

Fire Protection Voted Industry Outside City

Fire protection for two industries located outside the city limits was approved by the city council Monday night upon payment of the required fees for a contract with the city. One was on application of Leonard G. Hicks for the Hicks Sundry Company, 3080 North River Road. Its property valuation is placed at $68,000 and the fee was calculated at $150.98. Fire Chief E. L. Smith approved the request. The other was for Worth Pette Company, which was for renewal of a contract that ex-

Hutchins Wins Right to Build

Against a motion to reconsider previous action, the city council Monday night again gave Kenneth Hutchins, 2514 North Front street, the green light to go ahead with construction of a building to house his body and fender business on North Commercial between Hickory and Tryon. But a petition of residents to have the zone changed from business to residential classification when the zoning code is revised was referred to the planning and zoning commission.

The council two weeks ago voted Hutchins the right to go ahead, the council acting under a new ordinance whereby the council passes on applications for building permits in places where zone changes are probable under the new code. Property owners, led last night by Mrs. Marion Elliott and Leonard Elliott, brought in a petition requesting that the area, which is now Class III business, be changed to R-1 residential under the new code. Although the petition did not say so, they told the council they objected to Hutchins' business. Mr. Elliott said the district was not developed as a business area. Hutchins said he didn't think all signers of the petition objected to his business.

Robert Powell, speaking for the zoning commission, said he thought that under the new code the area would be classified about as it is now. Alderman David O'Hara moved for reconsideration of the previous approval of Hutchins' application, but his motion was voted down.

Mrs. Harriet Ness Ruff appealed to the council to give her a permit to go ahead with construction of several residences in Broadmoor Addition, regardless of the fact that the new zoning code has it checked for an industrial area, but the council refused. The vote was 5 to 4. She said she and associates had invested all their money in the project, and she thought the council's stand was discriminatory.

North Howell

North Howell — Earl McCollum, who is just completing his sophomore year in agriculture at OSC is on the honor roll for the second year. Candidates for the first half scholarships offered by various organizations in North Howell were, Sewing 4, Georgia Schaap, sponsored by the Home Economics club; Sewing 6, Kathleen Howe, sponsored by the PTA; Homemaking, Jean Dunn, by the Home Extension unit; sweepstakes in art, Gordon Stevens, by Mrs. Grace Schon, and forestry, Dick Bartsch, sponsored by the PTA.

Recent callers at the L.R. Sawyer home were Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Downey, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wiesner of Salem and Donna Sawyer also spent the week-end with her grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bump are announcing the birth of their first granddaughter, born May 3, to Mr. and Mrs. Scott Clevenger of The Dalles. The Bumps have five grandsons. Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wiesner and children were Portland visitors early last week.

North Howell PTA will meet at the school house May 13 at 8 p.m. instead of May 15, because of school graduation at Gervais that night.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set. Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and let you how I received this wonderful relief.

Award Goes To J. C. Drury

James C. Drury, a resident of Salem, professor of marketing at New York University's School of Commerce, Accounts, and Finance, received a 25-year service award on Thursday, April 30. Professor Drury was honored with six of his colleagues during the annual dinner of the School of Commerce Alumni association.

He is a graduate of NYU where he received his BCS, MA, and MCS degrees. Professor Drury joined the NYU faculty in 1928. Co-author of the text, "Outlines of Marketing," Professor Drury is a frequent contributor to various trade papers and has given radio talks in Salem, Oregon, Boston, Mass., Columbus, Ohio, and New York City. He has aided the American Arbitration association and the National War Labor Board in the settling of labor disputes. He has also served as consultant for many business concerns and has done extensive travel throughout the United States, studying wholesale food and primary terminal markets. His study of cooperatives has taken him through a number of European countries.

Outstanding Record By 2 Woodburn Cows

Two registered Jersey cows in the Endee Farm herd, owned by Newton Davis, route 1, Woodburn, have received special recognition for their outstanding production records made on herd improvement registry test.

Foster Farm Peggy produced 10,802 pounds milk containing 657 pounds butterfat at the age of 12 years and 3 months, and Endee Royal Dreamit produced 10,493 pounds milk containing 570 pounds butterfat at age of two years and nine months. In terms of production records made at a mature age of 6 years on a twice-daily-milking, 305-day basis, these records both exceed 650 pounds butterfat.

The official tests were made under the supervision of Oregon State college for The American Jersey Cattle club, Columbus, Ohio.

Termites can live 30 years or more.

Taxicab Fares $1 Flat From Airport Downtown

Taxicab fares from Salem airport to the downtown district will be a flat $1 per person instead of a metered rate by an ordinance enacted by the city council Monday night. Heretofore the metered rate has been about $1.35 from the airport to the downtown hotels for the first fare, plus 10 cents each additional fare.

The new rate will be a flat $1 per person from the airport to any downtown point bounded by 12th, Trade and Union Streets and the river. No one appeared to object when public hearings were called on two zone changes for business purposes so the council passed the ordinances. One involves the property at the southeast corner of Capital and Jefferson where a real estate office is set up. The other changes from a Capitol zone to restricted business zone property on the north side of Court between Cottage and Winter where a tea room and restaurant will be operated.

Another bill passed changes the name Hayesville Drive to Lila Lane. Ordinance bills introduced included: Providing a new and complete plumbing code and creating the office of plumbing inspector, a public hearing to be held June 8. Permitting the installation of a parking area on the parking strip on the West side of 14th street south of Bellevue in front of Honeywood Inc. Granting permission to erect five additional dwellings on the north half of the south-east quarter of Block 70, North Salem addition.
