Oregon in New CAA Region

Washington (AP)—F. B. Lee, Civil Aeronautics Administration chief, disclosed Monday that seven domestic CAA regions are to be consolidated into four regions by June 30. He said greater efficiency and the saving of an estimated one and one-half million dollars were the reasons.

Region Seven, which includes the four Pacific Northwest states, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, would be consolidated with a new Region Four, with headquarters at Los Angeles.

Region Four would embrace Washington, Oregon, California, Idaho, Montana, Utah, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, Colorado and Wyoming.

The present Seattle offices, headquarters for Region Seven, be retained as the CAA's point of contact with the public in the Pacific Northwest. There are some 1,050 persons employed by the present seventh region. It was not disclosed if any would be cut from the payroll under the new plan.
