Free Baseball School for Kids Here Saturday

All boys from 8 to 16 who are interested in learning baseball fundamentals are invited to attend a special one-day clinic Saturday.

The clinic gets underway at 1 o'clock, and will be conducted at either Olinger or Baker field. Watch this paper for a definite announcement.

Former Salem Senator manager Bill Beard, American Legion junior baseball coach Vince Genna, West Salem junior high coach Bill Hauska, and former Pittsburgh Pirate Jim Mosoloff will be on hand to teach baseball to the kids attending the one-day school.

All coaches of teams in the Salem junior leagues are also urged to attend, that they might assist the four instructors in directing the youths.

There is, of course, no charge for the baseball school. Boys should bring their own gloves.

Chuck Abernathy, Victoria Tyee first baseman, should sit down and write a book called 'How to Win Friends and Influence Baseball Fans.'

Nobody needed friends more than Abernathy in the eighth inning of last night's Western International League game between Victoria and Salem in the British Columbia capital.

Consider the script. With Victoria ahead 5-3, Abernathy failed to make friends with a ground ball and one run trickled across on his error. To make matters worse, Lew Witherspoon stepped up and belted one out of the park for a three-run homer and the Tyees were behind 7-5.

The fans were waiting to be shown when Abernathy stepped up to the plate with two men aboard in the Victoria half of the eighth. Abernathy quickly made converts of them by slapping a three-run home run to give Victoria an 8-7 lead, and as it eventually turned out, the ball game.

At Vancouver, Lefty Carl Gunnarson played the hero when he came on in relief in the ninth with two men aboard and nobody out. Gunnarson gave up one single, then struck out Vic Buccola and Ernie Sierra and got Edo Vanni on an infield fly to preserve a 5-2 Vancouver victory.

Lewiston's Broncos won a 5-4 triumph over Yakima at Lewiston.

At Wenatchee, the Calgary Stamps shook themselves out of a seven-game losing streak and posted a 7-1 decision over the Wenatchee Chiefs. Edmonton also registered one on the winning side of the ledger when it pounded three Spokane hurlers for 16 assorted hits and a 14-3 victory.

Portland Downs Seattle, 3-2, Before 4332 Fans

Portland U.P.—Portland opened its first Pacific Coast League series with Seattle last night by downing the Rainiers, 3-2, before 4332 fans.

Portland opened the show in the first with a double by Jim Russell and a home run by Dino Restelli, his third of the year.

Seattle tied the score in the sixth when Clarence Maddern and Ray Orteig singled and Arnie Wilson gained first on Herm Reich's error. Marrill Combs rapped out a single and Maddern an Orteig galloped home.

The Beavers pulled themselves together in the last half of the same inning as Reich's single drove Russell across the plate.

Royce Lint chalked up his third win of the season against two losses, and Jim Davis came out with a 3-2 pitching record.

Expected to take the mound in tonight's doubleheader for Seattle were Bill Evans (4-1) and Steve Nagy (3-2). Glenn Elliott (1-2) and Jehosie Heard 3-0 were slated to hurl for Portland.

Yanks Sock Cleveland in Season's First 'Big' Game

By CARL LUNDQUIST
New York U.P.—No wonder Hank Greenberg hates the Yankees.

Look at what they keep doing to his Cleveland Indians, especially with the pressure on. Last night in the first so-called big game of the season, Casey Stengel's New Yorkers pounded out an eight-run rally in the fourth for an 11 to 1 victory.

Cleveland offered its best ace Bob Lemon, but Stengel rode along with his little ex-GI left hander, Whitey Ford.

Ford, partnering with the class of a seasoned veteran and the cold nerve of a sock-footed burglar, held the Indians to eight hits, struck out five and contributed two clean singles.

The Yankees put together seven singles, a walk and a hit batsman for their eight runs. Gil McDougald came up twice and singled each time, driving in three runs.
