Talent District Wins Support

Boise (P)—Plans for a 19-million dollar irrigation project in the Talent, Ore., district won the approval of irrigation district representatives from the Rogue river watershed Monday.

Harold T. Nelson, regional director of the bureau of reclamation, said the project would provide water for 9,000 acres of previously arid land and supplemental water for 9,000 acres of irrigated land which usually suffers a water shortage late in the season.

He said it involves construction of a 62,000 acre-foot dam at Howard Prairie, enlargement of Emigrant Reservoir to 45,000 acre-feet and construction of a power plant at Green Springs.

Representatives of the Medford, Grants Pass, Talent and Rogue River Irrigation Districts flew to Boise for the meeting.

Frank Arthur Heads Horseshoe Club

At the annual meeting of the Salem Horseshoe club held Sunday at the courts in Bush Pasture Park, Frank Arthur was elected president, Glen Bonlie, first vice president, Ronald Anderson, second vice president and tournament manager.

Anderson is the retiring president. The election of a secretary was deferred to the next meeting.

The club is negotiating with the city to have the courts lighted, and should they be successful it is planned to have organized contests in the evenings. The club would expect to contribute to the expense of lighting, according to Eugene Prescott, secretary of the club. It is understood the Portland General Electric company has offered to assist with the lighting. Last season the horseshoe courts and the softball field were the center of interest in the park.
