

Garden Club Meets At White Residence

Mrs. Halvorson invited club members to visit her gardens when the early English varieties will be blooming the middle of October, and again while the later varieties bloom approximately the second week in November. She was the sweepstakes winner in the Portland show last fall, receiving 48 ribbons, including 3 grand prizes on her 50 entries.

Club members were invited to come early in the evening Wednesday to see the many beautiful flowers in the spacious gardens at the White residence.

Special guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Halvorson, Silverton; Mrs. Mary Albright, Miss Kreta Albright, Mrs. Ernest Brosig, Mrs. Olga Rogan

Garden Club's Herb Tea Said Success

Lebanon—The 16th annual herb tea of the Lebanon Garden club last Saturday in the Peter F. Smith garden attracted more than 150 guests, many from out of town. Favours at the registration table were small vials of herb salad vinegar and a wide choice of plant slips.

Mrs. L. W. Franks, Redmond, state Garden Clubs president, was introduced and spoke on federation work and projects of individual clubs.

Edible wild plants and their uses in salads, jellies, greens and various unique dishes were described by Mrs. Lester Muntz, Sweet Home, chair man of the state club's wildlife committee.

Another exhibit loaned by Miss Alena Jacobsen of the Oregon herb society depicted the making of herb dyes.

At the tea table, fresh herbs provided the basis for individual brewing; tea made of blended herbs was poured, as was herb punch, and herb sandwiches and cookies were served.
