

Local Paragraphs

Truck, Train In Collision

A truck and train collided at the intersection of Union and North Commercial streets Thursday evening doing considerable damage to the West Coast Fast Freight truck.

Driver of the south-bound truck, Darrel David Clum, Portland, told police he did not see the approaching train until the collision.

The train was delayed for some time by the collision, blocking traffic so that it had to be routed around, including a fire truck on its way to a minor fire in the boiler room of the Salem Sand and Gravel company, 1405 N. Front street.

Another accident earlier in the evening resulted in considerable damage to cars driven by Austin William Eivers, 529 South Commercial street, and Jeanne E. Rue, 200 East Ewald avenue, and minor injuries to Eivers' two daughters, Denise and Judith.

The two girls suffered cuts and bruises about the face which were treated by first aidmen.

An afternoon accident at Fourth and Hickory streets resulted in minor damages to cars driven by Clyde E. Harman, 2485 North Fifth street, and Perry Arlyn Lee, Route 4.

Liquor Licenses—Three Salem liquor by the drink licenses were issued by the Oregon Liquor Control Commission in Portland Friday. They were issued to the Elk club, Chuck's Steak House and the New Village Inn. Also receiving a license was the Marion Forks lodge, Idanha.

New Chamber Member—A new member of the Chamber of Commerce listed this week is Verbeck's Sandwich Shop, which is located at 3835 Portland Road.

Driver Charged — Mildred M. Kimpfe, 442 Water street, was arrested by city police Thursday night and charged with drunk driving. She pleaded innocent in municipal court Friday morning and was released on $250 bail.

Bike Held—A boy's bike is being held for the owner at the Marion county sheriff's office. It had been abandoned for over a week by the Valley Farm store, 3935 Silverton road. It is green with ivory trim.

Use of Spur Authorized — The county court has agreed to the use of a Southern Pacific company spur leading into the county shop property along Silverton road by a chemical company. The latter states that the spur which it had been using had been removed.

Azaleas in Bloom — The plantings of azaleas on either side of the approach to the main door of the post office on Church street have reached their prime. They make a colorful showing but will be succeeded in attractiveness by the beds of rhododendrons which are just beginning to bloom.

Club Announces Sale — Salem chapter of the Indoor Sports club will have a bake sale at Orcutt's Market Saturday, with the sale to start at 10 a.m., and proceeds to go to the local chapter, which is composed of handicapped persons. Members of the club are physically handicapped persons.

Board Meeting — The board of managers for the Methodist home will meet Monday at 1:15 p.m. in the parlor of the home.

Richard Lynch Gets Serious Eye Injury

A flying piece of steel or rock caused serious injury to the eye of Richard Lynch, 51, West Stayton, Thursday afternoon, while he was working at a rock crusher near Cascadia.

Lynch was taken to Sweet Home by his son, John Lynch, 22, where he was given first aid and then transferred to Salem Memorial hospital for surgery.

He was pounding on a bolt at the time of the accident. At first it was believed that a piece of bolt broke off and flew into his eye but doctors say they believe it may be a rock chip as it has shown no reaction to a magnet.

The injury is serious, they said, and it will be about a week before it is known if the eye can be saved.

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Alfalfa seed, Valley Farm Store, Phone 4-4624. 105*

Mt. View rummage sale over Greenbaum's, May 2, 9-3 p.m. 104

Paint with glamorizing Treasure Tones. See our outstanding wallpaper selection. Chuck Clarke Co., 255 N. Liberty. 104*

Air-steamship tickets anywhere. Kugel, 3-7694. 153 N. High St. 104*

Lebanon Deer Eat Crop of Strawberries

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Lebanon — For the second consecutive year, Paul Bolt reports that deer are destroying his entire berry crop and that he is seeking the aid of the state game division to end the nuisance.

Bolt said this week that deer have stripped all leaves from strawberry plants in his one-acre plot just east of Lebanon, and have nibbled off all the shoots on his loganberry and raspberry vines.

Last year he said the deer destroyed his cane berry crop in a similar manner. The animals apparently wintered in the heavy foliage along banks of the South Santiam river near the Bolt home.

The man said his mother and children have seen the deer at numerous times and he reports the area is heavily trampled by them.

Seven Bomb

He said tales of supposed Argentine economic crisis had been invented and spread abroad by The Associated Press and the United Press. At another point he spoke derisively about The Christian Science Monitor, which has criticized his regime.

Peron told Congress there was an organized campaign to prevent the economic unity of South America which started with his visit to Chile in February.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

He said that while he and President Carlos Ibanez of Chile were trying to unite the continent, imperialist forces, presumably meaning the United States, want these countries to get behind them for war.

He asked Congress for "rapid investigation" of foreign groups and punishment for those who "spread lies against us." Storms of applause greeted his words.

PREPARING FOR W.U. SHOW TONIGHT

Lollie Coffey and Malcolm Campbell, stars of Willamette University's "Good News," take a last minute look at the script for tonight's final production of the May Week-end musical at Parrish Junior high school. They are supported by a cast of 17 players, a dancing chorus, singing chorus and a full orchestra. Curtain time for "Good News" is 8:15 p.m.

Governor Calls State Officials to Forum

Heads of state departments were asked by Gov. Paterson Friday to attend the annual Oregon Forum on Intergroup Relations in Portland May 9.

The governor said state officials should set an example in promoting a policy against racial and religious discrimination.

The forum is sponsored by the State Labor Department as part of its educational work under the state fair employment practices law.

More than 300 representatives of business, labor, education, government, church and community organizations will attend.

Edwin C. Berry, director of the Urban League of Portland, will open the program. The main address will be given at noon by Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton.

Leaders of discussion groups include: Malcolm Bauer, associate editor of the Oregonian; James Goodsell, editor of the Labor Press; Gene Muntley, personnel director of the State Highway Commission; Robert Hirstel, personnel director of Lipman, Wolfe & Co.; Melvin Murphy, director of the Oregon Mental Health association; Dr. Mark Talney, Oregon Council of Churches; E. Shelton Gill, Urban League; George Brown, Congress of Industrial Organizations; Betty J. Warnock, Reed College; Dr. David Darland, Pacific University; Mrs. Frank S. Taylor, Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs; and the Rev. Thom H. Hunter, director of the Westminster Foundation in Eugene.

Bulgarin Calls

As if to back up Bulganin's words that Russia wants diminishing tension in international affairs, the traditional military parade on this international labor day was the shortest on record. The whole military show was over in 15 minutes, and the civilian parade that followed was not much longer.

Wants Peaceful Deeds — Bulganin, resplendent in a blue-green dress uniform with gold braid and jeweled medals, was heralded to the microphones by 150 buglers, who let go a tremendous blast. Then he began to speak.

He said the Soviet government would like to see some backing up "by deeds of the peaceful declarations of members and leaders" of foreign governments. He obviously had President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill in mind.

Chamber to Form Policy — A special meeting of the board of directors of the Salem Chamber of Commerce Monday night will attempt to list projects in which the chamber should participate after the Salem Industrial Development Council becomes a separate entity. It is not planned, however, to sever completely the connection between the chamber and the council.

City Radio Program Starts Next Sunday

A question and answer program on the subject of Salem city government will be started next Sunday night over Radio Station KSLM.

It will run for 15 minutes each Sunday night and start at 7:15. The time is being donated by the radio station.

Mayor Al Loucks said today that he would be the speaker for the first four programs, but that later he would attempt to get the various department heads to be the speakers.

Community Council — A meeting of the Community council has been called by John A. Rademaker, president, for 7:30 the night of Monday, May 7. The council will take up a program of providing blood for emergency use.

Mirrors Gone — Someone took two side-mount rear view mirrors from his car Wednesday night, James E. Bradley, 608 Union street, reported to city police Thursday.

Breaks Arm — Mrs. Mary Giles, 69, 982 North Winter street, broke her arm in a fall near her home Thursday. She was reported in good condition at Salem Memorial hospital Friday.

PTA Meeting — The executive committee of the Salem High School PTA will meet at the home of Mrs. Dennis Patch, 1070 North Fifth street at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 7. All officers and chairmen are urged to be present. Plans will be outlined for the final meeting which will be held Thursday, May 14 instead of the usual date, May 13.

Probate Court — Notice of retirement from firm of Square Deal Hardware and Furniture Co. filed by Wolf Cohen, Martin and Goldie Chasman have filed certificates of assumed business name for Square Deal Hardware store and Square Deal Hardware Co.

Robert J. Lorraine R. Barbara L. and Martin A. Birmingham guardianship: Order appointing annual accounting.

Mae M