

Surplus of 4000 Reserve Officers

Washington (AP) — A special Air Force board is looking over personnel rosters to winnow out some 4000 surplus reserve officers.

The other services are also trimming their ranks of large numbers of reserve officers, to make room for graduating classes of Reserve Officer Training Corps men and also to get their manpower within limits dictated by the new defense budget.

Certain specialists, such as pilots and physicians, will not be considered for discharge.

The Air Force plans to cut its manpower from 980,000 to 960,000 by next June 30. It now has 130,000 officers.

The Army will oust 8000 reserve officers, now being winnowed by selection boards. The Navy is releasing about 2200 reserve officers who wanted to stay in service. About 1000 of these are lieutenants and the rest hold higher ranks.

A typical emu is five or six feet tall and weighs about 100 pounds.

INTERIOR VIEW OF HORNET HOUSE

A Charleston, W.Va., housewife, Mrs. B. F. Murphy, has a botanist's view of the inner workings of a hornet colony. The hornets built their nest on the glass pane of a window in Mrs. Murphy's home, giving her and the neighbors an unobstructed view of everything going on in the hornet house. (AP Wirephoto)

Portland to Buy Radar Equipment

Portland (AP)—The city council Thursday authorized the police department to buy radar equipment to check traffic speeds. But Mayor Fred L. Peterson said the radar will not be used to arrest speeders. He said its purpose will be to survey speeds in various districts to help the department allocate patrolmen.

FBI Grabs One On '10' List

Seattle (AP) — Seattle police and FBI agents Thursday captured without resistance Jack Gordon White, 34, gunman listed by the federal agents as one of their 10 most wanted men. White was recognized by a policeman when he drove away from a parking lot. The G-men and other police soon captured him near the waterfront.

White is wanted at Asheville, N. C., for an armed robbery and in Boise, Idaho, for hold-ups there. Richard Auerbach, agent in charge of the Seattle FBI office, reported. He was placed on the FBI's most wanted list last month. White escaped from a prison camp at Loxahatchee, Fla., a year ago while serving a 30-year sentence for armed robbery and other crimes.
