

MRS. WALTER NORBLAD AND ALBIN

NOW GETTING settled in their new home at Stayton are Congressman and Mrs. Walter Norblad and son, Albin, who returned to Oregon recently. Mrs. Norblad, pictured in a corner of the living room with Albin, above, will be honor guest for the coffee parties for which Mrs. Joseph B. Felton and Mrs. Peery T. Buren are to entertain next Wednesday and Thursday. The Norblad home is a charming, rustic log house built at the edge of Stayton in the trees and along the water. They plan to be there until early winter when they will return to Washington, D.C.

2 to Honor Mrs. Norblad At Parties

August's last week is a busy one socially and spotlighted in the week's entertaining is the series of four coffee parties for which Mrs. Joseph B. Felton and Mrs. Peery T. Buren are to entertain on Wednesday and Thursday, at the country home of Judge and Mrs. Felton.

Mrs. Walter Norblad, wife of Congressman Norblad, is to be honor guest for the affairs.

Guests are being invited to call between 10 and 12 on both mornings and between 2 and 4 o'clock in the afternoons.

Pouring Wednesday morning will be Mrs. Paul L. Patterson, Mrs. Charles H. Heltzel. That afternoon, Mrs. Edwin H. Armstrong and Mrs. Richard Upjohn will preside at the coffee urns.

Assisting in serving Wednesday morning will be Mrs. Percy R. Kelly, Mrs. Lee Ohmart, Mrs. Robert W. Fenix, Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, and assisting in the afternoon will be Mrs. James L. Payne, Mrs. Arthur Erickson, Mrs. V. D. McMullen, Mrs. Homer Smith, Jr., Mrs. Richard Jennings.

Pouring Thursday morning will be Mrs. Douglas Hay and Mrs. Estill L. Brunk, and in the afternoon those pouring will be Mrs. Lawrence N. Brown and Mrs. Maurice Heater.

Those assisting Thursday morning include Mrs. Wesley Stewart, Mrs. Bruce F. Pickett, Mrs. Edward O. Stadter, Jr., Mrs. Carl Steelhammer, and in the afternoon those assisting will be Mrs. Bert A. Walker, Mrs. Peter M. Gunnar, Mrs. Holly Jackson, Mrs. Marion Lamb, Mrs. Sidney Hoffman.

Some Notations . . .

By M.L.F.

If a "coffee price war"—that is, an old-fashioned price war operating on the principle of supply and demand—should be about to erupt, you can bank on it Salem would be right on the front line, yes, even the very center for the start of such a war . . . Of course in these days of manipulated, subsidy-supported economy it is doubtful such a "war" would come . . . Anyway, war or not, "battle of the coffees" is on here . . . This form of entertainment so much in vogue in Salem the past year reaches a peak, a climax, or something next week—anyway a lot of coffee . . . Several hostesses thinking it was to be a quiet week decided it would be a good time to give coffee parties . . . Wham! Several hostesses got the same idea at the same time, and so there are coffee parties and coffee parties, starting Tuesday, especially Tuesday (there are three that morning alone) . . . But Salem hostesses are a good humored group, and so those finding they all have coffee parties slated at the same time are joking about it and making it a guessing game as to how guests are going to work in the coffees during the allotted hours . . .

Visitors in our midst are a bit popeyed (coffee-eyed) that is at all the goings on . . . One remarked that if she should ever forget and address a letter to "Coffee," Oregon, she knew the letter would reach its destination . . .

Refill? Yes please, and we still take it black . . .

One of the most beautiful tea tables seen in a long time was the one at the garden party for which Mrs. Henry M. Hansen and Mrs. John H. Johnson entertained Friday afternoon in the colorful Hanzen gardens to honor Mrs. Dick Hackett, Jr., of Stockton, Calif., a cousin of Mr. Johnson and a visitor at the Johnson home this week . . . The table, arranged by Mrs. Johnson, was set on the terrace, up against the wall . . . The cloth was a floor length white one with a wide border with printed clematis blooms on it . . . At one corner was a basket of grapes, purple and green ones with green pineapple foliage and a large pink butterfly on top, lavender and purple clematis blooms tucked here and there among the fruit . . . At one side were two Venetian glass epergnes filled with the clematis blooms . . . Frosted grapes were in a crystal tiered dish in the center . . . Some of the frosted grapes were arranged on the plates of cookies and cakes, too . . . The punch table was a round one set under an apple tree out in the gardens . . . It was covered with a frosted green organdy cloth, matching the green punch, and caught up here and there with large ornamental butterflies . . .

Among guests during our call, Mrs. Robert E. Shinn, Mrs. R. H. Baldoek, Mrs. Harry V. Collins, Mrs. James Arm-priest, Mrs. Kenneth Sherman, Mrs. Reynolds Allen, Mrs. Werner Brown, Mrs. Otto Skopp, Jr., Mrs. Roy L. Houck, Mrs. L. M. Doughton, Mrs. John William Stortz, Mrs. Lawrence A. Ballmer, Mrs. Wolcott E. Buren, Mrs. Jack Wittliff of Astoria, Mrs. Edgar Pierce and daughter, Mrs. Peter H. Geiser, Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding, Mrs. Carl W. Chambers, Mrs. E. A. Linden, Mrs. Arthur Fisher, Mrs. Louis Lachmund, Mrs. J. N. Bishop, Mrs. Walter H. Smith, Mrs. Lester F. Barr, Mrs. Walter L. Tooz, Mrs. William C. Perry, Mrs. Gene Vandeneende and daughter, Mrs. John Steelhammer; Mrs. E. E. Viesko and daughter, Mrs. Richard Gahlsdorf; Mrs. Claude H. Murphy, Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee, Mrs. William L. Lidbeck, Mrs. Maynard Shiffer, Mrs. Bruce Knapp, Mrs. Keith Powell, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Miss Edith Schryver, Mrs. Frank H. Spears, Mrs. J. N. Chambers, Mrs. Harry S. Dorman, Mrs. Carl W. Emmons, Mrs. Otto J. Wilson, Mrs. Claybourne Dyer, Mrs. W. C. Dyer, Jr., Mrs. Prince W. Byrd, Mrs. Lester D. Green, Mrs. Richard L. Cooley, Mrs. Ed Lewis, Mrs. George Terry Hill, Mrs. Kenneth Wilson, Mrs. E. J. Scellars, Mrs. Horace McGee, Mrs. Russel E. Pratt, Mrs. Vern W. Miller, Mrs. Homer Goulet, Mrs. B. F. Williams, Mrs. George C. Alexander, Mrs. Robert Elgin, Mrs. L. V. Benson, Mrs. Bruce Williams, Mrs. Vernon Perry, Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, Mrs. Frank Burlingham, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. Donald McCarag, Mrs. Alton L. Chamberlain, Mrs. Robert Brownell, Mrs. D. B. Jarman, Mrs. Robert DeArmond . . .

MR. AND MRS. JOHN C. McLEAN

MARRIED in early August in Chicago were Mr. and Mrs. John Cameron McLean (Patricia Lawson), above. The couple are pictured above coming down the church steps following the service. They are at home in the Lee apartment here.

Tells Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Edwards of Turner are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lorene Ellise Edwards, to Pvt. David E. Murray, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. Murray of Seattle, formerly of Salem.

No plans have been made as yet for the wedding.

Miss Edwards will enter Lewis and Clark college this fall. Pvt. Murray was recently home on leave from Camp Roberts, Calif., where he was graduated from leaders course and is now to be stationed in Germany.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles W. Mills are to be hosts for an informal at home Tuesday evening to honor their house guests, Dr. Mills' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Dunlop, who with their family are visiting here from Canton, Ohio.

Guests have been invited to call between 5 and 7 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Ullakko are in Ontario, Ore. this week-end to attend the Sunday wedding of Miss Lola Brooke and Norman Lawson. Both young people are former Willamette university students and this year will be in Chicago, Mr. Lawson to study for the ministry. The Ullakkos will be gone a week, visiting other places in eastern Oregon and in Washington before returning home.

FROM Peg in Washington

BY ALENE (PEG) PHILLIPS

Washington, D.C., August 17.

Dear Marian: Major league baseball was something I had not sampled prior to last week, and what happened? The evening I saw my first big league game was the night of the fantastic score of 22 to 1 which New York poured on Washington. The three ex-Oregonians with whom I saw the game kept apologizing for having given me such an introduction but actually it was a riot of fun to see how even a major league team could fall to pieces in a game where the first Washington pitcher lasted only a third of an inning. Of course, the men missed the strategy and excitement of a closely played game, such as the one of the evening before our excursion to Griffith Field, and we left in the seventh inning when the 15 to 0 score was causing a general exodus from the stands. Some 20,000 people had jammed the grandstand and bleachers that night for the slaughter.

Mrs. Charles (Dorothy) Woodring, secretary to Congressman Walter Norblad, is keeping her Washington family and friends posted on her European trip. She fortunately finished her Paris visit before tourists ran into difficulty over the strike situation. A recent message from Switzerland reports that she and her eight-year-old niece, Dorothy Hogarth, were breakfasting on a balcony overlooking a beautiful lake, and her niece's remark was "Aunt Dorothy, This is Living." They are due home in mid-September, following which Mrs. Woodring will open the congressman's office in Salem.

Senator Guy Cordon had a surprise when he returned to Washington by plane Saturday evening. At the airport to greet him were David B. Simpson, Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smyth. The senator had not advised his office nor anyone in Washington of his arrival time, but accidentally Mr. Simpson had learned in a telephone conversation to Portland that the Senator had left Saturday morning and the trio guessed which plane it would be and provided the Oregon welcome at the airport.

A recent arrival from Salem is Miss

Ellen Van Arsdale, until recently a secretary at the Valley Motor company. After some visiting in the midwest, Miss Van Arsdale has established herself here, having moved into the University Women's club. By a coincidence another former Salemite aided her in finding a spot to stay, as Miss Leota Beall had previously lived at the Club and was able to suggest it as a possibility. Miss Beall's mother, Mrs. Lu T. Beall, a long-time resident of Salem prior to her departure for California, is now with her daughter in Washington and the two have an apartment near the Dupont Plaza hotel, where Leota's office is situated. She is in the office of an architect-contractor. It is appropriate that the Bealls should have chosen Washington for their home, as 10 generations of the Beall family have lived in this area. Famous Dumbarton Oaks was the former family home. Of course, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Kurtz (Virginia Beall) have been here for the several years since he left the Public Utilities commissioner's staff in Salem.

Miss Van Arsdale and Miss Beall were my luncheon guests at the Mayflower last week. Ellen and I both had apartments at the Royal Court in Salem and Leota and I were in the Secretary of State's office together, consequently, there was much chatter of mutual friends. We are attending "High Button Shoes" together with Miss Grace Townsend this week. In the production is David Brooks, Portland actor, who also had the lead in "Brigadoon" at the Amphitheatre. On the night that several of us saw "Brigadoon," the thunder storm held off until the final five minutes of the production. We slipped into the rain coats and slickers with which we had been "guessing" the weather and as the curtains closed, we scuttled to the car, and the deluge followed. Fortunately, the outdoor theatre has only had to cancel shows a half a dozen times during the summer but it is frequently a gamble as to whether you will or you won't see the end of the musical.

Sincerely,
PEG.

Jean Ann Ringwald Married Today

St. Joseph's Catholic church was the scene for a wedding of interest this morning when Miss Jean Ann Ringwald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Ringwald, was married to Richard Dale Welsh, son of William H. Welsh.

White gladioluses decorated the church for the service. The Rev. Joseph Vanderbeck officiated at the 10 o'clock ceremony. Gerald Neitling and Lorraine Nelke were soloists, Mary Barton playing the organ.

For her wedding the bride wore a Chantilly lace dress designed with fitted bodice, Queen Anne collar, long sleeves and a short train. In the front of the skirt was a panel of pleated tulle extending in tiers to the floor. The fingertip veil was arranged from a cap of the lace. For her flowers the bride carried a bouquet of stephanotis and white orchids. Mr. Ringwald gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Sara Welsh, sister of the bridegroom, was honor attendant. She wore a ballerina length frock of yellow net over fallie taffeta, worn with a matching bolero.

The bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy Kessel, Miss Georgeanne Burghart and Mrs.

William Welsh, all wore frocks identical to that of the honor attendant but of zircon blue net over fallie taffeta. All four attendants carried bouquets of yellow carnations.

James Moisan was best man. The groomsmen were Bernard Nanneman, William Welsh and William Haslebacher. The ushers were Kenneth Munson, Neil Selander, Charles Taaf.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ringwald wore a rose lace dress with rose and navy accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

The reception following the ceremony was at the Salem Woman's club house. Mrs. C. H. Ringwald and Miss Marjorie Davey cut the cake. Mrs. Richard Ringwald and Mrs. John Suing poured. Assisting were Mrs. Kenneth Munson, Miss Donna Barry, Miss Georgia Burris, Miss Ann Hilger, Miss Marlene Raschko and Miss Rita O'Brien.

The couple left on a trip to southern Oregon and California. For traveling the bride wore a navy blue courtship silk suit with white accessories and corsage of white orchids. The couple will be at home in Salem after September 6.

By MARIAN LOWRY FISCHER

NEXT Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Hawkins of Astoria are entertaining at a buffet supper in honor of their son, Paul S. Hawkins and his fiancée, Miss Nancy Miller. The party will be in the garden at the E. Burr Miller home, the supper to follow the rehearsal for the wedding of Miss Miller and Mr. Hawkins. The young couple will be married next Saturday morning.

In the group will be Miss Miller, Mr. Hawkins, Mr. and Mrs. E. Burr Miller, parents of the bride-elect; Mr. and Mrs. John P. Moloney and Mr. and Mrs. Vance McKenney, all of Astoria, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Richard K. Morse of Astoria, Miss Elizabeth Ann Lawrence of Pendleton, Miss Nancy Collins of Portland, Neil Mathison of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. James R. Rock of Corvallis, Robert Altman of Portland, Miss Barbara Keelan of San Francisco, Kenneth Wagner and Miss Sally Phillips, both of Portland; William Kirby of Eugene, Jon Michael Miller, and Donald Wichman.

Mrs. Eva Rush of Spokane, formerly of Salem, left Friday for her home following a week's visit here.

Carolyn Zoe Lowery, who has been spending the summer with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Mison, leaves next Thursday to join her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Lowery, at Jackson, Miss. This week-end the Misons and Carolyn Zoe are in Eugene to visit Mrs. Mison's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Dorris.

Miss Patricia Fitzsimons is leaving Monday for Coos Bay to be gone this winter. She is to teach at Milner Crest school there. Miss Fitzsimons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Fitzsimons, was graduated this year from Oregon College of Education following three years at Willamette university.

Miss Vivian Chance left by plane this morning for a two weeks vacation in Las Vegas, Nev., where she will visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Cochran. They will take a motor trip to Mexico. Miss Chance will return in time for school, this fall, when she will be a junior at Willamette.

Home this week-end from a trip to Victoria are Mr. and Mrs. Leon Perry and sons, Stephen, David and Dennis.

Brunch Friday

Hostesses for a brunch next Friday morning are to be Mrs. Robert Cannon and Mrs. Joseph M. Devers, Jr., of Stayton, the two entertaining at the Morningside home of Mrs. Cannon.

Guests are bidden between 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Pouring will be Mrs. J. S. Lothead, Mrs. W. Ludd Read, Mrs. Harry Wiedmer, Mrs. Walter Bell, the latter of Stayton.

Assisting will be Mrs. Robert DeArmond, Miss Esther Baird, Mrs. Farmer Smith of Stayton, Mrs. Carl G. Collins, Mrs. James H. Nicholson, Jr., Mrs. T. K. Earle, Mrs. Byron Mennis, Mrs. Coburn Grabenhorst, Mrs. Lester Carter, Mrs. Claybourne Dyer, Mrs. William C. Dyer, Jr., Mrs. Walter Miller of Stayton, Mrs. Charles Campbell, Mrs. Harvey Quistad, Mrs. Richard Nelson, Mrs. Larry Goss of Stayton.

LT. AND MRS. PAUL ALLEN HALE, JR.

VISITORS here this past week were Lt. and Mrs. Paul Allen Hale, Jr., above, guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Hale. The younger Hales, recently married in California, were honored at a reception on Tuesday evening. Lt. Hale is stationed at San Diego.