

Memorable Big Inning Puts Bums in Flag Mood

By CARL LUNDQUIST

New York (AP) — The most memorable big inning in Philadelphia since the 1929 World Series put the Dodgers back into a pennant mood today.

Swinging savagely against lefty ace Curt Simmons and four successors, the Brooks pounded out 12 runs in the eighth inning to set two new Major League marks and tie a third in a 16-3 humiliation of the Phillies yesterday.

The battling Brooks scored all of their 12 runs before an out was made to top a previous major league mark of 11 set by Detroit against the Yankees in 1925. The use of five pitchers by the Phils in one inning tied a third record.

Other setbacks The rally recalled the famed seventh inning of the 1929 World Series at Philadelphia when the Athletics, trailing 8-0, poured over 10 runs against the Cubs to win the game.

Brooklyn batted for 44 minutes sending up 16 men. There were seven hits and six walks in the spree.

Junior Gilliam and Duke Snider each hit two doubles for Brooklyn and Billy Cox got four singles as reliever Johnny Podres gained his first big league win. Despite the heavy hitting it marked the first game this year in which neither the hit a homer.

A Long Score The Giants kept up their fast

How can Life Insurance help you while you are living?

Through its living benefits; you don't have to die to win

For example, over two billion dollars were paid to living policyholders last year by the life insurance companies—more than six million dollars every day of the year.

These "living" benefits include endowments, annuities, and disability payments, which help meet a variety of situations.

They can provide a college education for the children, a plan for happy retirement years or the paying off of the mortgage.

Then, too, policy values can help buy a home, start a business, pay for an illness, "bridge a gap," establish credit, take care of unusual responsibilities.

In all these ways, and through the protection it gives your family, life insurance contributes to perhaps the greatest benefit—your own peace of mind.

Today 86% of all the money paid out to policyholders and beneficiaries in the United States by life insurance companies is for "living" benefits.
