Jensen With Farmers Union

William Jensen of Junction City has been appointed field man for the Oregon State Farmers Union. Announcement of his appointment was made by President Richard Moeller, Jensen, a teacher in the Harrisburg school for the past several years, will assume his new duties September 1.

"Mr. Jensen will fill a need long felt by the organization," said Moeller. "He will devote his full time in the field to organizational problems, planning, membership drives, and assisting our insurance agents. Membership in the Oregon Farmers Union is growing rapidly, and we need a field man to coordinate our various activities."

Until recently Jensen operated a turkey ranch at Halsey. He is a graduate of Oregon College of Education at Monmouth and has taken considerable advanced work at the University of Oregon.

Jensen served as member of the executive committee of the Oregon Farmers Union for four years and also as vice president for one term.

He is married and has one daughter. He will continue to live in Junction City.

Reds to Free

Meanwhile, Allied and Communist delegates to the Military Armistice Commission met at this truce site in one of their longest sessions. After an hour and 49 minutes, the delegates recessed without setting a date for another meeting.

There was no announcement of what was discussed.

The meeting was called at Communist request.

Returning Americans Monday raised hopes that the Reds would return more U. S. soldiers than they originally promised.

The Reds have returned 2,827 Americans, leaving 466 still scheduled for repatriation, according to their early figure.

Non-Red Korean Wait
But liberated Americans who were at Kaesong over the weekend said more than 1,000 non-Korean POWs were still awaiting repatriation at the Red collecting center just north of here.

They said most of the men were American and British sergeants and officers.

The Reds said recently that their 3,313 total did not include some POWs captured in the last days of the war.

Lt. Maxey H. Hall Jr. of Indianapolis, Ind., said 290 American officers were at Kaesong. He said he had no idea how many enlisted men were being held there.

2000 Persons At Dedication
Dedication of the new convent of St. Vincent de Paul Catholic parish Sunday afternoon was favored with ideal weather conditions. As a result more than 2000 persons visited the modern two-story building. The dedicatory ceremonies were in charge of the Most Rev. Edward D. Howard of Portland. Assisting the archbishop was Rev. John Reedy, pastor of St. Vincent.

Joseph A. H. Dodd was in charge of a program that followed the formal dedication. Later approximately 1000 persons participated in the outdoor barbecue.

In a day or two the convent will be cloistered and then will be fully occupied by teachers of St. Vincent parochial school who are Sisters of the Holy Name school.

FOR THE STATE FAIR

Boys to Sell Bugs and Leis

Twenty boys from the Salem YMCA will be on Salem streets and visiting merchants to sell State Fair "bugs" and Hawaiian leis Tuesday.

Purpose of the sales is to promote the fair which will begin Saturday. The Chamber of Commerce furnishes the bugs and leis to the YMCA.

The "bugs", which resemble glorified fishing flies, have been sold for the past two years, the idea having been born from the slogan printed on promotion cards three years ago which advised "get the state fair bug." The following year, bugs were obtained and now are pinned onto the cards and worn on the lapel or shirt.

The leis are new this year, and are to supplement the Hawaiian theme of the fair.

The leis will be sold to local merchants for $1 a dozen. The merchants in turn can either sell the leis to their customers or give them away. Individual leis will cost ten cents each and the bugs will sell at 15 cents each.

Profits derived from the sales of the leis and bugs will go to the YMCA and will be applied to the boys activity department, according to Larry Woods of the Y.

The undercover invasion, although widespread, was spearheaded in the industrial Ruhr, where Communists are exerting their greatest efforts to swing the vote away from pro-Western Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

German Marks Confiscated
About 1,000 of the young Reds were arrested as they crossed the border at Helmsstedt.

Some of the Communist agents were hauled back to the border by truck. Others were arraigned before West German courts or held for questioning. An estimated $38,000 worth of West German marks were confiscated.

Some of those forced back across the border into East Germany cursed the police as traitors and swore they would be back. Some, however, said under questioning that they had been forced into the campaign by threats against themselves or their families.

A compromise on the company's demand for no-strike assurance was worked out in a clause covering grievances and arbitration.

The CIO United Rubber Workers' agreement with Firestone was viewed as a possible pattern for the rubber industry. It includes a 5-cent general increase, raising the average pay of production and maintenance workers to $2.10 an hour, a boost in pension payments by the company and hospital and surgical insurance for employees and their dependents.

LATE SOCIETY

'Smoky' Smith, Cub Scout, Quells Blaze

Keiser—Marvin Smith, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Smith, 5505 Ridge Dr., won himself the nickname of "Smoky" Saturday and a possible honorary membership in the volunteer fire department.

In the absence of his parents, Marvin discovered a fire in the kitchen. He hastily evacuated his two younger brothers, had a neighbor notify the fire department, and sealed a garden hose and attacked the flames.

When the firemen arrived they found the fire under control.

Damage was estimated at $1200.

Marvin is a Cub Scout.

Two Said Reckless—Two drivers were arrested by city police Saturday night on reckless driving charges. Jack G. Sherman, 1210 Tile road, drove his motor scooter onto the sidewalk and around a red light, police said. David Gordon Pfau, 1120 James street, drove through several alleys with the arresting officer following until he ran out of alley near River street and got stuck in the mud the officer reported. Pfau's car was pulled out by a tow truck and Pfau was taken to the station. Sherman was fined $25 and Pfau $35 in Municipal court Monday.

KGW Station Changes Hands

Portland (AP)—Purchase of Radio Station KGW by five Portland businessmen and King Broadcasting of Seattle for about a half million dollars was announced Saturday.

Gordon Orput, Portland insurance man, is president of the group that bought the station from the S. L. Newhouse family.

The group also has purchased under the name of North Pacific Television, Inc., for a Portland VHF television channel.

When the Federal Communications Commission approves the sale, the Newhouse family then will buy a half interest in Mt. Hood Radio and Television, Inc., which operates Radio Station KOIN and which has been granted a television channel.

Getchell Still State Champ

Roy Getchell, Portland, proudly held his state horse-shoe pitching championship honors at Hillsboro Sunday where he lost but one game, and that to Ronald Anderson of Salem, a one time Salem champion.

Anderson has the distinction of having defeated three of the state's top pitchers. Besides defeating Getchell he also defeated Chapelle, an ex-state champion, and also Melspaue.

This was the fourth consecutive year for Getchell to win the state championship which gives him permanent possession of the state trophy.

Lloyd Bayes of the Salem club won first in the B class and Ted Zwickel of Corvallis won first in the C class. Bayes barely missed the A class and Zwickel barely missed the B class. All three were presented with trophies.

Rustlers Raid—Two White-face Hereford cattle were stolen from a three-acre pasture on the Carl Bethell ranch, Route 1, Aumsville, Bethell reported to the Marion county sheriff's office Saturday. One of the heifers was taken the night of the 25th and the other the night of the 26th, he said.

The woman, he said, recently obtained leave from her position with the Army at her own request, but is due to resume her job in September. He said she had worked for the Army "a number of years."

McCarthy said at least five other witnesses will testify at the hearing continuing until Wednesday.

No One Identified
None of the witnesses was identified. "Some will cooperate," McCarthy said, "and some will not, I expect."

The subcommittee chairman said the inquiry involved a matter concerning "the military services" and "a very important agent in government" which had come to his attention in probing the government printing office.

One source said the probe concerned Communist influence among civilian employees of the military services.

McCarthy told reporters he plans to take an extended trip to Japan, Formosa, Korea and the Philippines and the East Indies in October—as "an individual" and not "as chairman of the committee."

"I just want to go over—that's all," he said, when asked the purpose of the trip.
