Radio-Television

By DAVE BLACKMER

B. Mike's column in the Oregon Journal written by William Moyes Tuesday discloses a possibility of an immediate grant for a second TV station in Salem on channel 3. Presently channel 3 is being contested by Willamette-Land, Inc. (Gordon Allen) and Glenn McCormick of KSLM. Moyes says that Allen is about to file a petition with the FCC late this week asking permission to withdraw its application in favor of the other contestant, McCormick.

McCormick will follow the customary procedure and reimburse Allen and associates for the expenses to date on channel 3.

Quick action is given to matters of this nature by the FCC and an almost immediate grant could be had on channel 3 by McCormick.

Channel 3 being VHF would pass the coverage of UHF channel 24 if the 3 channel is properly located and powered. Anyway, it's Salem television in the making.

Our friend Nat "King" Cole wasn't kidding when he told Tele-Views several months ago that he would rather make guest appearances than go on television with a full time program.

Over the week-end the "King" was singing in all three downtown theaters. . . . At the Elsinore, Nat sang his "Blue Gardenia" in a picture with the same name while at the Capital in a three dimension short Cole was called on to sing a pair of songs including his famous "Pretend."

At the Grand, Nat was singing in a night club in the picture "Small Town Girl."

So Nat "King" Cole fans should have had a terrific time if they got to catch the respective cinemas with the great singer in them. . . .

Tele-Views got to see the 3-D picture with Cole in it and tonight, as a faithful Cole man, we're off to see the Blue Gardenia. . . .

Tacoma's channel 13 (VHF) which recently went on the air is reported to have been received in Salem Monday. Bill Marr, Marr Radio and Television company, informs Tele-Views that the signal from the Washington city is coming in "very good" with a trombone antenna. . . .

Tele-Views urges everyone to try their VHF band 2-13 and see what you can pick up on your set. . . .

Morse Delays Adjournment

Washington (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, in the last speech before the adjournment of the Senate Monday night, continued his denunciation of the Eisenhower administration power policies. He singled out Interior Secretary McKay as "Giveaway McKay, the philanthropic Oregonian whose specialty is hydro-power bargain bazaars conducted for the absentee stock holders of the big power companies."

In the past the Oregon senator has criticized McKay for withdrawing Interior Department support for a high federal dam at Hells Canyon on the Snake River.

Morse said the "Eisenhower-McKay crusade set out to wreck Hells Canyon" and he contended the administration is "scuttling the generation-old federal power policy so rapidly that it is impossible to run down all its marauding activities."

Among these activities he listed "the wholesale power contracts with nine private utility companies which are under consideration by the secretary of the interior." Some of the provisions in these contracts which relate to resale rates, Morse said, demonstrate "the disaster that threatens the people and the economy of the Northwest."

Repairs Being Made To School Buildings

A maintenance force of the Salem school district is currently engaged in making the customary repairs to the various buildings in preparation for the opening of the 1953-54 term—next September 21.

Few major projects are involved. The Robert's grade building is being remodeled so that two large rooms and a smaller one will be available. An extension to the rear of the structure and a remodeled entrance is involved.

Painting of several rooms of the North Salem high school is in progress. A section of the roof is being replaced.

The Lincoln (Polk county) building has had its bell tower removed. The bell has been given to the community club there.

BEFORE ADJOURNMENT, A SPEECH

No Decision On Quarters

The Marion County Welfare Commission did not reach a decision Monday afternoon in connection with its proposal to secure new quarters, but it is anticipated an agreement will be reached during a conference to be held August 10.

In the meantime, Kenneth Peterson, administrator, reiterates the statement that the commission is anxious to consider all concrete proposals on the part of interested persons and urges that their proposals be submitted at once.

The commission has before it several tenders concerning locations fairly close to the new court house. However, a few of the interested parties have submitted specific details.

It is probable the commission will accept an offer that will consist of a property owned or erected by a building adapted to the needs of the organization which has a personnel of approximately 35 individuals. Approximately 5000 square feet of space on a single floor is desired.

Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind., Ore.), in the presidential room off the senate floor tonight, waves his arms, talking to newsmen about his speaking plans that have changed the hour of congress' adjournment. Morse said when he went back to the senate chamber he intended to make a speech. Morse holds the senate talkathon record with a speech of 22 hours and 26 minutes. Earlier, congress had planned to adjourn at about 5 or 6 p.m. (EDT). (AP Wirephoto)

Baruch Urges Alert on Russia

Milwaukee (AP)—Elder Statesman Bernard Baruch said Tuesday if Russia doesn't start disarming within a year, "we must step up our arming, even if it means increasing taxes."

In an address prepared for delivery at the 54th annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Baruch said:

"I sympathize fully with the need to cut taxes and government spending. But let us not deceive ourselves that large reductions can be made in our armed forces without weakening our position in peace negotiations." "We must watch what the Soviet leaders do," he said. "If the year ahead does not bring a significant cut in Soviet armament then, and I cannot stress this too strongly, then we must step up our arming, even if it means increasing taxes."

Rites Set for Crash Victim

Albany — Services will be held at the Fisher Funeral home at 11 a.m. Wednesday for Mrs. Donald K. Deardorff, who was killed Friday night when the automobile containing herself and husband was involved in a collision on U.S. Highway 20 a mile and a half west of the Albany bridge. Mr. Deardorff is still in a serious condition at the Albany General hospital.

Mrs. Arthur Christianson, Mrs. Deardorff's sister, both of Kenmore, N.D., are enroute here to join another sister, Mrs. Ludwig Bomsd, Vancouver, Wash., to participate in the services.

Charles Blake, 25, Pine St., Lebanon, passenger in the car driven by Erdley Dee Williams, Corvallis, suffered a broken hip, and was still confined to the local hospital. Williams was less seriously hurt than at first believed. He was transferred to a Corvallis hospital.
