Faulk, Riley in Finals Women's Amateur Tourney

By HUGH FULLERTON
Providence, R.I., (U.P.)—Mary Lena Faulk only had her own golf clubs, she might have made a shambles of the 1953 U.S. Women's Amateur championship.

As it is, she's rated no worse than a toss-up against Polly Riley in Saturday's 36-hole final for the 63rd championship.

All through this tournament, the lean, jut-jawed Thomasville, Ga., girl has been playing with a set of irons borrowed from pro Peggy Kirk, and a once-discarded set of woods and putter. And through the five rounds she scored better than anyone in the tournament.

After losing to Philema Garvey in the semi-finals of the British Amateur championship last June, Mary Lena shipped her clubs home by boat.

She's waiting for them, and that's why she had to use the makeshift set when she returned to competition after a long rest.

The new ones almost failed her Friday in her semi-final match against 16-year-old Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of Mexico.

She got off to a rocky start and lost the second and third holes—after losing 29 straight holes without losing one—and then went three down with a double-bogey five on the fifth hole.

She fought her way back to a 3 and 2 victory over the calm, reddish-haired Gaudalajara girl.

Against Miss Riley, a muscular five-footer whom she had met on three other occasions, Miss Faulk won't be able to afford a letdown.

Polly, who has come through the hardest quarter of the draw, had another rough match Friday against Mrs. Philip J. Cudone of Montclair, N.J., but pulled it out on the 19th green after catching up at the 16th.

Both of the finalists are 27 years old; they both work as bookkeepers—Polly for a Fort Worth law firm; Mary Lena in her father's automobile agency.

And they're both in the final of the national championship for the first time.

The Salem Senators, their financial situation aching because of rain this week, meet the Vancouver Caplans in a 7 o'clock doubleheader tonight, providing the weather is kind.

Salem and Vancouver were washed out of their scheduled game at Waters park last night. That was another blow to the sad financial state of the Senators.

Unless especially good crowds turn out for tonight and tomorrow night's doubleheaders, the Senators will show a rather substantial loss for the season.

Tomorrow's doubleheader, which marks the final home appearance of the Senators in regular season play, starts at 6:30.

Some lucky fan attending tonight's game will take home a brand new home freezer, full of food. So if you feel this is your lucky day, better bring your trailer to the game.

The Spokane Indians continued to make a tight race of it in the Western International League Friday night, winning a doubleheader from Calgary, 13-0, and 10-6, while the league-leading Lewiston Broncos were defeating Victoria, 10-1.

The double win still left the Indians 10 percentage points behind Lewiston although the games behind column showed them even. But, as the saying goes, they pay off on the percentages.

The only position to change in the standings occurred when Tri-City defeated Wenatchee, 4-3, to move into eighth position, pushing the Chiefs into ninth.

Yakima strengthened its hold on sixth place with a 7-1 win over Edmonton, closing the gap slightly between it and Vancouver, which was idled at Salem because of wet grounds.

The circuit's pitchers hurled tighter than usual ball in the evening's contests, particularly at Spokane, Yakima and Wenatchee. The best performance was turned in by Jack Spring, who limited Calgary to three safeties in the opening game.

The second tilt was a different matter, with both nines getting 13 hits and using two pitchers each.

Tri-City got only six hits and Wenatchee five, with relief hurler Jess Dobner getting credit for the win at Wenatchee. Dobner came in in the seventh and gave up two runs but then held the Chiefs scoreless for his 13th win of the season against six losses. He has performed relief duties 45 times this year.

Danny Rios had a four-hitter at Yakima for his 18th victory of the season but he got a lot of help from John Albin, Bear catcher, who hit a homer, a double and a single. Albin's homer was the opening score and the double drove in the winning run.

At Victoria, the Lewiston nine couldn't get started until the sixth inning, when it was trailing, 0-0. Then they clinched the game with four runs on a walk, two doubles and two singles. Six successive hits brought in four more tallies in the seventh and they added one each in the last two frames.

The double win at Spokane was preceded by an announcement of Roy Hitchkias, owner of the Indians, that negotiations for sale of the team's home park, Ferris Field, are in an advanced stage.

Hitchkias said he lamented the necessity of the move but the team just isn't paying the way and no one has evinced any interest in buying the club. He did not say with whom he was negotiating for sale of the park but said it would not be used for baseball.

Shakeup Victims?

Ralph Kiner

Stan Musial

Musial, Kiner May Never Get Chance to Top Records

By OSCAR FRALEY
New York (U.P.)—The major league leaders are in for an almost complete shakeup this season and the chief victims, as of today's production level, will be batting champion Stan Musial and home run king Ralph Kiner.

With only about one-fifth of the season remaining, both appeared in extreme danger of being displaced. And for each of them it would be a severe blow.

For both of these famed sluggers are swinging to elch their names even more indelibly in the record books.

Seen Doomed
Musial, shooting for his seventh National League batting crown, could tie the immortal Rogers Hornsby and then need only one more to match the great Honus Wagner. Kiner already holds the record for leading the National League seven straight years in homers and would like to extend the game's greatest reign from point of consecutive years.

Each appears doomed. Musial who won last year with a .338 batting mark, is some 26 points in back of Monte Irvin's .338 at the moment. Kiner, with 28 homers, needs a miracle to overtake pacesetter Eddie Mathews of the Braves, who leads with 39.

The big two have plenty of company in the matter of dethroned departmental leaders. Few Hold Own
Only Robin Roberts as the big pitching winner, Musial in the matter of doubles and Minnie Minoso in stolen bases will hold their crowns. And Minoso faces a battle against Jim Rivera, with whom he is tied at 20 for American League base larceny honors.

In the American League, Larry Doby led last season in runs, homers and runs batted in. Now he has but 59, 18 and 70 respectively, against Minoso's 87 runs, Al Rosen's 33 homers and Rosen's 116 runs batted in.

Rosen also is making a run at the batting title with a .326 average while defending champ Ferris Fain is clubbing only .269. Nellie Fox, who led in hits, has but 67, far off Mickey Vernon's leading total of 162.

Hard Top Program Scheduled for Holly Bowl Tonite

The hard tops, whose slambang tactics please the fans with a flair for flips, return to Hollywood Bowl tonight for 126 laps of racing.

After time trials, which begin at 7:30, there will be two trophy dashes, four heat races of 10 laps each, a 30-lap class B main event and a 50-lap class A main event.

Drivers competing include Clarence Smith, Bob Porter, Dick Gaboury, Don Guth, Walt Pflughauff, Kenny Dean, Dick Braniff, Jim Bozich, Arnold King, Emmett Vinning, Cecil Dallon, Stan Dietz, Walt Waldron, Bud Cavett, Linley Flock, Art Watts, Rod Love, Larry Gardner, Cecil Wright, Don Porter, Art Pfaff, Bud Gruol, Orin Bechtold, Wally Larson, Dale Nelton, Fred Conneti, Clarence Schmitt, Don Kium, John Ketchum Red Monahan, Armond Millen, Jim Davis and Bud Beebe.

In 1950, the U. S. government held some rural land in 1,796 of the 3,069 counties of the country.

Beavers Washed Again 3 Twin Bills in Row Set

Portland (U.P.)—Rain forced cancellation of a Pacific Coast League doubleheader here last night between Portland and San Diego.

The teams were to meet here in doubleheaders tonight, tomorrow and Monday night.

By SCOTT BAILE
San Francisco (U.P.)—The Pacific Coast League is supposed to be headed toward major league status, or something, so along comes a guy named Tony Ponce from the Class C California League and wins a six-hitter in his debut with the San Francisco Seals.

Ponce was liberally splashed with red ink while toiling for the Seals, last-place Ventura farm club in the state league this year. He lost 20 games to set a loop record, although he also chalked up 15 wins for a team that is about 35 games off the pace.

Any latent talent the switch-hitting right-hander from Whittier had in his sturdy arm came to the fore last night as he handcuffed the Oaks with those six blows. And while Ponce performed at his best, the Seals lathered three Oakland hurlers for 15 hits and a 15-2 victory.

Other Games
In other PCL games, Seattle pared Hollywood's juicy lead to 8 1/2 games by defeating Sacramento 8-6 while Los Angeles was dimming the Stars, 2-1, behind Cal McLish's three-hitter. George Bamberger was the most pitiful victim of the Seals attack. Manager Augie Galan let Bamby stagger through a seven-run fifth inning which assured the erstwhile New York Giant of his 13th defeat. Bill Howerton vainly homered for him in the fifth when he crashed a drive over the center field screen.

The Details
Tom Lovrich saved the day for the Raniers after the peaky Sacs had routed Bill Evans with a five-run spurge in the fourth inning. Lovrich held the Solons to five hits for the rest of the night and blanked them for his eighth win.

Marino Pieretti, who was belted for five Seattle runs in the third inning, took his 15th loss before leaving the hill. McLish bested George O'Donnell in an old fashioned duel that saw the Choctaw Indian notch his 15th win. O'Donnell, in quest of his 20th victory, was dropped for his eighth loss. Les Peden broke up the game in the ninth with a two-bagger after Gene Baker had singled. A crowd of 10,158 came out to see the crosstown fuss.

Gerry Coleman Rejoins Yanks

Cleveland (U.P.)—Gerry Coleman, an old hand at bombing, rejoined the New York Yankees Saturday with the hopes he'll get to do a different kind of bombing before the baseball season ends.

The Yankee second baseman, veteran of 57 bombing missions in the World War II and fresh from 63 more in Korea, signed a contract in New York Friday.

The terms of the agreement were not disclosed but he was said to be getting $12,000 or more when called up as a Marine captain April 30, 1952.

Although in fine physical condition, Coleman was not sure whether he will be able to contribute anything to the Yankees in the drive for their fifth straight pennant.

Portland Horse Races Halted For 2nd Night

Portland, (U.P.)—Power trouble caused cancellation of the horse racing program at Portland Meadows Friday for the second night in succession.

As the first race started forth, a transformer failure halted the program Thursday night. Then heavy rains Friday prevented repair work on the transformer. The Meadows is scheduled to close for two weeks at the end of Saturday afternoon's program because of a conflict with horse racing at the Oregon State Fair and motorcycle and auto racing events during that period.
