

Walla Walla Youth for WU

Robert R. Allen, Walla Walla high school senior, has been named recipient of the second Union Carbide scholarship awarded at Willamette university. President G. Herbert Smith announced.

Effective in September, the scholarship will cover the complete cost of tuition for a full four year academic course and provide reasonable allowances for the necessary books and fees.

The scholarship assignee plans to major in chemistry at Willamette. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Allen of Walla Walla and is valedictorian of the senior class, president of the National Honor Society, Westminster fellowship and master of DeMolay.

In March, Willamette was selected as the only college in the Northwest and one of 24 schools in the United States to participate in the Union Carbide educational fund which provides undergraduate scholarships and grants-in-aid to a limited number of liberal arts and technical colleges in the United States.

No Action on Grazing Bill

Washington (AP)—The task of deciding what to do about a highly controversial new public lands grazing bill still faced House and Senate interior affairs subcommittees Tuesday.

The House Subcommittee Monday concluded hearings on the legislation which began last Wednesday, but it took no action on the measure.

The Senate hearing was shorter—just one day for both those who want the bill and those who don't like it.

Subcommittee chairman Dworshak (R., Idaho) said, however, his group will wait for reports on the bill from the Agriculture and Interior Departments, and after that will call department officials for testimony.

Court Awards Death Benefits

San Francisco (AP)—The U.S. Ninth Court of Appeals Monday awarded death benefits of $1,136 plus weekly payments of $30.63 to the widow of an Oregon laborer who disappeared in the Columbia river five years ago.

The laborer, Clayton May, disappeared from a barge near The Dalles while shoveling sand.

His widow, Mrs. Luella May and her three children were denied compensation 15 months ago by the Portland Federal District Court because the man's body was never found.

In reversing Judge Fee's decision, the Ninth Court said "infallibility of judgment is not required in such cases" and that it was "a reasonable assumption" that May drowned accidentally.
