

McCamant Is New Moderator

Delegates to the 108th annual meeting of the Congressional Conference of Oregon Wednesday afternoon elected Rev. Thomas McCamant moderator of the organization. He is pastor of Waverly Heights church of Portland and succeeds C. W. Harris of Condon.

Mrs. James Chinn of Portland was named assistant moderator; Rev. Stanley Knott, Highland church, Portland, re-elected secretary and Rev. Albert F. King, Beaverton, conference preacher.

The new board of directors include: Mrs. Paul G. Dickey, Oceanlake; C. W. Harris, Condon; Rev. Seth R. Huntington, Salem; C. C. Corey, Cedar Hills; Rev. Duane M. Nicol, Parkrose, Portland; Rev. John H. Spaur, Brethren German, Portland; Homer Walz, Forest Grove and Mrs. R. T. Titus, First church, Portland.

A resolution favoring the admission to the United States of 250,000 refugees during the next three years was adopted as was one commending Dr. Walter C. Giersbach for his work at Pacific. Dr. Giersbach recently resigned the post. Financial support in the amount of $2500 was voted Pacific.

East Salem

East Salem — Only the reports of the 4-H leaders who are judging record books for the clubs which were a part of the county unit this past club year are still to be made known to the members.

Swegle had three clubs this year for the first time in several years, having some ribbon winners. Five members of the Cooking club which had both boys and girls enrolled, had exhibits; Mary Gilman, muffins; Margaret Gilman, drop cookies; Jerry Gibb, muffins; Allen Gardner, drop cookies and Dennis Kruger, cup cakes. Dennis was awarded a blue ribbon for his cakes and Margaret Gilman a blue for her cookies and both will exhibit at the state fair. Allen Gardner has a red ribbon for his cookies.

Their leaders were Mrs. Keith LaDus and Mrs. Royal Wenig.

Four boys who were in the woodworking club entered exhibits, Steven Holler, Douglas Harner, Oliver Olson, Stanley Masters and Michael LaDus. Michael was given a red ribbon and Steven and Douglas white ribbons. They exhibited shoe shine kits, door stops and tool chests. Their leaders were Mrs. Harold Holler and V. M. LaDus.

Auburn clubs also received special awards. From the Auburn Cookettes club Mary Feshens and Arlene Maas received white ribbons for sponge cakes; Sandra Maas, an independent in sewing III, received a blue ribbon; Marybelle Starr, an independent in cooking, received a red ribbon for her bread exhibit and a blue for her bread baking demonstration, and Sandra Maas a red for modeling her skirt in the style show.

Auburn school also placed third in the four-room school division of the parade. Mrs. Dale Sullivan was the Cooking club leader and she is assisting in the judging of record books.

Mrs. Fred Smalley and Mrs. Harvey Page were co-hostesses for the Tuesday morning coffee hour of neighbors at the Smalley home on Ellsworth avenue. Guests were Mrs. Don V. Gribakow, Mrs. Warren Miller, Mrs. Virgil Miles, Mrs. J. W. McCrea, Mrs. Don Maus, Mrs. Dale Mallecat, Mrs. Lester Orton, Mrs. William Hartley and the hostesses.

Nearly half of Italy's 7,000 towns and villages have trouble getting enough water because of the high cost of aqueducts and waterworks.
