

MISS RHODEN LEAVES

OFF TO Sacramento this week went Miss Marie Rhoden to begin her career as a teacher in the high school there. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Rhoden, Miss Rhoden was graduated last June from Oregon State college.

Large at Home Arranged for September 13

A social event of mid-September of interest to many friends will be the home for which Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Utter are to entertain at their Oak street home, a large group of friends being invited to call between 3:30 and 8 o'clock.

At the door will be Mrs. Elmer Ling, Mrs. Vernon Wiscarson, Mrs. John Hughes, Mrs. Charles H. Heltzel. Assisting in the living room will be Dr. and Mrs. W. S. Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Collins, Dr. and Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Keeler, Mrs. George C. Will. At the guest book will be Miss Justine Lewis, Mrs. Prince W. Byrd, Miss Betty Bedford.

Invited to pour during the different hours are Mrs. Charles A. Sprague, Mrs. Ray L. Smith, Mrs. Earl T. Newbury, Mrs. G. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Charles E. Bates, Mrs. J. H. Garnjobst, Mrs. Frederick S. Lampert, Mrs. A. W. Loucks. At the punch bowl during the different periods will be Mrs. Stanley Schofield, Mrs. J. Bradford Nelson, Mrs. William R. Shinn, Miss Betty Byrd, Mrs. Otto Skopil, Jr., Mrs. Bruce Williams, Mrs. George Terry Hill, Mrs. Robert W. Gormsen.

Assisting at the buffet will be Mrs. Nora E. Thompson, Mrs. Virgil T. Golden, Mrs. Harold M. Olinger, Mrs. John J. Griffith, Miss Mabel P. Robertson, Mrs. Ernest Arneson. Assisting in the dining room will be Mrs. John Lee, Mrs. Gordon Skinner, Mrs. Charles H. Derthick, Mrs. Arthur P. Sprague, Mrs. John H. Hann, Mrs. Kenneth Prince, Mrs. Robert Corey, Mrs. Thomas W. Churchill.

Assisting in the upstairs rooms will be Mrs. Luella Fruit of Portland and Miss Dorothy Cheneverth.

Of interest to many friends is announcement of the approaching marriage of Mrs. Germaine W. Brown to Carl B. Weigel.

The couple will be married in Portland on September 25. They will reside near Beaverton this winter, at Broadmoor Manor, but will keep their home in Salem, too.

Mrs. Brown's daughter, Miss Joyce Brown, is to be a student at St. Mary's in the Valley at Beaverton this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Johnson are to be hosts for an informal buffet supper Sunday evening, guests to include Mr. and Mrs. William L. Phillips, Sr., and their three sons and daughters-in-law and families, Mr. and Mrs. William L. Phillips, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. James R. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Phillips.

Among Salem folk taking in the annual Pendleton Round-up the latter part of next week will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Needham, who are flying over for the event. They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hamley.

Among those taking in Round-up events at Pendleton the latter part of next week will be Governor and Mrs. Paul L. Patterson.

The Sunday following they are to be in Moro to take in the Sherman county fair while en route home.

RUSH WEEK FOR WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY SOON

THERE IS much activity this week-end around the four sororities at Willamette university, preparatory to start of rush week on Tuesday. Orientation week begins Monday with rushing among the living groups continuing through to Saturday evening. In the group above discussing rush week programs are, left to right: Mrs. Regina Ewalt, dean of women on the campus, and a representative from each of the four Panhellenic groups on the campus, Miss Phyllis Muhs of Chi Omega, Miss Mary Campbell of Pi Beta Phi, Miss Mary Polales of Delta Gamma, Miss JoAnn Howard of Alpha Chi Omega.

UO and OSC Start New Year Soon

The college year is the big interest to many young folk right now. Willamette university begins its new year next week.

University of Oregon and Oregon State college start their new year the following week, young folk returning to the campuses next week-end.

As has been the custom for several years, the Capital Journal will carry a column each week from the three schools, telling about social events and listing activities of Salem students.

Miss Alice Lehman again will be the correspondent from Oregon State college.

Miss Anne Ritchey is to be the new correspondent from University of Oregon for the paper column.

Miss Barbara Jackson again will be the Willamette university correspondent.

Upper classmen will be leaving next week-end to prepare for Freshmen Week.

Among those expecting to return to OSC this year are Misses Mary Feike, Alice Lehman, Carolyn Parker, Anne Forriestel, Bernice Imish, Barbara Wagners, Patricia Morton, Jody Ricketts, Sally Becker, Mary Jane Rud, Jan Foulger, Cecilia Weaver, Hazel Stowell, Patricia Healy, Susan Steed, Edna Manning, Lenore Phillippi, Betty Anderson; Mr. and Mrs. Allan J. Olson (JoAnne Majek), James A. Rock, Denny Feike, Douglas Raines, Jack Beakley, John Casper, John Enger, Bill Johnson, Larry Paulus.

Go to Oregon

Among Salem students returning to University of Oregon are Misses Joyce Armstrong, Marcia Webb, Sharon Helder, Susan Perry, Gail Lockhead, Norma Stewart, Dorothy Pederson, Marjorie Becke, Sharon Brown, Jean Smith, Connie Hilton, Othelene Lee, Carol Fisher, Plum Brown, Anne Ritchey, Loyce Taylor, Mary Jo Brown, and John Templeton, Gordon Sloan, Dick Lewis, Tom Paulus, Scott Page, Jeff Walton, Bob Sogge, Chandler Sogge, Ron Walters, Larry Kleinsmith, Lynn Jensen.

Misses Joan Marie and Margaret Miller will be going to Portland for nursing training at University of Oregon medical school, as will Miss Norma Hamilton.

Visitors arriving Thursday in the capital will be Mr. and Mrs. Russell Laughead and their daughter, Miss Joan Laughead of Courland, Calif. While here they will be guests of Mrs. and Mrs. Leon Perry. Miss Laughead is to enter Oregon State college this fall.

Miss Joanne McInnis, who has spent the summer in Salem, left this week for her home in Revanna, Neb., and from there will go to Dallas, Texas, to resume her work at Southern Methodist university.

FROM Peg in Washington

BY ALENE (PEG) PHILLIPS

Washington, D.C., August 30.

Dear Marian

Visitors to the Department of the Interior are always interested in seeing the private office of the Secretary and Oregonians particularly take time to study its features. Since I frequently have the pleasure of showing the room to our callers, perhaps I should tell you a bit about it.

First, as to size. It is a high ceilinged room 24x40, and the oak paneled walls add to its impressiveness. An arched ceiling of cream color plaster has a decorative sculptured effect. The huge bowls of the chandeliers suspended from the ceiling at either end of the room are of Italian marble, faintly pink and delicately veined, set in bronze.

The Persian rug is deep blue with a pattern of rose, beige and lighter blue, and the dark blue leather of the upholstery on davenport and chairs repeats the background color of the rug. The uncovered portion of the floor reveals a polished wide board hardwood with wooden pegs. Draperies are a warm copper tone, with the sheen of silk. The pale gray marble and white has relief around the fireplace contrast with a well burnished brass firebox, andirons and fireset.

In one corner, a display of flags of the territories in which the department is interested attracts special attention. On either side of the fireplace are the American flag and the Secretary's flag. The latter is a deep sky blue with gold, with the emblem of the buffalo in the replica of the seal in the center. The animal is always referred to as "Teddy Roosevelt's buffalo." In another corner, a large screen has an overall design of Hawaiian foliage, as it is a greatly enlarged photograph of ferns, leaves and vines pictured in one of the parks of Hawaii. The picture panels, finished in black and silver are set in an aluminum frame, which makes a striking treatment that many visitors have noted carefully planning to copy the idea in some similar manner.

In the winter the screen shields the box of firewood for the fireplace. I must report that we have never used the fireplace since moving in last January, but this coming winter should be a different story.

At one end of the room is a conference table, davenports and chairs are against the wall opposite the fireplace. In front of the fireplace is a long davenport and what one would call a coffee table in a home, but which goes unused; and at the other end of the room is the five-foot deep desk of the Secretary. Needless to say, it takes a bit of a toss to get the papers and documents in the "outgoing" box on the far side of the desk. Back of the desk hangs a painting of Indians breaking camp, but soon we will have a large picture of Crater Lake to hang in its stead, and another Oregon scene for the opposite end of the room. At this opposite end of the office, a door opens into the chief clerk's office and the story goes that an earlier Secretary when calling a staff member in for a lecture or reprimand used to make the employe come in through the clerk's door so that he had to walk the length of the room to approach the Secretary's desk. Naturally that routine does not follow with Secretary Douglas McKay. In fact, the staff members now usually come through my office which is just the other side of swinging doors from the end of the room where the Secretary's desk is located and I get a chance for a quick hello or a brief chat on their way into the private office. There is a cordial, friendly and cooperative attitude between the eight top assistants of the secretariat and the Secretary and in addition to the regular staff meeting held every Monday morning, the group get together for lunch each Monday to continue informal discussions of the departmental program and problems.

I must add that we have a balcony with an excellent view of memorials, parks, rivers and Virginia hills, reached through doors leading out of either end of the Secretary's office, and it would be a nice place for some deck chairs, if anyone had time for loafing. But there's nary a chair there.

Sincerely,

PEG.

Giering-McMullen Wedding at First Congregational Church Today

At a beautiful ceremony solemnized at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the First Congregational church, Miss Eva Marie McMullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern D. McMullen, was married to August C. Giering, Gold Beach, Ore., son of Mr. and Mrs. August Giering of Portland.

White and wine colored gladioluses and candles decorated the church for the service at which the Rev. Dudley Strain officiated. Lighting the tapers were Ronald and Douglas McMullen, young brothers of the bride. For the music, Stanley Hulsmann of Forest Grove sang, Jean Hobson Rich playing the organ. Dress of Velvet, Satin.

For her wedding the bride wore a dress of velvet and satin fashioned on train. The bodice was of marlin white velvet, a bit of nylon tulle outlining the boat neckline. Sequins and pearls were embroidered on the dress. Over the satin skirt was an overskirt of nylon tulle. The fingertip veil was arranged from a nylon tulle headband trimmed with seed pearls. The bride carried a white Bible on which was an orchid. Mr. McMullen gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Barbara McMullen was honor attendant for her sister. She wore a dress fashioned with deep rose velvet bodice and a net over taffeta skirt, ballerina length. The dress was worn with matching stole. For her flowers she carried a bouquet of white rayonnante chrysanthemums and croton leaves.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Herbert Bauer and Mrs. Walter Kelly. Both wore ballerina length dresses styled alike with green velvet bodices and net over taffeta skirts, and matching stoles. Their bouquets were of bronze chrysanthemums and croton leaves.

Susan Pazina of Longview, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl, wearing a green net frock.

Dan Eastman of Portland was best man. Ushering were Dick Schaffer and Claire Estes, both of Portland, and Alan McMullen, brother of the bride.

Mrs. McMullen wore a burgundy and green changeable raw silk dress, waltz length, with matching accessories and corsage of green orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a teal blue silk crepe dress, waltz length, with navy accessories and a corsage of Tallman roses.

Reception at home. The reception following, was at the McMullen home on Fairmount Hill. Mrs. Robert McMullen of Portland and Mrs. Albert McMullen of Newport, aunts of the bride, cut the cake. Mrs. Loren Hicks of Turner, an aunt, poured. Others assisting were Miss Patti Jennings of Portland, Mrs. Dan Graham of Eugene, Mrs. Ed Becker, Mrs. Alan McMullen, Miss Marge Olin. In the gardens, Hal Randall, Urlin S. Page, Wesley Stewart and Loren Hicks assisted.

The bride's table was set with a gray and white Italian linen cloth. Silver candelabras were arranged in the center with red roses at the base. Red velvet with bouvardia tied on it led to milk glass containers of bouvardia. The large tiered cake was topped with wedding bells. The punch table was in the party room. Hydrangeas floated on the pool in the gardens.

For traveling, the bride wore a smart red velvet dress with matching hat, black and white striped shoes, a white shortie coat and corsage of white orchids.

The couple will make their home at Gold Beach, Ore.

DESSERT luncheon and afternoon of cards for Salem Sojourners club will be next Thursday afternoon at Salem Woman's club house.

Hostesses for the day will be Mrs. Willard Christopher, chairman; Mrs. Keith Rohde, Mrs. P. J. Edkins, Mrs. Edith Cunningham, Mrs. Laura Fletcher.

Mrs. Allan R. Mann, Jr., was hostess Thursday evening to her bridge club, the group meeting for a no-host supper at the John H. Johnson home, the affair honoring some members who will be returning to college this fall.

St. Cecilia's guild, St. Paul's Episcopal church, is meeting Tuesday at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Lewis Scott, 1986 Childs avenue. Mrs. J. W. Poindexter is assisting hostess.

Honoring Miss Joanne Wenger, who recently announced her betrothal to Douglas R. Raines, Misses Jan Foulger and Patricia Healy entertained at a surprise linen shower and party on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Foulger.

The Hawaiian theme featured the party decor and refreshments. Misses Healy and Foulger showed pictures taken in Hawaii and did a Hawaiian dance during which they revealed the gifts for Miss Wenger.

Feting the bride-to-be were Miss Dorothy Swigart, Miss Roberta Sjoding, Miss Coralie Doughton, Miss Carolyn Seay, Miss Margie Little, Miss Othelene Lee, Miss Sharon Laverty, Miss Marcia Webb, Miss Donna Vogt, Miss ValJean Gosnell, Miss Jean Hartwell, Miss Patricia Halseth, Miss Marilyn Lorenz, Miss Sharon Helder, Miss Joyce Travis, Miss Joan Travis, Miss Amy Girod, Miss Marie Mosolf and the hostesses.

Arriving today from Davis, Calif., to be here a few days were Mr. and Mrs. Verne Scott and little daughter, Patricia Marie, to be guests at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Scott.

The visitors came north with his father, who went to Davis during the week accompanied by his youngest son, Richard Scott, the latter being en route to Texas to resume his work at Southern Methodist university.

Lt. and Mrs. Rodney Vandeneys and son, Peter, are expected to stop here next week for a visit with his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Gene Vandeneys and with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Steelhammer. Lt. Vandeneys is receiving his discharge from the navy this month and he and his family expect to locate at LaJolla, Calif.

Program meeting for Salem Zonta club is to be next Thursday noon, the luncheon to be at the Golden Pheasant.

There will be a speaker from the staff of the state penitentiary. Mrs. Harry W. Scott is arranging the program.

Visiting from Floral Park, Long Island, New York is Mrs. D. L. Stebbins, guest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robins, also at the home of her brother, J. E. Waterhouse.

At the Robins home this week-end also are their sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robins of Roseburg and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Robins of Seattle.

Mrs. Stebbins will be in Oregon two weeks, and the visitor and Mr. and Mrs. Robins plan a trip to the coast.

MRS. RICHARD A. RAWLINSON, JR.

BRIDE AT a ceremony in Calvary Presbyterian church in Portland last Saturday evening was Mrs. Richard A. Rawlinson, Jr. (Marian Lorraine Moore, above). She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton D. Moore of Portland and Mr. Rawlinson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Rawlinson of Salem.