Escape Trio All Caught

The remaining pair of the trio that escaped from Oregon State Hospital Wednesday night were captured in Sandy Friday evening by Sandy police after they received a tip that the stolen car the men had been driving was heading their way.

Eugene P. Ferguson, 20, Portland, and Thomas Malone, 19, Springfield, offered no resistance when they were stopped by police in the car of Valdemar J. Karklin, the attendant whom they overpowered to escape the hospital.

They were returned to the hospital Saturday morning from Oregon City where they had been held in the Clackamas county jail overnight. Karklins went along with other hospital aides to return his car to Salem.

The two men were spotted by a merchant patrolman as they went through Rhodendron in the stolen car and state police at Milwaukie were notified. They in turn called Sandy police to be on the lookout for the car, they stopped it as it went through town.

The third member of the trio, Verlin O. Thayer, 39, went to his home in Toledo after the escape and was returned to the hospital Thursday by his family and Lincoln county welfare authorities.

Staprans' Paintings Exhibit at Gleasons

The exhibition of oil paintings by Raimonds Staprans, 26-year-old Latvian artist, will be shown one week more at the Clifford Gleason studio, 162 South Commercial.

The pictures mainly have their settings around Seattle, San Francisco and Salem. Critics have especially commented on Staprans' strong lights and darks of the modern era, combined with the influence familiar to the 18th and 19th century paintings.

Mr. Staprans makes his home in Salem but is now studying at Berkeley for his master or arts degree. He is a graduate of University of Washington.
