Suspect Gulps Evidence as Police Arrive

Albany—Were it not for numerous witnesses District Attorney Courtney Johns might have found it necessary to employ the use of an X-ray machine to prove a forgery charge against Everett Arleigh Overholser, 27, Waterloo, filed in circuit court here Friday.

According to information supplied Johns by Don Dashnea of Sweet Home, Overholser drove his car into Grovom's Richfield station at Sweet Home Thursday and purchased 19.1 gallons of gasoline.

In payment, according to Dashnea, Overholser offered a $7.55 Bank of Albany check to which he signed the name of Robert L. Morse, representing that to his name.

Dashnea and other witnesses became suspicious, his statement asserts, and Sweet Home police were summoned. The check passer was searched and his identity was established as Overholser.

Overholser seized the check from Grovom, said Dashnea, and popped it into his mouth, took a big swallow and down it went.

After a struggle with Dashnea and Karel Hyer, Sweet Home officer, Overholser was arrested. He is now awaiting disposition of his case in the Linn county jail, where he was brought.

C.D.A. Election Mt. Angel—Annual election of officers will take place at the meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America at 8 p.m. Monday, May 11, at the St. Mary's meeting room.

Armed Forces Week to Get Stress in Salem

By MARGARET MAGEE

May 11 through May 16 the nation will be observing Armed Forces Day and honoring the men and women serving in the Armed Forces of the United States.

Salem has set Thursday, May 14, as the main day for the observance here with the featured event being the speech to be given by Maj. Gen. Alfred A. Kessler, Jr., commander of the Fourth Air Force, before a luncheon meeting at the Salem National Guard armory.

The general, who will be making his second visit to Salem since taking over his command last fall, is slated to arrive by plane shortly before noon. The luncheon has been arranged by Salem's service clubs.

Just prior to the luncheon Williamette university's Air Force ROTC band will play in the Salem streets and then will play at the armory. Four branches of the Armed Forces are to be represented in the color guard at the armory for the luncheon. In the group will be Master Sgt. Robert C. Hartman, Air Force; Bruce Cairy, yeoman second class, Navy; Sgt. William Kitchen, Marine Corps; and Sgt. Lawrence Baker, National Guard.

Among the special guests at the luncheon for which Mayor Al Loucks is to serve as chairman will be Maj. Gen. Thomas E. Rilea, Oregon's adjutant general; Maj. Gen. H. G. Mal-son, commander of the 41st division (Oregon and Washington National Guard); Vice Adm. Thomas L. Gatch, and the commanders of the 11 local defense establishments. The speaker is to be introduced by Seward Reese.

Honoring Gen. Kessler Thursday evening a reception to which the public is invited will be held in the Cave room of the Senator hotel. The hours are from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.

Tentatively planned for later that evening is a military ball with the public invited and a special invitation extended to men in uniform, including all branches of the reserves of all branches of the service.
