

Little League Baseball Planned for Salem

Chiefs Open Series Here

Salem, Edmonton Rained Out Second Straight Night

Edmonton's Eskimos left town today, with only one game of their scheduled three game series with the Salem Senators played. Salem won that one, 2-1, Tuesday night. The other two games were rained out.

Wenatchee moves into town today, hopeful of getting in a four-game series with the Senators. The Chiefs and Solons are scheduled to open their four-game slate with an 8:15 game tonight at Waters park. The two teams will clash again at 8:15 Saturday, with a doubleheader on tap for Sunday at 2 o'clock.

Jack Hemphill, who was originally scheduled to pitch against Edmonton Wednesday, and has been forced to the sidelines for two nights, will pitch for Salem tonight.

Calgary's Bob Schulte found the plate with monotonous regularity at Kennewick and Tri-City got only one hit in seven innings. Then Schulte threw wild to first, and lost the ball game. With the bases loaded in the eighth, Schulte tried to field Terry Terrell's bunt. The pitcher's toss to first was wide and three runs crossed the plate. Calgary was ahead 2-1 before Schulte's miscue, one of four logged against the Stampeders.

Play for Kids 8 to 12 Would Begin in 1954

Little League baseball, for kids 8 to 12 years of age, may come to Salem in 1954.

The machinery for a Little League program in Salem has already been put into gear. Three members of the Salem Optimist club met with Jim Mosoff, former major league ball player, yesterday afternoon to lay plans for the organization of a Salem Little League.

Representing the Optimist club were Doug Berwick, Al Pfeiffer, and Sid Jary. The Optimist club hopes to sponsor the Little League program locally.

Because of the huge job of setting up a Little League to confine to the complex rules and regulations of the National Little League organization, it was decided to wait until next season to begin play.

First step toward the establishment of a Little League problem in Salem will be the acquisition of a playing field. It is hoped that a field ex-

Bearcat Track Team to Face Whits Saturday

Ted Ogdahl's Willamette cindermen will get a clearer picture of their chances for a possible 1953 Northwest Conference crown in a dual meet with Whitman's Missionaries at Walls Walls Saturday afternoon.

The Bearcats thus far have won four dual meets in a row, three coming at the expense of conference foes. The annual conference meet is set for McCulloch Stadium on May 16th.

Spearheading the WU squad in Saturday's Walls Walls test will be such men as Sprinter Bill Van Horn; Dean Benson, freshman hurdle ace who recently cracked the school mark in the "high"; Layton Gilson, discus expert; Javelinist Stan Neperud and Shotputter Jim Hitchman. All these men are given good chances of placing well up in their events in the coming conference meet.

Willamette's Bearcats will seek to boost their chances in the Northwest conference baseball race this week-end in a pair of contests with the Lewis and Clark Pioneers. The teams clash in Portland Friday and transfer hostilities to the Bearcats' McCulloch Field Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Willamette currently is tied with Whitman at the top of the standings, each club having three wins and one setback. Whitman plays College of Idaho in a twin bill this weekend.

Coach John Lewis plans to start Andy George, his ace right-hander, in Friday's game against Lewis and Clark and Mickey Coen will be the probable hill chole for the Saturday game at McCulloch Field.

Fearless Fraley Strings Along With Native Dancer

By OSCAR FRALEY

New York (AP)—This is your correspondent, Fearless Fraley, telling you that's what's going to win the Kentucky Derby on Saturday.

If that sounds confused, forgive me. I am, too.

Because everybody knows that Native Dancer is going to win the Rose Run in a common canter.

He's a great racehorse. But who's going to eat that kind of chalk? So what you have to do is try to figure out something which might have an Oriental chance of shoving his whiskers home on top.

That horse could be Correspondent.

Here's the Theory

The theory here, at least until sundown Saturday, is that Correspondent could "steal" the Derby. The alleged mental process goes something like this:

There will be three big horses in the jaunt for the juleps when the band plays "My Old Kentucky Home" at Churchill Downs. They are Native Dancer, Royal Bay Gem and Correspondent.

Native Dancer is, of course,

79th Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday

Louisville, Ky. (AP)—Here are the facts and figures on the 79th running of the Kentucky Derby Saturday:

Place: Churchill Downs.

Post time: 4:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time (1:30 p.m. Pacific Standard).

Purse: $100,000 added to nominating and starting fees.

Value to winners: About $91,000 (depending on number of starters).

Favorite: Native Dancer.

Last year's winner: Hill Gail.

Distance: One mile and one-quarter.

Record time: 2:01 2/5 by Whirlaway in 1941.

Crowd: About 100,000 expected.

string of 11 straight triumphs to an end.

They are Correspondent, whose chances were enhanced because Eddie Arcaro will be up on him; Royal Gem, a stretch-running horse who seldom has been able to get going soon enough; Dark Star, winner of the Derby trial; and Straight Face, a son of Count Fleet who was one of the best horses ever to win the Derby.

In addition to those, Invigorator, Spy Defense, Money Broker, Ram O'War, Social Outcast, Ace Destroyer, and Curragh King are expected to be entered.

Tourney Slated For Armory Next Tuesday

A one-night wrestling tournament, the winner to get a crack at Danny McShain the following week, will be conducted at Salem armory next Tuesday.

Competitors will draw for positions prior to the start of action, and the tourney will be conducted on a single elimination basis.

35-Lap Class A Main Event at Bowl Saturday

Saturday night's class A main event for the roadsters at Hollywood Bowl will be for 35 laps, with the Class A mainer going 15 laps, promoter Henry Ireland announced last night.

Twelve cars will be entered in each the class A and class B mainers, Ireland said. In addition, there will be a trophy dash and four heat races.

A total of at least 27 cars, 16 from Oregon and 11 from Washington, will be entered in the year's first auto racing program.

The man to beat is Len Sutton and his 285-horsepower No. 1 car, which has been completely rebuilt since the 1952 season.

Out to beat Sutton will be Oregon drivers Bob Gregg, Palmer Crowell, Bob McGroty, Frankie McGowan, Cliff Miller, Dick Braniff, Ernie Koch, Jick Timmings, Harold Sperm and others.

Among Washington drivers slated to drive Saturday are Cookie Cookson, Bill Legg, Dick Brower, Bob Burgess, Phil Foubert, Gene Wolfin, Ray Davidson, Ray Laing and Joe Smith.

Entered in the tournament will be Carl Engstrom, Tony Ross, Al Szasz, Angelo Poffo, Tommy Martindale, Eric Pederson, Buck Weaver and Paddy Mack.
