

Senators Lose in Extra Innings, 4-3

Attendance Gratis At Tonight's Contest

By DAVE CROMWELL

The Salem Senators booted and walked their way last night to a 4-3 defeat at the hands of Edo Vanni's Tri-City Braves in an 11-innings game at Waters park, miffing their chance to move within one-half game of Spokane, which was absorbing their worst defeat of the season at the hands of the Lewiston Broncos.

Eleven must have been the magic number for the Braves, for it was also their first victory in 11 starts. Salem managed to tie the game with single runs in the fifth and seventh after Tri-City went ahead with two runs in the fifth with a single, double, wild pitch, and a Texas leaguer to short left field.

In the eighth stanza Tri-City again went into the lead on a single by the pitcher Robertson and a boot of a ground ball by second sacker Sabatini. The home town team got back into the game in the bottom of the ninth, however, as Essegian singled, Nelson bunted, the short stop dropping the ball on an attempted force, a sacrifice by Dahle, a hit by Sabatini to short right field, in which Essegian scored after the catch from third, thanks to Jess Dobernic. For some unknown reason, the Brave pitcher cut off the relay to home which would have been an almost sure out at the plate and would have ended the game.

As it was, the game went to the eleventh before Tri-City sewed it up with a walk to Warren, a wild throw by Dahle into center field trying for a force at second after Tran sacrificed, and a fly out to right field scoring Warren from third on the tag up. Essegian was the big gun of the evening with four for five trips to the plate. Seem-

Portland Beavers Beat By Seattle in Twin-Bill

Seattle (AP)—The Seattle Rainiers scored a pair of one-run victories over Portland in a PCL doubleheader last night taking the seven-inning opener 4-3 and posting a 5-4 decision in the nightcap with the help of homers by Ray Orteig, Leo Thomas and George Schmees.

Steve Nagy went the distance in the nightcap, pitching a nine-hitter for his 11th victory against seven losses. The Rainiers got 12 hits, nine of them off the starter and loser, Dick Walbe.

Portland picked up one run in the fourth when Herm Reich doubled and eventually scored on a fly ball by Charley Grant. In the sixth, Portland picked up another run when Frank Austin singled behind a pair of walks. Nagy yielded two more runs in the eighth when the Beavers reached him for singles by Jim Gladd, Austin, Don Kolloway and Reich.

Portland out-hit the Rainiers 5 to 3 in the opener, but one of the Seattle hits was Clarence Maddern's home run. Maddern started the Rainier scoring when he slammed Glen Elliott's first pitch of the second inning over the left field wall. Seattle went on to score three more runs that inning.

The Beavers came back with three runs in the sixth. Royce Lint, hitting for Elliott, doubled. Austin walked and Art dumped a short single to center.
