Mt. Angel Purchases Site For Sewage Disposal Plant

Mt. Angel—The purchase of property for a right-of-way and sewage disposal plant was reported at the meeting of the Mt. Angel city council Monday evening. The property, purchased from M. Van Buskirk, John Bielemeier and R. J. Martin, is in the vicinity of the present city septic tank, located west of the city.

Ordinance No. 249 was read in full for the first time. It relates to alcoholic liquor, providing penalties for violations, and making minors responsible when buying liquor as well as tavern owners. A report given by the special committee appointed regarding the erection of an addition to the fire hall to house the new fire truck which was purchased during the month, stated that William Predeek and Fred Baumgartner, local carpenters were consulted, who will construct the building.

At the request of a prospective purchaser, the council set a selling price on city lot No. 1, with the written understanding that a building be erected on same within one year from date of signing agreement.

The rebuilding of the main highway through the city by the state highway commission will necessitate the raising and lowering of sidewalks along the route. To date more than 50 percent of property owners along the highway have promised to reconstruct their sidewalks to grade with the new street.

Water Commissioner Joseph Haasler reported having lowered necessary fire hydrants and other water valves, and installation of catch basins in the city. The repairing of a sewer line at the Norb Butsch property also was completed, and property owners were ordered to trim overhanging shrubs along the sidewalks.

In giving his monthly report, Chief of Police Merle Grace was asked to check on the matter of street lights being broken by vandals. The council commended Chief Grace for keeping up the grounds at the city hall.

Fire Chief Schmidt was authorized to attend the annual fire chief's convention at Eugene, June 8, 9 and 10.
