

'Copter Pilot Falls to Death

Portland (AP)—A helicopter pilot crashed to his death in the Columbia river Wednesday after running into a power line. It was a Bonneville Power Administration helicopter, returning to Vancouver, Wash., after delivering some electrical parts to Portland. The pilot, John D. Shield, 38, Portland, was killed instantly.

Witnesses said he apparently did not see the Portland General Electric power line running from the Oregon shore to Tomahawk Island. The helicopter tipped over and fell 75 feet into the water.

Shield was a World War II veteran and in 1948-49 was recalled to service as a lieutenant-colonel at Ft. Lewis. The widow in Portland and his mother in Los Angeles survive.

East Salem

East Salem—Sunday, Aug. 2, is the date for two family picnics which are planned annually for members of clubs, one in Middle Grove and one in Swegle communities.

Members of the Amittie club will hold their picnic at noon in Dallas city park. Swegle Woman's club dinner will be held this year at Silverton city park.

Two baby daughters have been born to mothers who have been Swegle community girls and grandparents are neighbors on Lancaster Rd.

Born Thursday, July 23, at Salem General hospital to Mr. and Mrs. John F. Brown (Norma Jane Conklin) was a daughter who weighed 7 lbs. and 9 oz. and has been given the name Kathleen Jane. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Conklin of Swegle community; Mrs. P. L. Bland of Salem and John F. Brown, Sr. of Talbot. The Browns moved from Swegle to Evergreen Ave. She is their first child.

The other daughter is that of Mr. and Mrs. Verle A. Klampe who live on Weather St. Their daughter was named Susan Kay. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Klampe of Brooks and Mr. and Mrs. Herman S. Smith of Swegle and great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Quinn of Swegle Rd. and Mrs. Berta Bloomfield of Couer l'Alene, Idaho. She is the second child of the Klampes.

Mrs. Warren Miller was hostess for a Tuesday morning coffee at her Fisher Rd. home. In for the hour were Mrs. Lester Orton, Mrs. John McCrea, Mrs. Fred Smaley, Sr., Mrs. Dale Mallicoat, Mrs. Robert Brown, Mrs. Don Maus, Mrs. Virgil Miller, Mrs. Fred Smaley, Jr., Mrs. Jerry Horn and the hostess.

Another home in Swegle community that is being remodeled this summer with the addition of one room and a double garage is that of the Melvin LaDues on Hollywood Dr.

DRIVER LOSES APPEAL

Albany—An order denying the petitioned new trial of Glenn Albert Brown was issued Wednesday by Circuit Judge Victor Olliver. Brown was convicted on a drunken driving charge in city court Dec. 31, 1952 and appealed to circuit court, where he was found guilty May 11, 1953.
