later closing time will undoubtedly mean more birds bagged. A Wilson's snipe or jacksnipe season will run from October 27 to November 7, with eight birds a day or in possession the limit. Snipe are a sporting bird for there ever was one, and it will take a fast-swinging, cool-nerved shotgunner to fill out his limit of this little stubble-jumper.

All-Star Contest Set for August 22; City Boys Seek Tie

Portland — With both squads boasting speed and passing the 6th annual Shrine All-Star football game... "football's finest hour"—here Saturday night in Multnomah stadium promises to be one of the most thrilling contests in the young but action-packed history of the grid classic.

The game pits outstanding 1953 prep stars of Portland high schools against the top high school performers from all other schools in Oregon. Pete Susick of Marshfield high is head coach of the State squad and Harry Scarff of Portland's Central Catholic directs the Portland eleven.

The kick-off will be preceded by the largest pageant ever staged in Multnomah stadium, starting at 7:40 p.m. Chet Duncan, pageant director, reports that approximately 50 units, including bands and marching teams, will take part in the spectacle, to be climaxed by the massed bands playing the national anthem.

The State All Stars will enter the contest with a 3 to 2 edge in the series, having won the opener in 1948, 35-13, and the last two by scores of 20-13 and 12-6. The Portland aggregation captured the games in 1949 and 1950 and will be out to even the series this year.

The two teams have been in Portland since August 9, drilling twice daily for the contest, and because both coaches have placed so much emphasis on passing in the workouts, it's a foregone conclusion that the air will be filled with pigskins when the teams square off.

Quarterbacks Quincy Powers of Marshfield high and Milt Richau of The Dalles are the Staters ace throwers, while the Portland team will depend on two of the finest passers to come out of the city league in many years — Bob Clark of Benson Polytechnic and Ron Stempel of Cleveland.

Proceeds from the game will go to the Shriners' hospital for crippled children in Portland, and will be used to assist in financing the expansion program now on the drawing boards.

Last night's scores: Y M C A 26, Kay Woolen 0. Commercial Seat 8, Postal Clerks 2; First National 14, Mayflower Milk 2.

The YMCA moved back into a first place tie with Wolgamotts last night in the Industrial league by beating Kay Woolen 26-0 behind the one-hit pitching of Burgher.

In other league play Commercial Seat dumped the Postal Clerks 8-2 and First National defeated Mayflower Milk 14-8. Tonight in the Industrial league Commercial Seat takes Kay Woolen in the first game at Phillip's and First Christian meets the Postal Clerks in the nightcap.

After the first several innings in the Y M C A - Kay Woolen game it was no contest. The "Y" broke out in front with four runs in the top of the first, then added five in the second, and 11 in the third. Their other six runs were scored in the fifth.

Burgher lost his no-hitter in the fifth and final inning when Shepard singled with two out. The YMCA knocked out 19 hits off three Kay Woolen pitchers. Commercial Seat scored three runs in the first frame and went on to beat the Postal Clerks 8-2. It took a five-run uprising in the seventh to insure First National of their win over Mayflower Milk.

Rams, Cardinals Boast Oregonians

Portland, Aug. 18 (Special) —Northwest football fans, who got their first glimpse of professional football last year and liked what they saw, can watch the gridiron greats in action again September 7 when the Los Angeles Rams clash with the Chicago Cardinals here at Multnomah stadium. This is a re-match of the game played last year by the same teams, when the Rams wound up with a 24 to 14 victory.

Both teams are ready to embark on their pre-season schedules, but by the time they reach Portland they will have had several games under their belt. Word from the Cardinal training camp at Lake Forest, Ill., indicates that two former Oregonians have been the stand-out rookies in practice. Coach Joe Stydahar recently singled out end Jim Cordial of Oregon State and guard Emmett Williams of Oregon for their work in an intra-squad game and said they will both see action against the Rams. Norm Van Brocklin, ex-University of Oregon All-American, is a member of the Los Angeles Rams team.

FOOTBALL MEETING
A meeting will be held tonight at 7 at Sacred Heart high school for all boys interested in playing football this fall. Drills will begin next Monday.

WAIVE ON OREGON MEN
Chicago (AP) — The Chicago Cardinals Tuesday asked National Football League waivers on six linemen, including end Jim Cordial, Oregon State, and guard Emmett Williams, Oregon.

Archers Entered In Salem Tourney

Over 400 archers participated in the Northwest Sectional Archery Tournament in Salem over the week-end. Marge Anglin of Salem topped all Salem archers as she scored 848 points to win the women's freestyle title.

Chuck Edwards of Seattle won the men's freestyle championship while Don Rajnus of Klamath Falls captured the men's instinctive division title. The winner in the women's instinctive class was Margaret Hathaway of Washington.

The junior boy championship was won by Milo Nelson of Dallas. Sharon Pitzer of Dallas won the girl's junior title while Al Bundt of Washington was the winner in the pee-wee division.

The results in the men's division were: freestyle expert A—Chuck Edwards, Bill Stewart, Buck Dunn; freestyle expert B—Bob Bruce, Vernon Johnson, Bob West; instinctive bowman—Frank Larson, Lewis Johnson; freestyle archer—Michael Straight, Len Webber, J. J. Hauck; instinctive expert A—Don Rajnus, Carl Krause, Sherman Spears. Instinctive expert B—Bernard Straight, Bill Neve, R. L. Park; instinctive bowman—Frank Carson, Lewis Johnson, Dan Powell; instinctive archer—Don Bullington, Grady Fearson.

The women's results were: freestyle expert—Marge Anglin, Sue Neve, Maxine Phillips; freestyle bowman—Maxine Calvert, Peggy Dunn, Betty Norton; freestyle archer—Edna Howatt; instinctive expert—Margaret Hathaway; instinctive bowman—Donna Garrett, Pearl Dickinson, Lela Henshaw; instinctive archer—Cindy Herford, Dorothy Balou, Mary Valentyne.

In 1950, Dodger Manager Burt Shotton told Gil Hodges he was turning his head and taking his eyes off the ball. Manager Charley Dressen repeated the warning again this spring.

Majors Elude Players of PCL

San Francisco (AP) — The aim of all baseball players is to become a star in the Major Leagues.

But many of the stars shining in the Pacific Coast League today never have had a chance at the big time, and they are too old to ever get one.

The best example is the case of Joe Brovis, always one of the top hitters in the PCL in the past war years. Currently Joe, is playing for the Sacramento Solons, is third in the batting race with a .328 mark. He has batted at better than a .400 clip for the past two months and always has been considered by pitchers one of the most feared batsmen in the loop.

Brovis Disappointed
"But I've never had a chance to swing a bat in the Major Leagues," says the disappointed Brovis. "I know I could hit that pitching if I just got a chance. It is one of the great heartbreaks of my career."

Now 31 years old, it is doubtful that Joe ever will get a shot.

Brovis, of course, is only one of many. Take the case of Ray Orteig, catcher for the Seattle Rainiers. "Orteig should get a crack at the majors," says Manager Bobby Bragan of the Hollywood Stars, a backstop himself. "He probably is the most valuable member of the Seattle club, and possibly the most valuable player in the league."

All Star Nine
But Ray's chances are slim, too, because he already is 32 years old. Neither of these men has had any chance to play in the majors. Along with catcher Orteig and outfielder Brovis, here are seven others over 30 years of age who never had a fair trial in the majors who would complete a team:

Al Lien, 37, San Francisco, pitcher; Chuck Stevens, 35, Hollywood, first base; Piper Davis, 37, Oakland, second base; Gene Handley, 37, Hollywood, third base; Artie Wilson, 33, Seattle, shortstop; Frank Kalleher, 37, Hollywood, and Frank Kalin, 32, San Francisco, outfielders.

LA TO JOIN MAJORS?
Los Angeles (AP)—Bill Veech has promised Los Angeles county and city officials that if they can purchase the local baseball park the American League will permit him to bring the St. Louis Browns' major league franchise here next year, the Times said Tuesday.

PITCHER RELEASED
Edmonton (AP)—The Edmonton Eskimos of the Western International League Monday announced the release of pitcher Leon Day, who had a 5-5 record with the Eskimos this season. Edmonton purchased Day from the Toronto Maple Leafs of the St. Louis Browns farm organization.

ARCARO TO RIDE
Chicago (AP)—Eddie Arcaro No. 1 jockey in the nation, was named today to ride Native Dancer in the $100,000 American Derby after Eric Guerin, who has ridden the Dancer in each of his 18 starts, was suspended for 10 days.

OREGON AFIELD
—By Bob Brown—

The Northwest Sectional Field Archery Tourney, held over the week-end at the Jabberwalkie range, was one of the most colorful outdoor get-togethers we have seen in a long time. Everybody was amiable, enthusiastic, and positively "gone" on their sport. Very strict rules were in force to insure safety and fire prevention on the course, which included woods and stubblefield, and the cooperation of the hundreds of archers in observing these rules revealed them to be a fine group of conscientious, safe outdoorsmen.

A recent game commission bulletin commends two Oregon logging companies for their cooperation in cleaning up obstructions from streams. The companies are the United Loggers, who cleaned up Cape creek in Lincoln County, and the Valseltz Lumber Company in Polk County, who improved an area of Gravel Creek. This indication of the logging industry waking up to their responsibilities is very good news, and we hope it is "catching." Too many similar organizations are still aware only of the dollar...
