

Girl's Chorus Cantata Tonight

Farrish Junior High School Girls' Chorus will present a cantata, "Pan, On a Summer Day," Thursday night in the Parrish auditorium.

The cantata has three acts and is directed by Madalene Suko. The first act takes place at daybreak when Pan awakes to the world. Pan is played by Shirley Taber. In the "Morning Song" are Florine Stein and Marcia Mosolf as Sunbeams, Mary Wod and Judy Larson as Dewdrops, and Sharon Kuykendall and Pat Hughlett as Cobwebs.

The next act is "A Summer Shower." Raindrops are Gerry Hall and Shirley Fugh. "Noontide Rest by the River" is done by Joyce Brown who plays the part of a little bee.

Act three is entitled "Pan's Lament" with "night" being played by Mille Messmer. Between acts two and three, the eighth grade trio will sing "The Birth of Spring," by William Stickles.

The accompanists for the program are Judy Seamster, Judy Seely, and Trisha Perrin. The business manager is Joyce Johnston and Joyce Brown is in charge of dancing.

Although X-rays are similar to those of light, they are thousands of times shorter.

CONGRESSMAN INSPECTS OVERCOAT

Rep. R. Walter Riehlman (R., N.Y.) (right) turns in his chair to inspect a fancy army overcoat worn by Michael Balwan of the house government operations subcommittee staff at a hearing in Washington. Riehlman said the government ordered 1,400,000 of the coats in 1946, but the design was so complicated—including a zipper type appendage that served as leggings—that they couldn't be used. The congressional group headed by Riehlman is trying to find what happened to the coats. (AP Wirephoto)
