Mayer plans to return to Oregon the first part of May.

Understand my good Friend, Red Skelton, is going to lose his sponsor at the end of the season. . . Current sponsor wants Red to telecast entire show live. Red says wait until he recuperates from venture in hospital. . . . Gavle Holten, Arlene Casebere. Sponsor says no. So Red says "would rather be alive than go live." . . . Truly this seems like foul play until Red could get a chance to recover from his current illness.

A Squeaky Voice that Clicked!

If George Burns and Gracie Allen had taken the advice of a brash, young radio executive, who auditioned them years ago, they never would have become the stars they are today.

It happened when George and Gracie returned from a London tour where they did their first radio work on B.B.C. They liked radio, and upon their return to New York, contacted one of the networks for an audition.

A young network publihser, after hearing them do a comedy routine, commented, "You'll never do for radio. Miss Allen's voice is too squeaky. Take my advice and stick to the stage.'

How wrong can a guy be?

Special Rate
Oregon's veterans with a 25 percent or more disability are being reminded by the state department of veterans' affairs that they are entitled to a fishing license for the special rate of 50 cents. A hunting license may be purchased for the same price or a combined fishing-hunting license may be gotten for one dollar. New applicants must submit a disability statement from the federal veterans' administration and a notarized statement from a witness testifying to Oregon residence with the application for the licenses. However, those who had the special license last year need only to submit their old license in applying.

Men now on active duty are entitled to Oregon fishing and hunt-ing licenses at the regular resident reasualty to occur on the newlyfilled reservoir.

Fortunate victim was Ercel
Ingram, whose motor boat capsized at a point near Mongold.

Friends of the youth who had been with him earlier in the boat reported the accident to Wayne Woodward of Idanha.
Woodward, with his son Dick and Harvey Hanson, drove to the lake and launched their boat to assist Ingram who had perched for an hour on his overturned craft.

Ingram wore a life jacket
and was unhurt, though thoroughly chilled.
