30-Minute Free-for-All Sparks Game at Tri-City

(By The Associated Press) The Salem Senators, combining 17 hits with a heaping measure of oratory and fielding, whacked Tri-City, 19-7, in the feature game of the Western International League baseball schedule Thursday night.

Although only two players got the thumb, the knock-down, drag-out contest gave the fans, as an added attraction, a 30-man free-for-all in the fifth after Nick Pesut was hit by one of Jack Hemphill's offerings.

Salem and Tri-City play again tonight at Kennewick, Saturday the two teams move to Salem to renew their bitter rivalry in a Memorial day split doubleheader at Waters park. The afternoon game starts at 2 o'clock, the night game at 8:15.

Pesut, Tri-City backstop, stormed to the mound and started throwing wild punches at Hemphill. The rest of the two squads joined in the party and the donnybrook hit full stride until the umpires, tiring of the mayhem, called on the law to break up the battle.

Pesut got the gate, to join Ray Tran, who was chased in the fourth for protesting too long and two loud over a third called strike.

The Senators scored nine times in the first to get all the runs they needed.

The free-for-all at Kennewick came on the heels of an edict by League President Bob Brown banning profanity on the field of play. Brown said he had instructed all umpires to give players using off-color words the tie-ho.

Explaining his stand, Brown said: "I would much rather see one ball player take a punch at another than swear at him."

Action around the rest of the circuit was considerably milder, with Calgary bopping Spokane, 10-9, Yakima whipping Victoria, 10-3, Vancouver shading Wenatchee 5-3 and Leviston taking a 4-3 verdict over Edmonton in ten innings.

The Vancouver Capitanos jumped off with three runs in the first frame to get all the runs they needed to defeat Wenatchee, the ninth straight loss for the Chiefs. Wenatchee put two runs across in the sixth but the rally faded before any damage could be done.

Leviston's win over Edmonton was credited to Manager Bill Brenner, who limited the Eskimos to six hits in going the distance for the league-leading Broncs. The game was pushed into the extra inning when Sam Kanelos boomed out a three-run homer in the last of the eighth to knot the score at three-all. An error by Kanelos and a triple by Ken Richardson gave the Broncs their fourth run in the top of the 10th.

Victoria's win streak was halted at three by its loss to the Yakima Bears, who combined 13 hits and three Victoria errors for the win. Jack Rial, who went the distance for the Bears, held the Tyees to seven safeties, including a two-run homer by Nap Gully.

Calgary had little trouble with Spokane. The Stampedeers pounded out 23 hits off two Spokane pitchers as Jerry Lewinson went the route for the winners. Calgary put the game on ice with six runs in the eighth. There were four homers, by Charlie Mead and Jim Mellinger of Calgary and Bill Sheets, Stan Palys and Wilbur Johnson of Spokane.

Matson Tops Field in Sixth Army Track Meet

Fort Lewis, Wash. (AP)—Ollie Matson, the fleet, ex-University of San Francisco football star, tops a field of three Olympic stars entered by Fort Ord, Calif., in the Sixth Army track and field meet here Friday and Saturday.

Matson, who ran the quarter-mile for the U. S. Olympic squad last year, will be teamed with Olympic Broad Jumper George Brown and Bob Millan, Olympic javelin thrower. Also on the Fort Ord team is George Roseme, national javelin champ from the University of California.

Another top-flight performer to be on hand is Willie Mack, the national AAU mile champion from Michigan State. He will be running for Madigan Army Hospital.

Perez Meets Glen Flanagan

New York (AP)—Lulu Perez, a fast-rising featherweight from Brooklyn, makes his big time debut against ring wise Glen Flanagan of St. Paul tonight in a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Promoted into the national rankings only this week, Perez is favored at 13 to 5 for the fight, which will be broadcast and televised nationally.

PCC to Use Own Method of Picking Rose Bowl Team

Champaign, Ill. (AP)—The Big Ten was set today to extend the Rose Bowl contract for another three years, but it wanted to use its own method to determine which conference team shall compete.

Faculty representatives voted yesterday, presumably by the anticipated margin of 6 to 4, to accept the invitation from the Pacific Coast Conference to renew the contract.

However, apparently because of requests from Illinois and Purdue to change the method of selection of the team, the negotiating committee selected to iron out details of the contract was directed to attempt to secure an arrangement whereby each conference picks its representative on its own terms.

The current contract requires that no team from either conference play more often than once in two years. Under the original five year contract the Pacific Coast sent its champion annually while no Big Ten team could compete more often than once in three years.

Both Illinois and Purdue favored the "one in three" clause and hoped to write it into the new renewal of the agreement.

Most Cascade Lakes Open Up On Saturday

(By The Associated Press)

Oregon's trout season will be expanded Saturday with the opening of most Cascade Mountain lakes.

The State Game Commission warns, however, that many of the high lakes still are snow-bound or caked with ice. It advises anglers to contact the Forest Service or the Highway Department before entering the mountains.

At Bend, it's reported that most Central Oregon high mountain lakes are iced or snowed in. Fishing probably will be limited to Crane Prairie Reservoir and Wickiup Reservoir and Deschutes River spots, all of which are open and easily accessible.

Under 1953 Oregon fishing regulations, May 30-September 30 is the general open season for lakes, reservoirs and their tributaries within national forest boundaries in the Cascades.

College Playoffs Start Today

Los Angeles (AP)—Southern California, San Diego State and Seattle university clash at Bovard field today in a double elimination tourney to determine who will meet the Pacific Coast Conference north-south baseball winner.

At the same time, Stanford will be playing Oregon in the north-south PCC playoffs at Stanford in a best two-out-of-three series.

Widmar Wins 10th for Seattle; Bevos Rained Out

Seattle (AP)—Al Widmar, ace pitcher with the Seattle Rainiers, was half-way toward his second straight 20 victory season in the PCL today and the Sads again enjoyed a 3 1/2-game margin over second place Los Angeles.

Seattle Al became the first hurler in the open loop to win 10 games this year when he baffled the Sacramento Solons last night with a five-hitter for a 2-0 triumph.

Bamberger Shines

Another sparkling performance was turned in by Oakland's George Bamberger, who five-hit San Francisco 1-0 and turned off the latest Acorn losing streak at four straight.

Joe Muir outthrew Bill Moisan in the night's third mound duel in Los Angeles as Hollywood clipped Los Angeles, 3-2. That marked the third game of their present crosstown rhuubarb that has been settled by a 3-2 margin. Wet grounds forced postponement of the Portland-San Diego game in bordertown.

The only Solon who could solve Widmar's prancing knuckle ball was Bob Dillinger, who slugged two of them for singles like the .300 batter he is.

Powerhouse Walt Judnich figured in all the Seattle scoring, as usual. In the second inning he singled to center to bring in Leo Thomas, who had gone to second when loser Ken Gables made a wild throw on his bunt. In the ninth Judnich crashed a Milo Canisani serve for a triple and scored on Merrill Combs' out-

East Lake Road Is Impassable

Bend (AP)—Snow has rendered the road to East lake impassable to opening day fishermen, the U. S. Forest service reminded today.

The forest service said the lake will be "shut tight" this week-end. It reported the four-mile section from Paulina to East lake was impassable to all vehicles.

Paulina lake will be accessible over a one-way road. But anglers were warned camping facilities were almost non-existent. Chains and shovels are required equipment on the trip into the lake.

Here is the week-end fishing outlook, by district:

Northwest—Mt. Hood area streams continue high, turbid with poor prospects. North Willamette Valley streams high, muddy, prospects poor. Fishing slow on McKenzie and Willamette rivers fair at Dorena Reservoir and Triunfo Lake. Willamette National Forest lakes should be good in accessible. Improved fishing on coastal streams and lakes.

West—Central and South Coastal waters are high, turbid, and prospects poor. Outlook same as Rogue and Umpqua areas.

Central—Fair to good prospects on accessible lakes and streams.

Northeast—Recent heavy rains have raised and muddied most streams, but the Minam and Upper Umatilla rivers are clear. Some good catches have been made on the Upper Grande Ronde River and at Wallows Lake, but fishing generally has been poor.

Southeast—Angling has been poor because of storms, but if weather remains favorable, streams should be clear enough to produce fair results this week-end.

USC Favored to Win 13th Straight PCC Track Crown

Palo Alto, Calif. (AP)—Southern California's unbeaten Trojans are favored to win their 13th straight Pacific Coast Conference track and field championship at Stanford Stadium this week-end.

Qualifying preliminaries were scheduled Friday in the sprints and hurdles, with all finals Saturday.

Two of USC's brightest stars are World Record-breaker Parry O'Brien in the shot put and Huge Sim Iness in the discus. Iness is still hindered by a knee injury, making O'Brien a probable winner in both events.

The meet will be a farewell to sports for Stanford's two-time Olympic decathlon champion, Bob Mathias. He is entered in both hurdles, the shot put and discus.

Mathias, the world's greatest all-around track and field competitor, will be married soon, then go into the Marine Corps.

UCLA's Rod Richard, with 9.5 in the 100 and 21.1 in the 220, is a probable double winner. His toughest competition is expected from Bob Gray, Washington State, and Mervin Brock, Oregon State, both 9.6 sprinters, and Jim Lea of USC, 21.1.

The Trojans' Ernie Shelton and Washington State's Howard McCants both are capable of 6 feet-7 in the high jump. UCLA's Len Eilers' 14-foot pole vault and a 24-foot plus broad jump by USC's Verle Sorgen have not been equaled in the conference this year.

Scoring the Hard Way

Detroit pitcher Art Houtteman was out by a mile in the fifth inning at Chicago on Minnie Miñoso's perfect throw to catcher Sherman Lollar, but the young Tiger crashes into Lollar, knocking the ball from his hands and scored. That tied it all up and the game ended after 15 innings in a 2-2 tie. (UP Telephone)

Portland to Levy City Tax On Dog Wagers

Portland (AP)—The city of Portland was legally prepared today to begin collections of 1 1/2 per cent of bets waged at Multnomah County Kennel club's dog races.

Councilmen yesterday approved a 1 1/2 per cent tax in the form of an ordinance, which became effective immediately, but date of actual collections was not known.

It was not known whether the tax would be challenged in the courts. Murray Kemp, manager of the club, said he had not yet conferred with the club's attorney, and would not say what action the group will take. Kemp said he is in sympathy with the city's financial problems.

The city stands to gain some $150,000 for the current budget through the tax. It would go for "undistributed salary adjustments."
