Friedersdorff charged however, that communist members of the Joint Red Cross teams operating in South Korea have tried to exceed their authority.

He asked the communists to instruct their teams to stay within the bounds of their duties.

One of the returning prisoners today said the communists moved men whom they considered troublemakers from one prison camp to another.

"I was called an instigator," Sgt. Arden A. Rowley, 23, Mesa, Ariz., said. "They moved me around to four different camps since I was captured in 1950."

3 Arrested for Reckless Driving

City police arrested three drivers on reckless driving charges Tuesday — one for trying to outrun an officer, another driving too fast and carelessly with a huge truck and semi-trailer and the third for driving in reverse in a busy area.

John D. Lang, 1655 Nebraska avenue, was arrested by police on the reckless driving charge after he tried to escape a pursuing officer who saw him run a stop sign. He was stopped when he ran into the dead end of Jefferson street off McCoy street. Lang was unable to stop in time and ran off the end of the pavement about 25 yards and onto the railroad right-of-way, the arresting officer reported.

Lang paid a $75 fine in municipal court Wednesday morning on the charge and an additional fine of $250 for having no operator's license.

Milo Arthur Ensminger, Yamhill, was cited to court for driving his large sawdust truck through town in a reckless manner. He explained he was in a hurry.

Ronald Ivan Culver, 3378 Roberts avenue, was arrested after he stopped in the 400 block of South 14th street and then backed his car to the intersection and around the corner for a half block on Mill street shortly before 5 p.m. He spotted a parking spot and was trying to get to it, he told the arresting officer. He paid a $25 fine in municipal court Wednesday morning.

Plan to Restrict UN Conference

United Nations, N.Y. (AP) — The United States sought Latin American support today to curtail a restrictive Far Eastern Political conference.

The U.S. plan was virtually assured of adoption, and the Russian proposals certain of defeat, if the 20 Latin American countries would support the stand taken by U.S. delegate Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr.

The Russian proposals were advanced yesterday during the first full day of debate on setting up the conference. They advocated that the Soviet Union and India be cut in on the Korean peace conference.

Lodge promptly rejected the proposal as "a sleazy maneuver." The Soviet proposals were in direct competition to a series of resolutions offered by the U.N. allies in Korea.

Economy to Rule Housing Projects

Washington, (AP) — The government is under orders not to take on more new tenants than it must and in general to be an economical landlord.

The Budget Bureau yesterday made public new policies on future construction of government housing for military personnel and other employees.

Government construction is to be used only where the job requires it or adequate privately owned quarters are not available.

Housing built must be economical in first cost and maintenance. Apartment types are to be preferred to detached homes.

Phone Strikes Cripple Service in Midwest

(By The Associated Press)

Union-management disputes in the telephone industry dominated the labor scene Wednesday. Major developments included these:

Kansas City — A picket line was formed at the main office of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Kansas City, Mo. The pickets appeared before representatives of the company and the CIO Communications Workers of America were scheduled to meet with federal conciliators in St. Louis in an effort to avert a strike by 53,000 workers in six states.

Indianapolis — Officials of the CWA accused Gov. George named dental school of the University of Oregon, and the acquisition of property for that purpose.

Judge Kimmell wrote: "The pleadings in this case and the evidence, in the final analysis, present for determination and declaration the following issue: Is the dental school, by virtue of the statute, a unit of the higher educational system unit itself under the direct supervision and management of the administrative office of the university acting as an intermediary of the defendant board."

"Such board is granted the same general powers in the operation and management of the dental school as are otherwise granted to it in the management of the University of Oregon."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, chairman of the anti-bias government contract committee, said the president told the freshly commissioned members that he expected "something concrete" from them rather than a "great show" from a publicity standpoint. The committee is empowered to root out hiring discrimination in industries working on government contracts.

"Since the government spends annually on government contracts one-fourth of all the money spent on production in the United States, we can deal with 25 per cent of the problem because we control the purse strings," Nixon said. "The president gave us his full, personal and moral support."
