

Mill Creek Fishing Tournament Tomorrow

Kids Under 18 Angle For Fish and Prizes

The annual Mill creek fishing tournament for anglers under 18 years of age will be reeled off on opening day of trout season Saturday.

The Salem chapter of the Isaac Walton League of America and the Salem Lions club are serving as co-sponsors of the one-day fishing derby.

Mill creek is closed to all fishermen except those under 18 years of age, so the kids will have the entire creek to themselves Saturday — and for the remainder of the season, as far as that goes.

Five checking stations will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturday to check in fish caught by kids entered in the derby. The check stations will be located on the bridge between the forestry department and the penitentiary, at the pen annex bridge, on the downstream bridge over Mill creek at Turner, on the middle bridge between Turner and Aumsville, and at the highway junction at the west end of Aumsville.

All fish entered in the one-day tournament must be taken from Mill creek. Angling time is from 4:22 a. m. until 5 p. m. Last-minute registrations to enter the tournament may be made Friday at any local sporting goods store.

Prizes for the biggest fish will be entered in two divisions — from 6 to 12 years old and from 12 to 18 years old. There will also be a prize for the youngest boy angler and youngest girl angler to enter fish, and prizes for the first three limit catches checked in at a checking station. Youth entered in the Mill creek fishing tournament are reminded to ask the land-owner for permission to fish on his property. Contestants between the ages of 14 and 18 must possess a juvenile angling license.

Plans Laid for Woodburn City Softball Loop

Woodburn—Initial plans for the softball program to be conducted in Woodburn this summer have been announced by the Woodburn municipal park and recreation board. Charles (Chuck) Addicott has been hired by the board to organize and oversee the program which will be started the latter part of May.

There will again be junior and senior leagues, according to Walter Lawson, softball chairman. The junior league will be made up of teams from grade school and junior high school students and the senior league will include those of high school age or older. Present plans call for junior leagues to be made up of church teams or teams sponsored by civic organizations.

Teams in the senior league will be sponsored by local civic organizations. Teams in the senior league will be sponsored by local civic organizations, churches, merchants or independent teams with responsible management.

There will also be a class for motorcycles.

The Northwest Timing association is made up of eight hot rod clubs throughout northern Oregon and southern Washington. The Timing association was organized for the purpose of banding together individuals of all ages for the purpose of promoting safety on the highways and amateur automobile competition.

The Salem YMCA girls' swimming team will defend its Northwest area YMCA championship at Vancouver, B.C., Saturday.

The Salem team has won the title in the only two previous Northwest YMCA girls' championships. The meet was inaugurated in Salem in 1951, and was held in Portland last year.

Twelve Salem girls are making the trip to Vancouver, B.C., today. They are Sharon Truax, Sidney Kromer, Susan Wilson, Joy Brown, Elizabeth O'Brien, Jean Hagen, Shirlee Wilcox, Roberta Eyre, Doris Hein, Joan Osko, Carol Stolk and Sally Joseph.

Fifteen teams will be entered in the one-day tournament. Preliminaries will be conducted Saturday afternoon and finals Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wilcox are chaperoning the Salem girls on the Canadian trip. The team is traveling in two station wagons.

Stars Take Half-Game Lead Over Angels; Bevos Rained

San Francisco (AP) — The Hollywood Stars held a half-game edge over Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League today, as the result of a 5-0 victory over their cross-town rivals in Gilmore Field.

All other clubs were rained out. George O'Donnell blanked the Seraphs with eight hits while Chuck Stevens rapped in three runs for the Twinks, one of them coming on a bases-empty homer in the fifth inning.

However, Stevens' blast wasn't actually needed. The Stars nulled down last night's contest in the first when they got to Randy Gumpert for three runs. Gene Handley reached first on an error, went to third on Ted Beard's double and both men scored on Stevens' single. Dale Long then singled in Stevens, who had advanced to second on the throw in. Hollywood scored another run in the seventh when Long walked, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on Lee Walls' bingle.

O'Donnell now has three wins against no losses. Gumpert is 1 and 1.

As a result of last night's rainouts, Sacramento will play Seattle tonight in a double-header. The other clubs will resume their series with single contests.

Good Fishing Prospects In Most of West Oregon

Portland (AP)—Good fishing conditions are in prospect in most of western Oregon for the opening of the trout season Saturday.

Most streams are running clear and it was believed that it would take heavy rains to disturb them. Only showers were forecast for Friday and Saturday.

In preparation for the opening of the state game commission planted 275,000 rainbow and cutthroat trout in streams of western Oregon.

Despite this, not all fishermen are expected to go after trout this week-end. Spring salmon fishing is now at its peak, and a number of fishermen are expected to delay their trout expeditions and go after salmon.

The game commission's weekly bulletin, first of the season, pointed out that while coastal and lowland lakes in Zones 1 and 2 are included in the trout season opening, national forest area lakes of the Cascades are not. May 30 is their opening.

The daily bag limit is the same as last year, 10 fish a day but not more than five of them over 12 inches in length. Minimum length in Zone 1 is 8 inches and in Zone 2, 6 inches.

The description of prospects:

On the north coast, streams fairly low and clear with prospects good for both cutthroat and salmon.

McKenzie river and Dorcas reservoir, prospects good in the river, excellent in the reservoir.

Willamette valley, generally good although a few streams are muddy. Streams on the west side of the valley probably have better prospects.

Mt. Hood area, streams clear but very cold; bait fishing should be best.

South coastal area, streams low and clear and conditions excellent.

Kowitz' KRISS KROSS Korner

Morning mail . . .
"Dear Kriss-Kross: Just a note to inquire how in the devil did those people and possibly yourself make it to Calistoga, Calif. Surely they weren't following your directions for if they had they'd of still been driving and inquiring for highway 53. Possibly they'd of found one all right, but in Nevada, Utah or even further east—then there would be no Calistoga. I'd suggest that you inform your readers to turn West on highway 20 from Williams before they take that trip. Hoping this helps you. Sincerely yours, H. N. Russell, 144 5th St., Lebanon."

Russell Is Right—So Should the Turn Be

Russell is right and we were wrong. The turn of highway 99W at Williams should be made to the west, a right turn not east as we reported in this Korner last week. We never have been able to get our directions straight in that part of the country. We could swear that all the TV aerials in Calistoga are pointed the wrong way, but natives there insist the aerials are aimed toward San Francisco. We tried for four days last week to check directions with the sun, but there wasn't any sun, so we are just as mixed up as ever. So confused, in fact, that when we met the wife at the Martinez, Calif., train depot Thursday night, we expected the train from Salem to come from the opposite direction than it did.

Wrong Highway, Wrong State

Mr. Russell was probably only kidding when he said some wandering motorist might wind up in Utah. But that's not too far-fetched. We've never confessed this before, but six years ago, returning from the national AAU basketball tournament at Denver, Colo., we got lost late one night, finally found a highway marker, and discovered we were in Utah. We weren't supposed to even touch Utah on the trip. Had to backtrack 60 miles into Wyoming.

Even at that, we don't think we're quite as bad as some pitchers in spring training, who can't even find home plate.

Tom Sharkey Dies at 79 of Heart Ailment

San Francisco (AP) — Tom Sharkey, 79, barrel-chested brawler who was the last of the prize ring greats of the 1890s, died Friday.

The game little slugger, who had won $250,000 fighting John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons and Jim Jeffries and others, died broke—but not forgotten. He had been in San Francisco City and County hospital since August, 1952. His friends—fighters, promoters, old-time newsmen and followers—chipped in to pay his expenses.

Doctors at San Francisco hospital said Sharkey "died easily in his sleep" at 3:15 a.m. He was admitted January 31 for the 10th time for treatment of a heart ailment.

His death rang down the curtain on a long-gone era of pugilism. It followed closely Jeffries'—Sharkey's greatest rival—who died in Los Angeles March 3.

Sharkey never won a title, but he slugged it out with the best in 11 years in the ring, starting in 1893. He used to boast that he was "afraid of no man—none ever made me take a backward step."
