

OREGON AFIELD

—By Bob Brown—

Rarin' to Go Pigeon season begins today, and the writer's two-year-old son, Miland is ready to go with his springer pup and "shotgun."

There will be pigeon in the pot for a few valley gunners this evening. We say "a few," because not all that go afield will be lucky. Despite the fact that season on pigeons opens today, many hunters will wonder if wild pigeons aren't just a product of somebody's imagination. Good pigeon shooting is scarce these days, and folks who know productive locations just ain't talkin'. Even if you're one of the favored few with a good pigeon stand, you will have to be a very good shot as well. Pigeons are hard to hit—their zipping flight is tough to follow, and determining the range is also a problem. We know one fellow who got so wrapped up in his gun trying to lead a pigeon, that his friends had to find a sailor to untie the knots...

There is still some fishing going on locally. We stopped in on Jim McFarland last night, just as a mess of rainbow trout was being tossed into the frying pan. Jim caught them up at Marion Forks over the week-end. Seems that Jim's wife, Betty, had never eaten trout before, let alone cook 'em, so Jim was chef for the evening. Didn't hear a bit of complaint from the little woman, either...

The rains of recent date have given new life to the sea-run cutthroat fishing on the coast. While the fishing is not red-hot, still we've heard good reports from most coastal rivers. A few more rainstorms will see the salmon fishing improve, also.

Food for thought dep't: In a recent discussion with Major Tobin of Portland, Ducks Unlimited and IWLA biggy, the major pointed out that, due to our early opening each year on ducks, our local mallards are getting pretty well shot out. The northern birds seldom begin their migration early enough to hit Oregon until after the season is well underway. Thus, our local birds take a terrific beating, with the pressure of all Oregon's gunners concentrated on them. Also, according to the major, it would be good sense to have separate regulations governing the eastern Oregon flyway. Actually, the migration of birds through the eastern route is quite different from that found in the Willamette valley and on the coast. However, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service makes the regulation for the various flyways all over the country, and it is felt that too many other localities would want separate regulations, thus creating too much red-tape. First time we ever heard of a federal board trying to reduce red-tape!

Cartier Tops Garth Panter

New York (AP)—Middleweight Walter Cartier of New York turned the tables impressively on Garth Panter of Salt Lake City by winning a lopsided, unanimous 10-round decision in their return televised bout at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena last night.

Cartier scaled 164 pounds; Panter, 159½.

They went into the ring at even money, but Cartier surprised the fans by winning in such one-sided fashion that none of the three ring officials gave Panter more than one round and called one round even.

Panter had won an upset decision over Cartier on July 27 at the Parkway. For that fight Cartier had been favored at 3-1.

There were no knockdowns last night, but Panter slipped to his knees in the fourth round about 30 seconds after he had been staggered by a left hook.

Cartier staggered him in the seventh round with a straight right to the chin and also in the eighth round with a combination left-right-left to the head.

30,000 Fans Expected for Ram-Card Game

Portland — Northwest football fans—about 30,000 of 'em—will find out how the gridiron greats perform next Monday night here at Multnomah Stadium when the Los Angeles Rams clash with the Chicago Cardinals.

The two members of the National Football League, lusting for victory despite the fact the game doesn't count in the standings, will square off at 8 p.m.

Oregon Sports Attractions expects a crowd of 30,000 to watch them in action and hopes for a contest as thrilling and exciting as the one the same teams played last year, when the Rams won 24 to 14.

Indications are that the forthcoming clash will equal or surpass that game in football thrills and spectacular plays. This is a "grudge" match between Coaches Joe Stydahar of the Cardinals and Hampton Pool of the Rams.

Los Angeles, boasting top football's mightiest offensive machine, will score both through the airlines and on the ground.

At quarterback the Rams will have former Oregon All-American Norm Van Brocklin, pro football's finest passer. Two rookies, Brad Myers of Bucknell and Tom McCormick of College of Pacific, have won the starting halfback positions. Deacon Dan Towler, the league's leading ground gainer, will be at fullback.

Rudy Bukich, who passed USC to its Rose Bowl victory over Wisconsin this year, will understudy Van Brocklin. For additional offensive chores the Rams will bank on Glenn Davis, "Mr. Outside" of Army fame; Woody Lewis, Oregon's specialist on punt returns; Paul Younger, Vitamin Smith, and Skeet Quinlan.

The Rams present the most formidable pass catchers in the business in Ends Elroy Hirsch and Tom Fears, with rookie Ed Barker of WSC to assist.

Chicago's running attack will move on the toes of Halfbacks Charley Trippi and Johnny Olszewski. Trippi, an "old pro," was the hero of last year's game, and "Johnny-O" was one of the finest runners in collegiate football at California.

Rookies Dale Samuels of Purdue and James Root of Miami will share the quarterback burdens. One of two veterans, Bill Svoboda or Ralph Pasquariello, will go at fullback.

The game will not be telecast or broadcast. Although the box office sale has been satisfactory, plenty of choice seats are still available in all locations. Reserved seats are priced at $3 and $4 and out-of-town fans may order by mail through Oregon Sports Attractions here in the Dekum building.

Portland Tops San Diego 11-8 in See-Saw Contest

(By The Associated Press) Assuming that barring catastrophes Hollywood and Seattle will finish one, two in the Pacific Coast League two weeks hence, major interest lies in who will take the other two first division berths.

Los Angeles, in third place, probably will take one of them, but a hot streak by either San Francisco or Portland might move the Angels down the ladder.

As things stand, Hollywood is 10 games ahead of Seattle and 16½ ahead of the Angels. Portland and San Francisco are tied 20½ games off the pace.

San Diego is a game and one-half further back.

San Francisco's hopes of moving up aren't helped much by the prospect of tangling with the Stars at Hollywood in this week's set.

Portland plays two games Tuesday night against seventh-place Sacramento. Los Angeles is entertained by cellar-dwelling Oakland and San Diego plays at Seattle.

Legion World Series Starts

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Yakima, Wash., champions of the Far West, and Milford, Mass., the Eastern titlists, were matched here Tuesday in the opening game of the American Legion Junior Baseball World Series.

The contest to get underway in Miami Stadium at 3:30 p.m. PST, after pregame ceremonies featuring Sandra Wirth, Little World Series queen.

Milford held the favorite's role on the basis of its two-year record. The Easterners went to the finals last year but lost to Cincinnati. Coach Pep Morone said either Bob Soico or Ralph (Lefty) Lument, both undefeated in 1953, would start on the mound for Milford. Tom Gibson (10-1) or Dave Dexter (10-0) will start for Yakima.

Winneka, Ill., the Midwest champion, and Cherryville, N.C., southern titleholder, were to meet in the second game of Tuesday's double-header.

The double-elimination tournament will continue daily through Saturday.

Brooklyn Could Wind Up With Best Pct. in 44 Years

By CARL LUNDQUIST
New York (AP)—Brooklyn's dynamo Dodgers hit the September stretch today with an outside chance to wind up with the best winning record of any National League team in 44 years.

If they play at about the pace they have set since the All-Star game, the Brooks can finish up with 110 victories and only 44 defeats, surpassing all other National League winners since the 1909 Pirates had that mark.

Brooklyn's 6-3 triumph last night over the Cardinals in which Duke Snider hit two homers and Gil Hodges got one, was the 10th straight at Ebbets field over St. Louis this year.

Catcher Reed
Roy Campanella set a National League mark for catchers when he drove in two runs with a double to give him a total of 124. The old mark of 122 was held jointly by Walker Cooper of the 1947 Giants and Gabby Harnett of the 1930 Cubs.

The runnup Braves were idle and dropped 10½ games behind.

Cincinnati twice utilized big sixth inning rallies to defeat the Phils 12-6 and 7-5 while the Giants defeated the Cubs 15-4.

In the American League, ol' Bob Newsom won his 200th game, 10-4 over Detroit, after the Tigers topped the Athletics 9-7. Boston defeated Cleveland 6-4 as Ted Williams hit his seventh homer since returning from Korea and Washington edged St. Louis 4-3. There were no other games scheduled.

Fat and Forty
Newsom, pitching mainly from memory, won his historic game by scattering 11 hits and keeping the A's bullpen busy waiting to relieve the fat and forty old boy. But he stuck it out to pitch his first complete game of the year as the A's cushioned him with nine runs in the first four innings.

Williams' homer was a three run blast that gave Mickey McDermott his 15th victory.

No Channel Attempt by Florence Today

Dover, England, (AP)—Florence Chadwick reluctantly postponed her attempt to swim the English channel to France and back today but said she would try tomorrow night or Thursday morning if the weather improves.

The San Diego veteran swimmer called off temporarily her plan to set a new mark in channel swimming after weather forecasters predicted a 20-knot wind and choppy seas.

Mason Plans Golf Tourney

Bunny Mason, pro at Salem Golf club, will sponsor a Salem junior golf tournament Friday.

Competition will be conducted in four divisions—boys under 12, girls under 12, girls 12-16 and boys 12-16.

The tourney will be a one-day affair, and Mason urges all those interested to register as soon as possible by phoning him at the golf club, telephone 36852.

Mason is particularly anxious that all the kids who were students in his summer golf classes compete in the tournament.

Free Methodist Win Softy Loop, Woodburn

Woodburn—The Free Methodist church softball team won the championship of the Woodburn recreation pee wee softball league when rain washed out the final games on the schedule Tuesday night, and a decision was made to wind up the play for the season. The titlists, defending 1952 champions, were undefeated in 11 games.
