Seattle Splits With Bevos Holds Two-Game Lead

retained its two-game lead for first place over Los Angeles in the PCL today in the wake of a frustrating Sunday afternoon that saw all the clubs split their twin bills.

That left the standings right where they were on Saturday night with nothing startling coming out of the weekend unless it is a trend to extra inning contests.

Los Angeles was forced to go 14 innings before downing Oakland 8-5, in their lid lifter, and Seattle a trifle bleary-eyed from Saturday night's 14-in-ning grind with Portland, lost its second game to the Bevos yesterday 2-1 in 10 frames after winning the opener, 6-2. Oakland took the finale from
