

CLASSICAL FACADE OF SALEM HIGH SCHOOL

Senior high school in East Salem was erected about 15 years ago when classical style for school structure was in vogue. It is now overcrowded and will soon be supplemented by new South Salem high school now under construction.

PTA Meetings At Sweet Home

Sweet Home—At a planning committee meeting of the Sweet Home PTA, this week, it was decided to hold the first meetings of the year in the various schools in conjunction with a teachers' reception.

Oak Heights grade school and the new Hawthorne school on East Long will hold open house and teacher reception Sept. 21 at the respective schools.

The Long street grade school and the junior high PTAs will be only one PTA unit since both the schools are under the principalship of Mr. Cleveland. They plan their meeting for Sept. 28.

Other business of the evening included discussion of duties of the chairmen who had been appointed to organize PTA units at last spring's meeting. These chairmen were Mrs. Bill Reed for the Long Street grade school with Mrs. Gene Ellis for the Junior high. Mrs. Bill Stokes for Oak Heights and George Edwards for Hawthorne school on east Long St.

Mr. Barker, principal of the Oak Heights school, and Mrs. Barker who will be all-school coordinator and A. D. Cleveland, principal of Long Street schools and Harry Moffitt, principal at Hawthorne school, were present at the meeting which was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gould.

Sheridan Schools Will Open Sept. 14

Sheridan—James Rose, grade school principal, has announced Sheridan schools will start September 14, instead of September 8, as previously announced. Registration will start on Sept. 10 at 10 a.m.

All sixth, seventh and eighth grade students will register at the Chapman school and all lower grades on the south side of the river will register at the Chapman school. Students living on the north side of the town in the first through fifth grades will register at Faulconer school.

Particularly smart are the felt circle skirts in a wide array of gay colors. These skirts are trimmed with imaginative felt applique figures in clever motifs.

Exchange Teachers Here Include New Zealander

Three exchange teachers will take their places at the head of Salem school classes this year.

Trading time with Miss Maxine Heringer will be Albert T. Ziegler of Richmond, Nelson, New Zealand. Ziegler, who can be rated the teacher farthest from home, will teach English and social studies at Parrish Junior High School. Beside his degree in education, gained in New Zealand, he holds a degree in speech from Trinity College in London.

Expected to arrive around September 15, Ziegler has not yet found a place to stay. He has expressed the hope that it will be with a local family.

From Santa Fe, New Mexico will come Mrs. Marguerite Leahy, exchanging with Miss Eleanor Roberts. Mrs. Leahy will teach English and social studies at Leslie Junior High School.

Arriving to teach English, mathematics and social studies at Parrish school is Don S. Mallernee from Los Angeles. He will exchange with Mrs. Anne Smedley.

These teachers are all part of a program fostered by the educational exchange branch office of education in Washington, D. C. This program provides expenses for teachers in different countries or states who wish to exchange posts.

Exchange is worked on a request basis. Teacher, who wish to go elsewhere for a year contact their boards who make inquiries. Each district can provide for so many exchanges according to its salary schedule.

This program, not new to the Salem system, is heartily endorsed by the administration. The three teachers who have been exchanged this year will bring back materials for demonstration. Their efforts will bring a familiarity with other systems and other countries which, according to the administration, is extremely valuable and couldn't be touched in any other way.
