

Pay Checks Unclaimed At Commission Office

Sixty three checks, involving close to $2700 are being held by the Oregon State Industrial Accident Commission because of incorrect mailing addresses of the workers involved, according to Chairman Paul E. Gurske.

Sixteen other checks involving over $560 and issued more than two years ago never have been presented for payment, he added.

Unless these checks are claimed or cashed soon, workers may lose the amount to which they are entitled, Chairman Gurske warned. Workers whose checks are being held may receive them upon furnishing the Salem office of the commission with the following information: Name, social security number, date of injury, name of employer at time of injury and signature. If a check has been lost or destroyed the same information should be furnished, but in addition it will be necessary to complete certain forms before a duplicate can be issued.

Checks returned and held: Robert L. Alfano, $8.88; Nimora Anderson, $20.10; Sherman Barber, $0.00; Albert L. Barnett, $4.23; Howard C. Blankenhorn, $17.73; Melvin L. Boas, $4.00; Martin C. Silverton PTA Seats Officers

Silverton — Mrs. Allan Foster was installed as president of the Silverton Parent-Teachers' association for the year 1953-54, at a specially planned program Thursday evening, with Mrs. Gordon VanCleave, a past PTA president, as installation guest.

Assisting officers to Mrs. Foster for the coming school year, inducted, were Mrs. Eugene Smith, first vice president; Mrs. Alan Brown, second vice president; Mrs. Fred Hugg, secretary, and Mrs. Weldon Hattberg, treasurer.

Miss Hannah Olson and Mrs. George Brandt arranged supplemental musical numbers by groups and individuals from the choral club of the junior high school.

Cub scout den 6, troop No. 61, directed by their den mother, Mrs. Verne Plummer, presented the flag and led the patriotic salute. The Rev. Joseph Cooper of the Christian and Missionary alliance, gave the invocation.

The featured speaker was Malcolm Nichols, field executive for the Boy Scouts of America, in this area.

Mrs. C. Clark led in group singing of "America". Miss Marie Byre, historian for the past school year under the presidency of Mrs. Ralph Schmid, told of the accomplishments of the PTA, with more than 500 members creating much interest in the work of the association.

Reports from the state convention held recently at Medford were given by the three delegates attending from Silverton PTA, Mrs. Wilbert Peron, Mrs. Eugene Smith and

Heidt and Two Troopers Hurt

Elgin, Ill. (AP)—One of band leader Horace Heidt's proteges, Betty Cole, was treated in a hospital here today after she was injured along with Heidt in an auto accident early yesterday.

Also injured was dancer Rita Green, 17. She and Miss Mrs. Harold Toft.

The social hour and serving of refreshments was informal, planned by third grade room mothers.

Mrs. Mike Hannan as hospitality committee chairman, greeted guests at the door and presented a program listing.

This was the last PTA meeting of the present school year.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

Cole, 16, are both residents of Van Nuys, Calif. Heidt's car collided head-on with a pickup truck driven by Charles F. Sigrist, 16, of Huntley, Ill., on Highway 20 near Hampshire, Ill. Heidt was treated for minor injuries at St. Joseph hospital and then spent the night at the Elgin hotel. Miss Cole, who was kept at the hospital, suffered a mouth injury.

Author Visitor in School at Dallas

Dallas — Evelyn Sibely Lampman, author of a number of children's books, was guest of the Fourth grade of the Lyle school on Friday, May 8. The appearance of Mrs. Lampman was the highlight in a project begun some time ago by Mrs. Yeo and her fourth graders. The children were introduced to Mrs. Lampman's books some of which have their setting in Dallas.

Mrs. Jack Eakin Sr. and Mrs. E. B. Bossatt made the arrangements for Mrs. Lampman's visit. Pouring during the tea hour that followed was Mrs. Hollis Smith assisted by the co-chairmen Mrs. Bossatt and Mrs. Leland LeFors.

Mrs. Lampman autographed books for the children which included, Crazy Creek, Elder Brother, Coyote Kid, Captain Apple's Ghost, and Rogue Valley.

Many Reason for Tribal Peoples to Worship Sun

By J. HUGH PRUETT
Astronomer, Extension Division, Oregon Higher Education System
Many of the greatest blessings to which the human race is heir seem so common to us that we simply take them for granted and never feel a sense of gratitude or even think about them. But should we be deprived of them, our condition would be woeful.

Life on our earth would not be possible without the light and heat of the sun. Should this flow of energy across interplanetary space suddenly cease, our terror would surely be equal to that depicted in Lord Byron's poem Darkness. This starts, "I had a dream... the bright sun was extinguished... and the icy earth swung blind and blackening in the moonless air." The poet's dream had "palaces of crowned kings, the huts... burnt for beacons... Forests were set on fire... When everything was consumed, "all was black." Even "war... was no more."

The worship of primitive man humbly bowing before the glory of the rising sun can hardly seem a useless form of praise. We still have our all-powerful sun, and surely it cannot be extremely sinful to accord to it a certain degree of adoration. A peculiar experience came to this writer a few years ago. For two sunlit weeks, each afternoon was spent at the observatory directing solar study for various small groups from the university astronomy class. The spring weather was inspiring and the sky blue. The students were eager and interested. The sun was furnishing abundant light for study through various instruments.

In the telescopes and on the projection screen every day the warm face of old Sol greeted us. Interesting dark sun spots and the intensely hot, white faculae were changing daily. The all-enveloping "rice-grain" effect was momentarily rearranging itself.

And through the spectroscopic the solar light was spread out into a long ribbon of most exquisitely beautiful colors, ranging from deep red at one end on through orange, yellow, green, and blue to rich violet at the other end. Dark lines crossing this rainbow band indicated the various substances in the sun's atmosphere.

Whether this was due to continued exposure to the sun's genial warmth and health-giving properties, or to the beautiful effects viewed through the instruments, or to the contact with eager and surprised youthful minds — or to all combined — was not certain. But as never before, it seemed almost fitting to join in the devotions of the ancient sun worshippers and exclaim: "Almighty and glorious! Ruler of our earth! From Thee come life and light. Thy smile brings the vapors from the sea and bids all things to grow. Without Thee darkness and death would come to all life. Resplendent and wonderful Thou art!"

Veteran Hovers On High Ledge

Erle, Pa. (AP)—The veterans Administration hospital took steps Monday to guard against escapes similar to a week-end escapade in which a 22-year-old Korean War veteran broke through a window and clambered onto a seventh floor ledge where he hovered for hours.

Hundreds of horror stricken persons watched Joseph Spiegel, 22, of McKeesport, Pa., skip along the four foot ledge. It was nearly 10 hours after he cut through a mesh window in the psychiatric ward that he was captured early Sunday. When he wasn't on the ledge he clambered to the roof of the eight-story hospital.
