

Vikings to Use Same Solid Lineup Against Benson Friday

The Sportmeter

IT COULD BE VERSE:

L infield has its Wildcat
But the wildest of them all
Is that ripping, roaring Rutchman
With the fast, elusive ball.
They say he's always injured
And likely not to play;
But with thread and tape they fix him
For a 60-minute stay.

EUGENE NOT STEAMED UP YET OVER BASEBALL

Hugh Luby thinks Eugene is as good a bet as Tacoma to get the franchise available if Wenatchee drops out as expected. The advantage of having a WIL rival as close as Eugene is plain. Luby, Salem senator manager, and Director George Paulus were in Eugene last week chatting in baseball language to persons who might be interested enough to put up the pesos. What they learned is that Eugene prospects will sit tight and not raise a fever until the franchise is offered them, ponder the attractiveness of the offer and then act.

Wenatchee has been given until Nov. 24 to announce whether it's in or a has-been and Tacoma has been boosted by the new league president, Robert Abel, an attorney from Tacoma. Luby points out that Tacoma has not been a baseball town and suffered in the purse when it was in the Class A circuit. Eugene has an ample ball park, the one used by its Class D team in the Far West league which folded its tent like the Arabs a couple of years ago.

HAROLD KOTTRE
... Would Face Dynamite

Training in Salem next spring, besides being convenient, is also a good thing because "we'll be spending our money in Salem where it belongs," Luby pointed out. It will afford exhibition games with Willamette, OSC, Oregon U., Linfield, OCE, or other colleges besides some Monday games with Pacific Coast league teams which happen to be up this direction.

KOTTRE WANTS TO FIGHT KAYO ARTIST

A light heavyweight boxer from Parma, Idaho, has fought 11 times as a professional and won every one by knockouts—and Silverton's Harold Kottre wants to match mitts with him. The Parma puncher, whom we have watched since he was a high school freshman knocking the argyles off the older boys, is a natural bruiser with a jaw like an anvil.

For his early showing since January, Harley Breshears has been chosen Ring magazine's prospect of the month in that division. It is reported that he won two bouts in one night at Pasco, Wash., bringing darkness to both opponents. We think it would be a fitting test for both Kottre and Breshears to match them, since both are touted as the best light heavies in the northwest.

Here's Breshears' record:
Jimmy Allen at Walla Walla, KO in 4; Dean Anderson, Idaho Falls, KO in 3; Wally Pittman, Spokane, KO in 2; Lester Boyd, Boise, KO in 2; Francis Porterfield, Emmett, KO in 3; Jimmy Williams, Pasco, KO in 4; Harold Wilson, KO in 2; Eddie Savage, Cambridge, KO in 2; Harold Bertram, Ely, Nev., KO; Dean Anderson, Parma, KO; Jose Aguilar, Kennewick, KO in 6.

THEY LIKE OGDahl IN THE RAIN

In practice yesterday the Willamette players were drilling along when it started to rain. Everyone was warm and cozy, or didn't care, except Coach Ted Ogdahl. It was only a moment until one of the hard-at-work linemen spoke to two alling players on the sidelines and they limped at a trot way into the dressing room and way back to bring Ogdahl a parka.

You Be the Quarterback

By Warren Gaer
Head Football Coach
Drake University
Missouri and Kansas State are 0-0 in the first quarter. Kansas State has the ball on the Tigers' three-yard line in the center of the field, fourth down and two.

Running plays inside the Missouri tackles have moved the ball 63 yards in 18 plays. The Wildcats anticipate an eight-man line against them.

At the Kansas State quarterback, rate these plays 1, 2, 3 and for this situation:

Fullback down the middle on a trap (defensive man allowed through, then blocked from side).

Field goal attempt. Fake down middle and pitch out around end.

Off tackle slant. (Answer on next Sports page)

Salem Sets Arc Drills For Tonite

By PAUL HARVEY, III

Salem high's undefeated and untied Vikings will probably use their regular line-up Friday night when they meet the strong Benson Mechanics at Lincoln Bowl in Portland to open the state A-1 playoffs. The game will start at 8.

The locals will taper off with an acrilight practice tonight at Waters field, straining kickoffs and kickoff returns, plus timing in signal drills. Yesterday they worked on defenses against Benson's style of offense.

Three Salem Backs Seniors

Lee Gustafson's Vikings, with nine straight victories behind them already, must win to stay in state title contention. Salem will be up against a Mechanic eleven that finished second in the state last year while Salem is making its first appearance in the playoffs.

Hank Juran's backfield has Herb Triplett at quarterback, Neal Scheidel and Ray Taylor at the halves, and speedy Ken Rawlings slated for duty at fullback. Terry Salisbury, 180 pound junior fullback, also will see action at fullback. All are seniors except Scheidel, who has replaced injured starter Mike Campbell, who suffered a broken arm earlier in the season.

Al Gray's light fut fighting line consists of Phil Burkland and Paul Beck at the ends, Ron Mather and Jerry Walling at the tackles, Vern Coates and Larry Newsom at the guards, and Tom Pickens at center. Burkland, Walling and Newsom are all juniors. Pickens ranks as one of the best centers in the state. He is part of the Salem placekicking team with Triplett holding and Ray (The Toe) Taylor booting. They have missed but one extra point all season. The line, once again faced with the problem that they will probably be outweighed, face a big task of stopping a speedy Benson backfield.

The line, although outweighed in almost every game thus far in the season, has looked very good as they helped Salem backfield rack up yard after yard and point after point.

The only comparative score during the regular season was in that both teams defeated Cleveland high of Portland. Ralph Harper's Techmen barely edged the Indians 13-9 with a last quarter surge while Salem was blanking them 21-0 to open the season.

The Vikings ran over Eugene 34-14 last week in their final game while Benson was taking a rest. In eight games the Mechanics scored 140 points while their opposition scored 35. Gustafson's Vikings had 276 to the opponent's 52, a very fine record.

Of the 140 points made by Benson, their ace Jimmy Williams had 74 to lead the Portland league and get elected to the loop all-star team.

Winner May Play Catholic
Salem appears to have a better passing attack with Herb Triplett doing the passing along with second string quarterback Herb Juran. Passing targets are ends Burkland and Beck and halfbacks Scheidel and Taylor. The Viks may not get much of a chance to use their weapon against Benson due to the mud but also can depend on a fine ground attack, in that they have several 100 yard dash men and good power.

The winner of the game will play the winner of the Hillsboro-Central Catholic game. The Central Catholic eleven is heavily favored.

Probable lineup:
Ends—Phil Burkland, Paul

First Takers Getting the first stock certificates for the Salem baseball club at 10 o'clock this morning were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schimberg, firm backers of the Senators. Stock is being issued and sold to pledgers at the First National bank. Left to right are Schimberg, Mrs. Schimberg, Mrs. Blanch Hull (in back), bank employee; George Paulus, vice president of the club; and Hugh Luby, club manager.

Salem Ball Club Stock Issuing Begins Today

Issuing of stock certificates to persons pledging to the Salem Senator baseball club began today at the First National bank in Salem, where a special booth has been set up.

Pledgers are asked to pick up their stock as soon as possible and pay for it at the bank. New subscriptions to stock will be taken, since the sale is not closed, it was pointed out.

To date, $21,000 has been collected from $26,500 in pledges. The goal is set at $50,000, from which a mortgage of $20,000 will be paid to the Portland Beavers and for funds to get the team rolling the coming season.

Hugh Luby, team manager, said that cards will be mailed to pledgers later reminding them.

Cascade Beats Willamina 14-0 for District Crown

Willamina — The Cascade Cougars from the Capitol league, won the District 3 A-2 football championship here last night with a 14-0 conquest of Willamina from the Yawama league.

Cascade now will play Estacada, District 4 2-A champion, at 8 p.m. Saturday at Stayton, Estacada also being Willamette Valley league title holder.

Cascade drove to touchdowns in the first and third quarters in the mud. Jerry Waldrop, 188-pound fullback, scored in the first period with a climactic 15-yard run after Cascade had powered from mid-field. Don Mickey, right half, plunged for the extra point.

It was Bill Brown, small quarterback, leaped across from the 1 in the fourth quarter and Don Wilt converted with a slant off left guard. Waldrop had set up the insurance touchdown with a 25-yard jaunt, being stopped on the 1.

Willamina generated two threats, one in the second quarter to the Cascade 15 and the other in the final period to the Cascade 25, where a penalty cancelled chances.

Dykes Selected Oriole Manager

Baltimore O.S. — Jimmy Dykes said today he believed the enthusiasm of Baltimore's fans "will help to make the Orioles a winning team."

The 37-year-old Dykes, named to succeed Marty Marion as manager of the American league's new franchise, expressed a desire to acquire First Baseman Ed Robinson from the Philadelphia Athletics but said he didn't know what immediate moves would be made until after a conference with General Manager Art Eilers next week.

Dykes, a colorful, cigar-smoking veteran of 36 years in baseball, showed nothing of the "defeatist attitude" which Eilers contended cost Marion his job.
