Unfair Labor Charge Filed

The second charge of unfair labor practices has been filed with the office of Division of Labor Elections by the Lane county Employers association.

The complaint was in behalf of Paul Bunyon Burger, a restaurant operator, charging the Culinary Alliance Union, Local 843, Eugene, with picketing in violation of the 1933 anti-picketing law.

The first charge of unfair labor practices under the new law was filed about 10 days ago by Dwight D. Battey, owner of the Cave Shop restaurant in Grants Pass.

Fred J. Sherer, labor elections examiner, said Thursday, that action on the first complaint would be made in the next few days.

Teacher Killed Accidentally

Myrtle Creek, (U)—A shot from a rifle he had taken to go squirrel hunting killed Eldon Allen, 27, a Portland grade school teacher, here Wednesday.

Deputy Coroner Robert Ganz said Allen apparently threw the .22 caliber rifle when he stubbed his toe on a root after leaping across a creek. The weapon discharged when it struck the ground, and the bullet hit Allen in the heart.

He had been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Allen, Myrtle Creek. The father, who became worried after he had been gone several hours, found the body.

TRAFFIC SURVEY
Portland, Ind. (U)—In six hours, high school students noted 3,805 driving violations in this city of 7,000. The most common faults were failure to signal and to stop at intersections.

BARGAIN BILL
Bedford, Ind. (U)—A supermarket here offered a new item recently—money. The store sold $5 bill for $4.89 but only one to a customer.

A rose garden of nearly 2,000 plants has been presented to the United Nations Permanent headquarters in New York City by All-America Rose Selections.

Merchants to Push for Sales

Members of the Salem Downtown Merchants Assn. and their wives dined at the Marion last night and after extended discussion voted strongly in favor of a vigorous program of promoting the downtown shopping area from September through the Christmas season.

Chief items in the program which won the votes of the more than 100 persons present are a page "institutional" advertisement to be run each week in both Salem newspapers stressing the advantages of the downtown area, and a monthly sales promotion through special advertising sections in the newspapers.

The discussion lasted until after 10 o'clock and was optimistic in tone, providing the merchants give the public good values and merchandise energetically.

L. L. Kremen of Roberts Bros. presided. Principal presentations for promotion programs were made by Dick Schrup of Anita's Shop and Jay Monette of the Man's Shop. Many others joined in the discussion that followed.

Earlier a dinner was served the members and their guests in the main dining room of the hotel.

Carkin Retires December 31st

John H. Carkin, superintendent of rail transportation for the Oregon Public Utilities Commission, will end his long public service when he retires on December 31.

Carkin announced his retirement in a letter to Charles H. Heitzel, commissioner, who said that he had not determined who would succeed Carkin. It is possible that Clifford W. Ferguson, Carkin's assistant, may be given the post.

Heitzel praised the work of Carkin in the department, saying Carkin's counsel has been "invaluable" and the "state is indebted to you for the years which you have served with honor and ability."

Carkin, 49, a native of Bangor, Me., was admitted to the bar in 1909, was in private practice in Medford for 21 years, during which period he served as city attorney of Medford.

From 1918 to 1929 Carkin was a member of the Oregon legislature and served as speaker of the house in 1927. He was a member of the state tax commission from 1929 to 1939.

Ferguson joined the commission staff a year ago, coming from the Utah Public Utilities commission. He was western representative of the Interstate Commerce commission prior to World War II and was chief of labor in the 11 western states for the army transportation Corps.
