

Candalaria Area Shopping Center Building Completed

Grabenhorsts Add New Structure, Parking Lot

Four businesses have already occupied the new building just completed in the Candalaria Shopping District adjoining the residential district of this name just west of South Commercial.

They are the Allen Hardware company store 141 Alice; Chapman Drug Store, 143 Alice; Kennedy Dry Cleaners, 145 Alice, and Frank Sullivan's Barber Shop, 140 Candalaria boulevard. The other two spaces in the 212x30-foot building will have addresses of 142 and 144 Candalaria.

4 Businesses Already Open

The building was designed by James L. Payne, Salem architect, and built by the Mills Construction company as general contractors. Work has been under way for the past 90 days.

The structure is faced with attractive brick, with large show windows and a marquee. It faces toward Commercial, and a paved parking area with space for 51 cars, in addition to parking already available adjacent to the other stores in the district.

These are Erickson's super market, Frank's House of Carpets, Ermel's Colonial Furniture, and Barclay's Dairy Queen.

The new building is owned by the Candalaria Investment company, in which the Grabenhorst family are interested.

Allen Hardware Co., a well known business name in downtown Salem for the past 30 years, has established its first branch in this building, with a big stock which features light hardware, with special stress on the needs of home gardeners.

Liquor Receipts in State $11,665,287

This firm was founded by the late George E. Allen. His son Reynolds Allen is now proprietor, and Bill Williams is manager of the Candalaria store. He was previously with the downtown store. He has lived in Salem six years. He will be assisted by Karl Rehm and James Davis.

Cities, counties and the general fund of the state received $11,665,287.24 from Oregon liquor control commission revenues during the fiscal year ending June 30.

The commission reports $9,665,895 was distributed to the general fund, $1,032,647 to incorporated cities, and $956,745 to Oregon counties.

Oregon law provides that the general fund share in liquor receipts, license fees and privilege tax collections. Cities and counties receive a portion of license fees and privilege taxes, and cities also receive five per cent of available funds from liquor receipts, distributed according to population.
