Baked Fish With Bacon Stuffing

Ingredients: 3 cups 1/4-inch soft bread cubes, 1 tablespoon bacon drippings, 1/4 cup finely chopped onion, 1/4 cup diced cooked bacon, 2 tablespoons minced parsley, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 2 tablespoons water, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, one 2-pound dressed fish (such as whitefish), butter or margarine (soft), lemon wedges.

Method: Mix together the first 9 ingredients; place stuffing lightly in cavity of fish. Leave fish unskewered. Place in greased baking pan. Spread with butter. Bake in hot (400F) oven 40 minutes or until fish flakes easily. Baste occasionally during baking. Serve with lemon wedges. Makes 4 servings.

Some Notations . .

By M. L. F.

Some days bring real "joins" in impressing you time moves on . . . Twice yesterday there were comments, both along the same line, to inquire "Who is Mary Pickford?"

Says one sweet young thing: "Well, who is Mary Pickford? Did she use to live in Salem?" That was her comment while in a group looking over the calendar to set a date for an event and someone reminded the date was the one for the stop of Mary Pickford in Oregon on her defense bonds tour . . .

Later, another young lady, although some years older than the first, remarked casually she had a faint idea about identity of Mary Pickford, she had heard of her . . .

Who is Mary Pickford? A logical question for the younger generations, of course . . . Who is Mary Pickford? Why, to those between the 40 and 50-year mark and older, Mary Pickford is the cinema, or the cinema is Mary Pickford . . .

Who is Mary Pickford? She of the golden curls, she who to so many so long was the essence of feminine prettiness and charm and perpetual youthfulness . . . Who is Mary Pickford? Mercy Percy, what radio, the talking movies and television have done to us! Who is Mary Pickford?—there ought to be a law or something . . . Who is Mary Pickford?—it's enough to make one speechless—just how cruel can time be?

Oh, well, maybe the bond people knew what they were doing. Could be that more who have what it takes in the sock to buy bonds are in the older generations—and they remember Mary Pickford!

David W. Eyre and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Johnson, are inviting friends for "open garden" to view the beautiful gardens at their home at 148 East Washington next Sunday . . .

The interested public is invited to call by between 2 and 5 o'clock in the afternoon . . . The gardens surrounding the Eyre home are a show spot on Fairmount Hill at this season . . .

And the gardens are planted and cared for by Mr. Eyre and the Johnsons, an interest enjoyed by all three . . .

Duo Wed At Hillsboro

Silverton—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henchiff of Cornelius, Ore., are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Arlene Henchiff, to William Wortman of Silverton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Wortman of Hillsboro.

The nuptials were solemnized at St. Matthews church at Hillsboro Sunday at a 2 o'clock ceremony in the presence of the members of the families of the couple.

Following a wedding trip in British Columbia, Canada, for two weeks, Mr. and Mrs. Wortman plan to make their home in Silverton.

Mr. Wortman is general manager of the Silverton Sprouse-Reitz store.

ton; at 10 o'clock Thursday at Evergreen school.

On Friday, April 24, they will be at Bethany school at 9:30 a.m.; at Silverton junior high at 10 a.m.; at Eugene Field grades, at 1 p.m.; and at Victor Point rural school at 2:30 in the afternoon, in a mothers' tea program. The awards will be ceremonially presented.

The judges' report of Friday afternoon's work gave the Victor Point school special commendation on the large number of posters done, and the unified originality, neatness, and fine workmanship.

The winning posters have been sent to Legion auxiliary headquarters for state judging at Portland, from where the winning posters are to be sent to the national convention for final competition.

Mrs. Mason received 137 posters in the contest, a record for the Silverton unit.

All posters, excepting the winners, are to be displayed with the young artists' names, in the Water street windows of the Elmer Johnson store and the Mason Style Shop.

Santiam Garden Board Meets

Riverside — Dates for annual meetings were announced at the executive board meeting of Santiam district of Garden clubs at Albany on Monday. The spring conference will be May 18 in Corvallis, clubs of that area to be host to the visitors. Mrs. Sam Burch of Albany, district secretary, will be nominated for director when the state convention meets in McMinnville June 10-12.

Mrs. Byron Bradshaw of Albany, vice president of the Oregon Federation of Garden clubs, discussed arrangements for the convention, revealing that workshops, a flower show in Portland, a tea and banquet are scheduled to take place. May 1 is the deadline for district reports.

Members of the Santiam Flower Study association joined the district board for a no-host luncheon on Monday, the group electing new officers during the meeting that followed. Mrs. A. W. Bedford of Corvallis is president; Mrs. F. O. Salmon of Halsey, vice president; Mrs. D. E. Branson of Corvallis, secretary.

Club presidents and garden club members are invited to attend future meetings of the association to be in conjunction with the district board meetings. Meetings are scheduled for October and next April. A flower show is staged at these gatherings, the Dallas club being hostess for the show last Monday. Mrs. Allie Hannigan introduced the judges, Mrs. Byron Bradshaw of Albany, Mrs. Oscar Slagel of Lebanon and Mrs. Ethel Baker.

The Lincoln Garden club of Corvallis will be hostess for the meeting next October and the Lebanon Garden club will make arrangements for the flower show.

Garden Club List Officers

Liberty — Mrs. Elba Langworthy entertained the Wee Weeders Garden club on Tuesday afternoon at dessert at her home on Boone road.

Mrs. Louis Kurth conducted the business meeting. The group decided to enter the flower show, sponsored by the Salem Garden council, May 9 and 10, at the Isaac Walton league club house. The theme for the show will be "Fun With Flowers." Named on the entry committee for the Wee Weeders were Mrs. Harold Alderlin, Mrs. Wilbert Kurth and Mrs. Ray Alderlin. Plans were made for the club's field trip, slated for Monday, April 27. The group will take a trip to the Grabenhorst Cottage on the Santiam. Mrs. Joe Van Cleave will be the speaker and will take the group on a tour of the woods, discussing wild flowers. A no-host dinner will be served at the noon hour.

New officers were elected as follows: Mrs. A. A. Schalk, president; Mrs. Roland Seeger, vice president; Mrs. Ray Alderlin, secretary-treasurer; scrapbook chairman, Mrs. W. K. Hughes; telephone committee chairman, Mrs. Helen Grabenhorst; and cheer committee, Mrs. Wilbur Kurth. Yearbooks will be made and the programs will be left to the discretion of the officers.

SILVERTON—Mr. and Mrs. Reber Allen returned last week-end from four months spent in southern California, New Mexico and Arizona. The Allens visited with the Kenneth Bentons, formerly of Silverton, during their stay in Phoenix.

Two English kings never were crowned; Edward V who ruled in 1483 and Edward VIII who abdicated before his coronation and became the Duke of Windsor.
