

Some Notations . . .

By M. L. F.

Tuesday was "party day" for this department with three beautifully arranged coffee parties on schedule through the morning . . . The weather man was not too cooperative during the late morning (and we have told him each day to be kindly toward his fellow citizens this week), but the hostesses were prepared for come what may and the parties went along perfectly just as if they had ordered it that way . . .

Our trek began with the coffee for which Mrs. Russel Beutler and Mrs. Bert A. Walker were hostesses at the attractive home of Mrs. Beutler on North 24th . . . Some sunshine came forth for a time and the first group of guests enjoyed their coffee in the gardens and around the outdoor fireplace, later adjourning to the cozy recreation room in the basement . . . Many bouquets of gorgeous large begonias decorated the rooms, Mr. Beutler having a special hobby the growing of begonias . . . Especially attractive was the mantel bouquet of red flowering plum leaves, a very large pink begonia nestled among them . . . A low arrangement of the begonias was on the table at the front window, featuring about every color of these showy flowers . . . The coffee table was set against the wall in the dining room and was covered with a dark green cloth . . . at the back was a garden arrangement for the centerpiece, leaves and moss with little eyes sitting here and there, and more of the begonias . . .

In the gardens during our call were Mrs. Arthur B. Bates, Mrs. Charles Roth, Mrs. G. E. Wynkoop, Mrs. Harry B. Johnson, Mrs. Harold W. Shogren, Mrs. I. N. Bacon, Mrs. Edwin Keech, Mrs. Lawrence N. Brown, Mrs. Joseph M. Devers, Jr., and Mrs. Maurice Heister, both over from Stayton, Mrs. R. D. Paris and Mrs. Herman Darling, also from Stayton; Mrs. Horace McGee, Mrs. Holly Jackson, and another group from Stayton, including Mrs. Walter Bell, Mrs. Walter Miller, Mrs. Lawrence Smith, Mrs. R. P. Anderson, Mrs. V. D. Bryant; a group of four sisters, including Mrs. Fernando Smith and Mrs. Douglas Heater, both of Stayton, Mrs. Gladys Keyes of Portland, Mrs. LeRoy Hyatt of Roseburg . . .

Mrs. Beutler and Mrs. Walker invited guests in a series of four periods, entertaining through the afternoon, too . . .

Next call was at the Elmer O. Berg home on North Sumner, Mrs. Berg, Mrs. Russel E. Pratt and Mrs. Ralph Wirth entertaining a large group between 10 and 12:30 o'clock . . . Bouquets featuring rose, pink and wine shades were used in the living room; accenting the rose and pink decor of this charming room . . . The coffee table in the dining room was set with a chartreuse cloth, at one corner a bouquet including gladioluses in a slightly paler shade of chartreuse and rainbow asters, in front of them fruit tidbits in four scooped out fresh pineapples arranged on a tray — most attractive and appetizing . . . Many guests were out on the terrace off the dining room and in the expansive, colorful gardens, although showers later sent them scotching . . .

Among those greeted during our call, Mrs. Jack Wittliff of Astoria, her daughter, Mrs. Roger M. Schnell, and the latter's mother-in-law, Mrs. P. H. Schnell of Portland, formerly of Salem; Mrs. Ar-

Meat Adds To Fruit Salad Bowl

Fruit salads are turning main dish for an ideal warm weather entrée. Julienne strips or chunky cubes of meat added to fruit combinations provide these main dish propositions . . .

Roast pork, veal, ham, lamb, luncheon loaf, salami, bacon, tongue, as well as many other of the ready-to-serve meats are ideal salad meats. Try these combinations: diced cooked veal, lamb or ham, sliced ripe banana, diced pineapple, chopped celery, sliced stuffed olives, chopped walnuts, mayonnaise mixed with prepared mustard; cubed cooked veal, cubed pineapple, seeded grapes, pecan pieces, mayonnaise thinned with pineapple juice . . .

Still others include: canned luncheon meat cut in thin strips, shredded cabbage, diced celery, minced green pepper, cubed pineapple, mayonnaise mixed with horseradish; smoked ham, raisins plumped in orange juice, diced celery, orange sections diced unpeeled apple diced sweet green pepper and mayonnaise . . .

Picnic Season Goes Into Fall

The picnic season is almost over but there is still time for a few more outdoor feasts before the cold weather begins. Here's the menu, that requires a little advance preparation, but then everyone can relax, including the cook . . .

- Chilled Tomato Juice
- Wedges of Cheese
- Peppy Hamburgers
- Whole Kernel Corn
- Tossed Salad
- Rolls

Coffee Cake
Tomato juice and wedges of cheese are easy hors d'oeuvres and it's surprising how much a little touch like that can help a picnic get started. The Peppy Hamburgers are made in home and carried to the picnic ready for broiling. The recipe for these hamburgers is below. It's a spiced ground beef mixture to which 2 cups whole wheat cereal are added. The cereal adds flavor and extends one pound of meat to make 8 good sized patties. Which is a lesson in economy for any time. Broil them over an open fire, or charcoal. They come from the fire juicy and flavormore as only meat cooked outdoors can be . . .

Prepare the salad at home, add dressing and toss. Use the whole kernel corn which has just come on the market. It tastes as good as corn-on-the-cob but is so much easier to cook outdoors. Rolls, salad and coffee complete the menu.

- Peppy Hamburgers
- 1 egg
 - 1 1/2 teaspoons salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 2 tablespoons minced onions
 - 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
 - 1 1/2 cups milk
 - 2 cups whole wheat flakes
 - 1 pound ground beef
 - 8 slices bacon
- Beat egg; add salt, pepper, onions, parsley, milk and cereal. Add beef and mix thoroughly. Divide into eight portions. Cut slices of bacon lengthwise into two strips. Arrange two strips bacon crosswise on waxed paper. Mold portion of meat mixture into patty and place on bacon intersection. Bring strips together on top of patty, skewering with toothpick. Bake in hot oven (450 F.) about 30 minutes or broil about 20 minutes . . .
- Yield: 8 Peppy Hamburgers.
