

Wedding Set For Aug. 15 In Salem

Revealed at a surprise birthday party for Miss Marilyn Springer on Friday evening was the date for the wedding of Miss Ruthita Willard and Gordon K. Stein. The bride-elect's parents are Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Willard, and Mr. Stein is the son of Mrs. William Stein of Canby. The couple announced their engagement in December.

The wedding is to be Saturday, August 15. A May day theme was featured at the party and the announcement was enclosed in a birthday gift, fashioned like a May basket.

Mrs. B. G. Kelso and Miss Marilyn Clare were hostesses, the event being at Miss Clare's home. Guests were Miss Willard, Miss Springer, Mrs. Donna Sawyer, Miss Shirley Thompson, Mrs. Louisa Duncan and Mrs. Robert Schunke.

Mustard Glazed Butt
Ingredients: 1 boneless smoked pork shoulder butt (about 2 pounds), ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar, 3 tablespoons yellow horseradish mustard.

Method: Cover butt with water and bring to boil; simmer about ¼ hour for each pound. Drain and place on shallow baking pan; if aluminum foil is at hand line pan first with the foil. Mix brown sugar and mustard together well. Spread mixture over butt. Bake in moderate (350 F.) oven about 20 minutes, basting once with glaze. If slightly browned surface is desired, raise oven heat to very hot (450 F.) and leave ham at this temperature for 5 to 10 minutes. Makes about 5 servings served hot.

Note: If any of the butt is leftover, it is delicious sliced thin for sandwiches with the glaze as a savory addition.

Attend Meeting

More than 300 attended the state ceremonial for Nomads of Avradaka and order of DOKK in Roseburg on Saturday. The annual event honors grand officers of the Pythian Sisters and Knights of Pythias in Oregon, Don Judson of Salem, vice grand chancellor, being one of the special guests.

Going from Salem were Mr. and Mrs. Don Judson, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Decatur, Harry Wilson, Fred Stein, Leonard Hixson and William Bowman.

Home From Trip

Home from a two weeks trip east are Mr. and Mrs. Jay E. Reeves and their daughter, Miss Joyce Reeves. They made the trip by plane, flying from Seattle to Chicago, then to New York City. Later they were in Washington, D.C. in the national capital they called at the office of Douglas McKay, Secretary of the Interior, and visited with him, also with Miss Alene Phillips, secretary to Mr. McKay. Then they went to Detroit where they visited at the home of Mrs. Reeves' two brothers and sisters, Dr. L. O. Geib, Dr. O. D. Geib and Miss Gladys Geib.

It was the first time in 29 years the brothers and sisters had all been together, although the brothers and sister, individually have visited in Salem. After arriving in Salem, Miss Reeves went on to Seattle and will return at mid-week to be here for a time. She is to be married on May 17 to Capt. Eugene Mitchell Beard.

Hemingway Winner Pulitzer Fiction Prize

New York (AP)—The Pulitzer Prize in fiction for 1953 Monday was awarded to Ernest Hemingway for his "The Old Man and The Sea."

The drama award was given to "Picnic" by William Inge, a Broadway hit play with a setting in the author's native Midwest.

Meritorious public service awards went to The Whiteville, N. C., News reporter and The Tabor City, N. C., Tribune for their successful campaign against the Ku Klux Klan.

David J. Mays won the biography award for his book, "Edmund Pendleton," 1721-1803.

The history award was won by George Dangerfield's "The Era of Good Feelings."

The poetry prize went to Archibald MacLeish for his collected poems, 1917-1952.

There was no music award. Don Whitehead of The Associated Press won the national reporting award—his second Pulitzer Prize—for his article entitled "The Great Deception," the story of his trip to Korea with President Eisenhower just before the inauguration.

The international reporting prize went to Austin Wehrwein of The Milwaukee, Wis., Journal, for a series of articles on Canada.

The editorial writing award was given to Vermont Connecticut Royster of The Wall Street Journal.

Edward D. Kuekes, Cleveland, O., Plain Dealer, won

Jerrile Wilson, Joanne Jansen and Sarah Winslow of Portland Bethel No. 41, and Mrs. Jean Yeo of Oregon City, grand guardian of Oregon.

Next meeting of the group will be at the Scottish Rite temple, May 14, at 7:30 o'clock.

the cartoon award. The news photography prizes was won by William M. Gallagher of the Flint, Mich., Journal. His picture showed ex-governor Adlai E. Stevenson campaigning for president with a hole in his shoe.

Prices Moving Up and Down

By SAM DAWSON
New York (AP)—Prices are moving on a two-way street this week as buyers and sellers adjust to new business conditions.

Stock prices have made their best advance of the year this week—but corporate bond prices have slumped because traders think their yields are too low in a new day of dearer money.

The cost of U.S. treasury borrowing jumped again this week to a new 20-year high on 91-day bills—and the price of treasury bonds have slipped to record lows.

Mortgage interest rates are going up—but the government reports that fewer new homes have been started so far this spring than last. The supply of money for mortgages is tight, even though the demand for it isn't quite as high as a year ago.

Commodity prices have staged the broadcast advance of the year—but in the market place price weakness is reported for such items as milk and potatoes.

Pork prices have been climbing at the butcher shops—but the supply of beef is at a record high and price bargains in that meat dot the grocery ads. Prices on some steel products have been raised and U. S. Steel stockholders were told Monday that further price boosts on finished products are being planned—but the same day a major truck maker, International Harvester, cut retail prices on one line of its trucks (it takes a lot of steel to make them) by $87 to $152.
