

Unique College Course Will Climax at Dinner

Members of the management problems course at Willamette university will hold a dinner next Tuesday night as the climax of the only college course of its type offered in the country.

Eugene Caldwell, vice president of the Hyster company of Portland, will be the featured speaker at the 6 p.m. banquet to be served in Lausanne hall on the campus.

Under the supervision of Dr. Robert M. Haley, professor of economics and business administration the course of 13 weeks was introduced at Willamette for the first time last February. It offers students an opportunity to hear business executives discuss the actual problems facing industry today.

Representatives of various fields of business have led class discussions covering the many phases of industry, including advertising and sales promotion, community relations, conservation and natural resources, employer-employee relations, compensation, public relations, purchasing and taxation.

Appearing on the semester's speaking roster have been: W. F. Lubersky, of Koerner, Young, McCulloch and Dezen-dorf, attorneys-at-law; C. Harold Campbell, personnel director, Pacific Power and Light Co.; Douglas J. Piggott, program director, NAM; George H. Schroeder, assistant chief forester, Crown Zellerbach Corp.; Philip S. Hill, general sales manager, Hyster company; Martin E. Knudson, account executive, Richard G. Montgomery and associates; R. Walter Ager, personnel manager, Hyster company; J. D. MacEwan, general manager, Retail Credit Assn., Portland; Charles R. Holloway, Jr., president, Liberty Fuel and Ice Co.; Walter A. Durham, Jr., manager, Lumbermen's Industrial Relations Committee, Inc., Eugene Caldwell, manager, Hyster company.

The class has a membership of some 30 students.

Harvey Haddix, rookie hurler for the St. Louis Cardinals, was nicknamed "The Kitten" because of his resemblance to Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, former Card pitching star.

Farm Bureau Elects Officers

Marion County Farm Bureau held its annual meeting and election of officers at St. Marys school in Mt. Angel Monday night.

Mt. Angel and Silverton centers were in charge of the program and dinner.

President Lloyd Mason opened the meeting with introduction of guests. Mrs. George Boedigher, secretary, read the minutes and financial report.

Jim Jackson reported on membership. Mason spoke on the need to keep the Farm Bureau active through the summer months.

Mrs. Olin Spiva reported on women's activities and read a letter from Mrs. Walter Hardy, state women's chairman, urging participation in rural youth movements and Red Cross blood programs.

Commodity chairmen were called on for reports. Several dairymen plan to attend the Milk Producers meeting at Salem this week.

Mrs. Eddie Ahrens was appointed to represent the Farm Bureau on the Marion County Rural Health Council.

Ahrens presented the plans for the L. A. McClintock memorial.

Gilbert Austin outlined the agenda for the 11 western states conference to be held at Gearheart June 10-14.

The report on the nominating committee was accepted and the following slate of officers was chosen by unanimous vote:

President, Lloyd Mason, Turner; vice president, Clarence Zielinski, Hazel Green; voting delegate, Mike Zahara, Hazel Green; alternate delegate, Jim Jackson, Mt. Angel; Women's chairman, Mrs. Ed Zielinski, Hazel Green; assistant women's chairman, Mrs. Clara Brown, Silverton.

Wilhelm Suffering Attack of Pneumonia

Speaker of the House Rudie Wilhelm, Jr., is suffering from an attack of pneumonia at his home in Portland. Wilhelm was scheduled to speak Wednesday at the Salem Rotary club but was stricken in his office at the capitol.

Rep. Lee Ohmart of Salem, at the request of the speaker, pinched-hit for him and later drove the speaker to his Portland home. A physician was called and diagnosed the case as one of pneumonia. It is expected the speaker will be in bed for several weeks.

Salem Girl and Teacher In Honor Group Today

This is the day that awards are made at Valley Forge, Pa., to those schools that have qualified in Freedom Foundation's program "because of their brilliant classroom work for this land of God and freedom."

Representing Salem's Englewood school and receiving the award for that school are Nancy Otto, president of the Englewood Student Body, and Laura Eaton, teacher.

Other Oregon schools represented are the grade school of Burns, and Grants Pass high school.

One hundred and seventy-six students and teachers from 88 American schools will participate in the annual Freedom Pilgrimage to historic Valley Forge, the shrines of Freedom in Philadelphia and Washington, D. C., on May 8 through 10, under the sponsorship of Freedom Foundation at Valley Forge.

Each school delegated one student and one teacher to travel to the Foundation's national headquarters at Valley Forge to accept their George Washington Honor Medal award. The "freedom pilgrims" will then visit the site of General George Washington's winter encampment of 1777-78 at Valley Forge; Independence Hall, Christ Church, and the Betsy Ross House in Philadelphia; and travel to the nation's capital and Mount Vernon to see the shrines of this country's founding.

The Freedom Foundation awards were presented at a special ceremony in the Freedom-Barn theater on Friday morning, May 8. Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, president of Freedom Foundation and Philadelphia area directors of the Foundation presented the medals. They are: Mrs. William J. Clothier, Valley Forge, Pa.; Walter D. Fuller, chairman of the board, Curtis Publishing company; Dr. John Robbins Hart, rector, The Washington Memorial chapel; Graham Patterson, publisher, The Farm Journal and Pathfinder magazines; and Mrs. J. Howard Pew, Ardmore, Pa.; H. W. Prentiss, chairman of the board, Armstrong Cork company, Lancaster, Pa.; Dr. Robert L. Johnson, director of International Information Service; and Dr. Harold E. Stassen, Director of Mutual Security.

These patriotic pilgrims coming from 33 states, will see the principal historic shrines of Philadelphia on May 9 and will be taken to Washington, D. C., to spend Sunday, May 10.

In addition, schools will receive a "Freedom Library" of books, pictures and posters, documents, photographs, motion pictures and radio transcripts for patriotic teaching.

The award-winning schools were selected by a distinguished awards jury composed of chief justices of the supreme courts of seven states, elected officials of national civic, fraternal and service and veterans organizations, aided by an advisory group of nationally recognized educators.

Over $3 Billion Farm Surplus

Washington, (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported Thursday that it had $3,065,000,000 invested in surplus farm products at the end of March, or about $18 worth for each citizen.

This compared with $1,730,000,000 a year ago and a record of nearly $4,300,000,000 shortly before the war started in Korea.

Included in current investments is $1,902,000,000 in price support loans to farmers on such products as wheat, corn, cotton, tobacco, peanuts, other grains, wool and honey, and $1,163,000,000 worth of commodities acquired under price support operations.

The largest single item is $1,125,000,000 in wheat.

East Salem Garden Clubs Start All Out Pest War

East Salem—Home gardeners have one problem in common this time of the year and programs or club meetings all give some time to discussion of "Identification of Garden Pests."

Mrs. Clifford Yost was program chairman leading the discussion of this problem at the Tuesday night meeting of the Swegle Road Garden club at the home of Mrs. Dick Suddall.

As this club meets in the evening and there is not time to visit members' gardens and have programs, two special garden tours were planned the first to be Thursday, May 14, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Harold Olson, Mrs. Oscar Wigle, Mrs. George Quinn, Mrs. Daniel Casey, Mrs. Robert Fryrear, Mrs. O. P. Bond, Mrs. Dan Stauffer, Mrs. E. N. Wilhelm, Mrs. Bryan Garrison, Mrs. Yost and the hostesses.

Swegle Woman's club meeting Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Alfred Pauli used their flowers for trimming or making of special hats to wear to the meeting. Voted by members to be the prettiest were Mrs. Tom Dixons, that of Mrs. E. J. Fordyce the most original and Mrs. Robert Parker's the "funniest."

The president, Mrs. Clark McCall, appointed as a nominating committee Mrs. Mary Swingle, Mrs. Pauli and Mrs. Menno Dalke, for new officers as the club is changing its year to that of the county federation.

Co-hostess with Mrs. Pauli for the luncheon was Mrs. Fordyce and present were Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Julia Jennings, Mrs. Dalke, Mrs. Otis Dawes, Mrs. Ralph Hein, Mrs. Charles Jayne, Mary Beth, Mrs. Swingle, Mrs. John Ollhoff, Mrs. Albert Patz, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. B. G. Kiewer, Mrs. Carl Heutenroder, Mrs. Austin Kyle, Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. L. E. Kleinke who was welcomed as a new member, Mrs. William Hartley and the hostesses.

Guests the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fordyce on Brown road were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fordyce of Lewistown, Mont., and daughter, Miss Viola Fordyce of San Francisco, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark McCall spent last week on a trip east to visit relatives at Weiser, McCall and Boise, Idaho.

Among those of the valley who attended the rhododendron show in Portland Sunday were the Charles Jayne family of Swegle.

Mrs. William Rantz of Ed-dyville was a week-end guest of relatives and friends in Auburn community.
