Liberty Fur Farmers Win Coveted Mink Show Prize

Liberty—The Fur Farmers in the Liberty area made a very good showing with prime mink at the Oregon State Fur Breeders mink show on Saturday at McMinnville.

Mink pelting has gotten under way this past week in the Liberty area. Graders from the Eastern Auction houses in New York have been helping the fur ranchers grade their mink, getting them ready for the market.

C. W. Stacey of the Stacey Fur Farm took a sweepstake and first place with a Stewart female, a silver blue. 2nd, a Stewart female. In the Breath of Spring and Stewart class, 2nd, pastel male; 2nd, pastel female; 2nd, sapphire male; 3rd, sapphire female; 4th, sapphire female; 5th, sapphire male; 6th, pastel female; 8th, dark female, and a 9th place with a pastel male.

Harvey Ronne of the Ronne Fur Farm, took a first place with a sapphire male; 2nd, with a sapphire male. In the Stewart class, a 2nd, 3rd, sapphire female; 3rd, 7th, 8th, sapphire male; Standard dark, 3rd, female; 4th male; Topaze female; 3rd, 5th, and 7th, male; 8th, Stewart pastel male; 2nd, female, 4th and 9th.

The judges of the show were Michael Dederer, president of the Seattle Fur Exchange, Rus Eckerly, Hudson's Bay Co., New York, and Otto Buel, New York Auction House, in New York.

C. W. Stacey has been asked to write for the Fur Breeders Almanac. He will edit it for one year. He will write various articles each month, stressing the important things the fur ranchers should be doing for those months. At the end of the year it will be compiled in one little booklet, to be used in the National Magazine for Fur Breeders.
