

TO CONDUCT CANDY MAKING SCHOOL HERE MONDAY

E. Remington Davenport, noted teacher of candy making, who will conduct a free school for Salem area housewives Monday, Nov. 23, at the Portland Gas & Coke Co. auditorium, 109 South Commercial. Three classes will be taught, from 1 to 3 p.m., from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and from 8 to 10 p.m.

Noted Candy Maker to Conduct Classes Here

There is no such thing as luck in candy making, according to E. Remington Davenport, who will conduct a school in this culinary art for Salem area housewives Monday, November 23. It will be held in the Portland Gas & Coke company auditorium, 109 South Commercial with the Capital Journal as co-sponsor.

"All that we call good luck comes to us because we obey certain laws," Davenport observes, adding:

"All that we call bad luck is because we break or ignore certain laws. If we do the same thing twice in the same manner under the same conditions we will get the same results."

Davenport became a candy maker by accident when he met an outstandingly good one in Vienna, whose younger sister Davenport subsequently married after the candy maker and the sister had come to America and Davenport had returned home from his stay abroad.

He went into the candy making business with his brother-in-law and took full charge of the factory two years later. By that time he had made friends in the candy game who were willing to show him all they knew.

Later he became a teacher of candy making and this has been his calling for some years. He lives in Portland and has conducted schools in cities all along the coast and inland through Montana, Idaho and Utah.

Health Hints To Lay Citizens

The volunteer lay citizen was informed of the manner in which assistance may be given the health department with prenatal classes, well baby conferences and crippled children's clinics during a tea held under the sponsorship of the Marion County Department of Health at the First Methodist church Thursday afternoon.

The lay members were also told how they can be of assistance in the distribution of health education material in the community.

SURGICAL SUPPORTS

Of all kinds. Trusses, Abdominal Supports, Elastic Hoosier Expert fitters—private fitting rooms.

'JUST SOME ROCKS'

Angola, La. (AP)—A convict at the prison here was stopped by a guard as he was caught taking a box from a cold storage locker.

"It just has some rocks in it," the convict said.

The guard opened the box and found three chickens, dressed and ready for the frying pan.

"Rocks?" the guard asked. "Yes, sir, Plymouth Rocks," the convict replied.

Fourth Graders at Bush Write Friends in Italy

Mrs. Lydia DeLoretto's fourth grade at Bush school is studying people of other countries. This week the children wrote to a school in St. Antimo (Naples) Italy.

The children sent the following letter which was translated into Italian by Mrs. De Loretto.

Parrish Youths Will Buy Turks for Needy

The Boys League and Girls League at Parrish Junior High School will buy turkeys for needy families for Thanksgiving from profits of a scratch pad sale and special noon day movie.

Bruce Stewart is adviser of the Boys League and Mrs. Paul Rowell and Miss Toni Kuzmanich are Girls League advisers. They raised $39.92 for the project.

Lebanon Nears Goal of United Fund

Lebanon—Cash and pledges amounting to nearly 70 percent of the $22,656 goal in this year's United Fund campaign have thus far been received, Drive Chairman A. B. Cash announced Thursday.

A meeting will be held Friday evening to determine the exact amount of contributions. Plans will also be made to conclude the campaign by Thanksgiving.

Cash again urged persons who have not yet contributed to take or mail their contributions to Howard Berger at the Bank of Lebanon, or to United Fund at chamber of commerce offices.

It's fun to keep fit!

We would like to know the different subjects that you are studying and which one you like best. Here in the United States, children go to school five days a week. How many days do you go to school? At school we also play many games such as soccer, football, basketball, and many others. We would be very happy to know some of the games you play. Please write soon because we would like to write you again and send a picture of our class.
