Fans who came to the stadium to see Cook perform weren't disappointed in the least, as the Negro flash copped firsts in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the low hurdles, and the broad jump.

But almost stealing the show from Cook was Willamette's Dean Benson, a freshman from Bend, who established a new all-time school mark in the high hurdles, skipping the sticks in 15.1. That was two-tenths of a second faster than the previous record, set only this month by Benson himself.

Willamette had nine first places in the 14 events. Don Empey won two of them, the mile and the two-mile.

Five Willamette-Lewis and Clark meet records were established Saturday. Benson's mark in the high hurdles was, of course, one of them.
